Mr. CHEESEMAN. In answer to that, I wish to state that I furnished a list at the beginning of the Session, and the list has not yet reached the printers room. The list contained the names of the people to whom I wished the Legislative Journal sent.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman that the list does not go to the printer's room, but to the pasters and folders.

Mr. CHEESEMAN. My list was given to the Resident Clerk at the beginning of the term, and has not yet reached the folder's room.

The SPEAKER. The attention of the Clerk is called to the matter.

Mr. McALEER. I would suggest to the Speaker that the names of the members who have not sent in their lists be announced from the desk in order that the members of the House may know just who are delinquent in this matter.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is not prepared to furnish this information at this time.

CORRECTION OF JOURNAL.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, on two bills that were passed by this House on which I voted in the affirmative I am not recorded as voting at all in the Legislative Journal. These bills are found on pages 210 and 211 of the Journal. I have voted on every bill that has been presented here, and I would like to have it corrected in order that it will show that I have not neglected my duty.

The SPEAKER. The correction will be made.

GRANTING USE OF THE HALL OF THE HOUSE TO WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE.

Mr. RONEY asked and received unanimous consent to offer a resolution, which was twice read and agreed to, as follows:

Be it Resolved, by the House of Representatives that the use of the Hall of the House of Representatives be extended to the Ways and Means Committee for the purpose of holding an open and public hearing on Tuesday, February 18th, at eight o'clock P. M. for the discussion of the reports of the Joint Tax Commission of the House of Representatives and Senate, and that Francis Shunk Brown, Counsel for said Joint-Commission be requested to appear and discuss said report and suggested legislation connected therewith, and that all members of the Senate and members of the House of Representatives be invited to attend this public hearing.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to, and at (12:35 o'clock P. M.) the House adjourned until tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1913 — 120th of the General Assembly

VOL. 2. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1913. No. 16.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THURSDAY, February 13th, 1913.

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. J. E. Wright, offered the following prayer.

O God, we come to Thee this morning refreshed by the night of sleep; encouraged by the manifest fidelity and earnestness which appears in this Assembly; to give ourselves to Thee anew for this day's work.

We rejoice to believe that the work which we are doing is God's work, for whatever promotes public welfare and ministers to the needs of the people is surely of God. Believing, therefore, that Thou art co-operating with us, we ask that we may be enlightened and quickened and guided in the work which we are doing.

May we not yield to our transient emotions and impulses; may we not be governed by prejudice or passion or sinister motives of any kind. May we be wise, restrained, temperate and thoughtful, so that all that we are doing may approve itself to Thee and minister to the welfare of the people.

We commend unto Thee Thy servant, the presiding officer of this Assembly, who is so earnestly trying to order the conditions for effective work. We pray for all on whom in any way the welfare of this Assembly depends; and the Assembly in all its deliberations and in all its decisions. Now, if it be Thy pleasure that we should return to our homes, we pray that Thou wouldst keep us by the way and bless those who are here; and that Thou shouldst bring us back in safety and in strength at the appointed time. All this we ask for the Saviour's sake. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Moses, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

RESOLUTION.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up Resolution No. 15.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the resolution as folows:

DIRECTING THE COMMISSION APPOINTED TO SELECT A SITE AND BUILD A HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE UNDER HOMEOPATHIC MANAGEMENT TO RENDERING AN ACCOUNTING AND REQUESTING HIS EXCELLENCY, THE GOVERNOR, TO FURNISH A COPY OF THE REPORT OF THE EXAMINATION MADE BY THE STATE EXPERT.

Whereas, The General Assembly session of one thousand nine hundred and one, by an act approved July eighteenth, one thousand nine hundred and one (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-seven), created a commission to select a site and erect a State Hospital for the Insane under Homeopathic management, to be called the Homeopathic State Hospital for the Insane; and

Whereas, There has heretofore been appropriated for this purpose the total sum of one million, eight hundred and eighty-one thousand, seven hundred and fifty dollars, and

Whereas, The General Assembly in one thousand nine hundred and eleven, by act approved May tenth, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and five), dissolved the original commission and directed the appointment of a new one to complete the work; and

Whereas, Considerable scandal attached to the institution, which is located at Rittersville, Lehigh County, Pennsylvania, by reason of the alleged fraudulent juggling of contracts to such an extent that the name of "Rittersville Hospital" has become a synonym for corruption in State contracts; and

Whereas, Lindley Johnson, an expert employed by the State to make an examination of the work, made a report thereon to the Governor in the Spring of one thousand nine hundred and eleven, advising a legislative investigation, "in view of the condition found when investigating the work done;" and

Whereas, If fraud has been committed, it is necessary that action thereon be immediately taken to come within the statute; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the original commission and its successor, be and it is hereby required to furnish forthwith to this House, full, complete and detailed information as follows:

(a) Detailed and itemized account of all its receipts and expenditures, with the date of payments, the names of persons, firms or corporations to whom the same were made and the purpose thereof.

(b) A complete set of the plans and specifications originally adopted with a detailed statement of the nature, extent and character of any alterations made therein.

(c) A statement of contracts let thereunder (and copies of the schedule of unit prices), giving dates, amounts, parties with whom made and all additions made thereto, commissions and deductions therefrom and substitutions thereunder, with the dates, nature and reason for such additions, omissions, deductions or substitutions and the cost thereof and allowances therefor.

(d) The original or copies of all contracts and orders under authority of which the changes, alterations, omissions, deductions, substitutions, were made, and be it further

Resolved, That his Excellency, the Governor, be requested to transmit to this House the original or a complete copy of the report made by Lindley Johnson, C. E., as above recited, with any exhibits that may be thereto attached.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I move the adoption of the resolution.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Miller.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I want to say a word before the motion is put. It is that I think that this resolution needs some examination by one of the Committees. It is hardly fair to ask that the new men, the present Board of Trustees, who have not been connected with the work of the hospital, or who have not been connected with it at the time of this alleged scandal—it is hardly fair for them to be asked to come here and give up their time and appear before a commission and go through a lengthy proceeding of this kind before a commission. They are perfectly willing to do so and to do their duty. They are public-spirited men and not for a moment would any one of them hesitate to comply with the demands of this House. I repeat, it is hardly fair, when a man is willing to take up the work and accomplish what these men have done in the past two years to add an additional hardship. Lindley Johnson made a report in the spring of 1911, and by the exercise of that report the Committee could not act upon this resolution and decide whether it is wise and expedient and necessary at this time that a new Board of Trustees be impressed into the scope of this resolution. I would ask—if I am in order—I would amend that motion to read that the resolution be referred to the Judiciary General Committee.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment to the motion?

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House(it is quite evident that the gentleman from Lehigh notwithstanding the fact that this resolution has been on the desks of the members for a week, has not perused its contents carefully. The resolution calls for a report to be made of the doings of the original commission, in this House, in 1911 or 1910, when all this scandal was a matter of public notice and Governor Stuart directed an investigation and ordered such investigation and such report to be made public and the same was not delivered to the public. It is necessary, in order that this report of this real state expert be given to the House to discover its contents that this resolution be adopted. Therefore, I urge that this amendment to the motion be defeated.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman permit me to interrogate him?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLELOCH. Yes, sir.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, can't he give the House any information as to the probable cost to the State of this investigation involved by this resolution?

Mr. BLELOCH. This resolution calls for a report to be made by the Commission of the doings of that Commission while they were organized, and that report to be made to this House. It entails no cost outside of stenographic work for the Committee's record.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I can see no objection to this resolution's being turned over to the Judiciary General Committee, where it can have a careful investigation by the committee in committee who will see whether the resolution is one that they would recommend back to the House after making some inquiries into the matter. I don't consider that the House ought to feel that the motion of the gentleman to refer this matter to the Judiciary General Committee is on intended to smother the bill. I have the utmost confidence in the Committee on Judiciary General. It is a very large resolution and I am frank to say that I don't fully understand what its effects are or what its effects may be in the State or what the necessities are for it. I know that there was an investigation made about 1911, and since that time I have heard nothing whatever in public as to who authorized or stood for any necessity for a further inquiry. I am just as anxious as the gentleman from Philadelphia to get the fullest information. I realize that we are here on the floor of this House to digest a proposition of this character, and I feel like the gentleman from Beaver, who spoke yesterday on matters of this kind; something is said, and the House, without full knowledge on the subject, sends it out to the public, calls on our Departments for an enormous expense and it is drawn without a great deal of consideration. I think the gentleman from Philadelphia ought to allow this resolution to go to the Judiciary General Committee, and then, when it comes back, with whatever suggestions they would make, I would certainly stand by the report of the Judiciary General Committee.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLELOCH. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, whether or not such a report as is contemplated by this resolution has been asked for by himself or anybody else that he knows?

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, as I said a few minutes ago—I do not know where the gentleman from Allegheny was at the time—but to be a little bit more explicit, in 1910 an investigation was made of this institution and the doings of that original commission. I want to draw a line right here between the original commission and the commission appointed by the Act of 1911. When that investigation was made by one of the greatest experts in the State of Pennsylvania, Lindley Johnson, of Philadelphia, his report was made to Governor Stuart. M. Hampton Todd, the Attorney General at that time, gave an opinion to the Governor, that no portion of that report could be made public without legislative authority, and warrant. Therefore, I am of the opinion, and I suggest it to you Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, that before any committee to whom this resolution is referred could proceed it would have to have the authority of this House to get from the Governor that report.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ALLEN. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia know whether or not the legal authorities of this State reported that there was anything of a criminal character that might be prosecuted under the laws of this Commonwealth, as contained in the official report which was made?

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Allegheny I would only say this: That as two years have elapsed since the last session of the Legislature, and as most of our penal statutes have a two years statute of limitation, many criminal acts that might have been committed by the old commission are barred, and the only hope that there is, if there has been any harm done by this commission, would be the recovery in the civil court of what might be due the State.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia further.

The SPEAKER. Proceed.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether the official record or report which was filed at the time this commission made its report shows that such civil action still remains open for the State to make any recovery in these cases, if such recovery is allowed by law?

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I might be a little bit obtuse, but I think I have answered that question of the gentleman from Allegheny three times. The opinion of

M. Hampton Todd, Attorney General under Governor Stuart, said that no person could require the commission appointed to make any report.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I take it that no department of this great Commonwealth will be closed to any Committee from this Legislature which may ask for information from that department. In passing this resolution the House assumes to say that there is something criminally or civilly wrong whereby the rights of the Commonwealth may be set aside and held for naught unless this action be taken. I quite agree with the gentleman from Delaware that the proper attitude for the House at this time would be the reference of the whole matter to a committee for an investigation such at it sees fit to make, and have a report from that committee to this House as to what further action, if any, is necessary; and I trust that the amendment as offered by the gentleman from Lehigh will be the sentiment of the House on the matter.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLELOCH. Yes, sir. Mr. Speaker.

Mr NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know from the gentleman if he has made a personal examiantion of this institution recently, and, if so, how he finds the conditions of this institution?

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, in order to answer that I presume I will be given permission to speak a little bit on the original question.

Of course, as a member of the sub-committee of the Committee on Appropriations I was to have gone to Rittersville on Friday a week ago. Owing to sickness in my family, of which I told the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations at the time, I was unable to accompany the sub-committee on their trip, but in view of the conditions that surround the name of Rittersville, I made a trip there on the Sunday following. The institution under its present management is now in the hands of a medical board provided by the Act of Assembly inaugurating this place. To my mind what has been accomplished by that medical board in the few months that it has had it in hand, had it under the jurisdiction, is almost miraculous But notwithstanding that, there is undoubtedly sufficient to warrant our inquiring into the condition of the original commission. Practically one-half of this institution in value has been built by the Commission appointed by the Act of 1911. If, under an appropriations of $478,000, half of that institution has been built, how is it that it took $1,300,000 to build the first half. As a matter of common knowledge, I take it, there has been a course of juggling of contracts at this institution which has been the cause of costing the State hundreds of thousands of dollars.

For illustration: Contract No. 1 calls for the building of an administration building, to cost 284.000. The commission paid for that building under this contract $285,000.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia is entitled to conclude his remarks, and then he may be further interrogated.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, under this contract the commission paid $285.000, notwithstanding they permitted the contractor to omit from putting into the building elevators, call bell systems, some of the machinery, and the floors not planed.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, in my question I asked the gentleman from Philadelphia, if he would tell this House the present condition of this institution, without going into details as to the original contract.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman desired that I should tell him and this House what I discovered. In order to lead up to his inquiry I am obliged to go into some of the past history of this institution.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia has the floor. Proceed.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, nothwithstanding the fact that this commission authorized the contractor to eliminate from his work items which were worth thousands of dollars they paid him under items of extra work the sum I have named to offset the allowances.

Contract No. 2, calls for the building of a kitchen, storage and power houses and foundations of the remaining buildings. They have permitted the contractor to omit from that work all brick work and granite work above grade, on four ward buildings and two corridors, plastering of all buildings, and two boilers in the boiler house, rain drains, plumbing fixtures, enameling brick walls, electrical fixtures, concrete floors, marble work and rails and stairways.

I ask you, Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, what was meant by the contract for which this contractor received several hundred thousand dollars? That is the condition that existed all through the distribution of these contracts. Is it fair to the other bidders that came there and spent time and money in getting up estimates and going over the specifications and plans in order that they might have an opportunity to get a contract of that sort and be permitted to have advantage taken of them, to have a bigger contractor come along and by reason of omissions and changes in specifications have an unfair advantage over the honest bidders? Coming down to the point of direct answer to the gentleman from Jefferson, I would say, gentlemen, that you must remember that this is a finished plant to-day so far as—

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia is out of order in that his remarks are not responsive to the interrogation made.

The SPEAKER. That is a pretty hard question for the Chair to rule upon as the gentleman is probably allowed to make the explanation in his own way.

Mr. ALLEN. The question, as I understand it, was the condition of the hospital to-day; and I ask for a ruling of the Chair upon my question.

The SPEAKER. The Chair must rule that the gentleman's answer is going somewhat beyond the question. The Chair would suggest to the gentleman that he try to confine himself and be responsive to the interrogatories of the gentleman from Jefferson.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I was just about to reply to the gentleman from Allegheny, that his point of order is not well taken, that it is too late because I had already said that I was about to answer the direct question of the gentleman from Jefferson.

Mr. ALLEN. "About," don't mean anything.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, in response directly to the question of the gentleman from Jefferson, I would say that the operation being a finished contract, there are a number of things to take into consideration, and this much is apparent: In the administration building, the steam radiators there, of which there are numbers, have the name of a firm, A. A. Griffith, of New York, stamped or moulded in the castings, open to the public indicating that these radiators were made by that firm, notwithstanding the fact that that firm has been out of existence some eighteen years. That appears to me to show, gentlemen, that there is only one construction to be placed thereon, and that is that that is second hand junk. In other parts of the buildings there are conditions existing which are a disgrace to the State of Pennsylvania, when you are considering a modern institution. We will be called upon during this session to make an appropriation to remedy these things. There is in the institution what is called a mangle in the laundry which has been out of date for twenty years, that is absolutely worthless for anything more than to be sold as old iron. All through the building the marble surbases are sprung three or four inches from the wall in some places, showing that the contractor has evidently evaded or not complied with the contract or specification in having them braced into the wall. The wood-word,—I have no doubt the specifications will show that they call for well seasoned lumber, and not withstanding that fact, the double doors have sprung may be one-half inch, and in order to remedy that they have nailed on the edge of the door a piece of molding three-eights of an inch thick, and that still leaves a space of three-eighths or half an inch in addition. You must remember, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, that I did not go there for the purpose of tearing down the building. I did not go there with that idea, but when I went to the institution and investigated, I saw that there was something wrong in putting down the tunnel work under the ground where the steam pipes are supposed to be covered with asbestos. It appears that these pipes are covered with nothing more than what might be compared to corrugated paper around a whiskey bottle. Of course, the covering is made out of asbestos, but the asbestos is not a non-conductor of heat unless backed up by cement. I want to tell you, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, that that provision there is not only costing that institution one hundred dollars a day for additional fuel, but will continue to cost the institution thousands and thousands of dollars, because the tunnel in which the pipes are run should be cold, but being supplied with this great waste of heat it is so hot that it is unbearable and shows that the specifications have not been complied with. Now, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I think that I have answered the gentleman from Jefferson.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. I think now that the gentleman himself will vote to have this resolution referred to the Judiciary General Committee because, as he has told the House, this resolution as it now stands simply calls for a statement of facts that are now contained in one of the Departments. He himself has told us that there are many things at Rittersville that this House ought to know about. If, upon investigation, this Committee finds that it is necessary to recommend that a commssion be appointed to go and investigate the building, we will then be in better shape to act upon the resolution than we are at the present time. If they find that it is not necessary to appoint such commission they can make that recommendation to the House. I think it would be the right thing to do to send this resolution to the Judiciary General Committee.

Mr. NORTH. The Committee that was sent to Rittersville was sent there for the purpose of making an investigation as to the present conditions. The Committee reported favorably. Mr. Bleloch told me personally that the conditions they found there were satisfactory. That is what they were sent there for. He also told other members of the House that conditions were very satisfactory. Mr. Bleloch stated that seventy-five thousand dollars of an appropriation possibly would not be too much. Other members of the committee, however, after making a very fair and careful examination decided that seventy thousand dollars was enough. The majority of the Committee agreed to that report and the bill was prepared accordingly.

Mr. O'NEILL. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The SPEAKER. The previous question is moved by the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The motion was second by Messrs. Cox, Hibshman, Moses, Keeport, Walter A. Blair, Moulthrop, John H. Young, George C. Irwin, Spillinger, George A. Young, Bass, Fahey, Frey, Ulerich, Wildman, Neel, North, Charles A. Shaffer, Donahoe, E. G. M. Kuhns, and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question.

On the question,

Shall the main question be put?

It was agreed to.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion of the gentleman from Lehigh.

The SPEAKER declared, the yeas seem to have it.

Whereupon,

A division was called for, ninety-nine voting in the affirmative and thirty-one in the negative.

And the question was determined in the affirmative, and the motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BLELOCH. The gentleman from Jefferson, a few moments ago, said that I went out to that institution and reported favorably. When I started to talk on this motion, I told you that I had no criticism to make of the medical board that is now in control of the institution. I stated that what they had accomplished in a few months was miraculous. The bill, the appropriation bill, about which the gentleman from Jefferson spoke, is a bill to provide for the keeping of the inmates, and it would have been a disgrace for any civilized State to refuse it. This resolution was not introduced for the purpose of criticising the present management.

RESOLUTION TO AMEND RULES.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up Resolution No. 19, and move its adoption.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The resolution was then read by the Clerk as follows:

Resolved, That Rule thirty-three be amended by inserting after the word "bill" in line one, the words "and every resolution providing for an amendment to the Constitution;" by striking out in line two the words "on the bill," and insert the word "thereon," and insert on line three after the word "law" the words "and no such resolution shall be adopted."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the adoption of the resolution?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, my purpose in introducing this resolution was to amend our rolls so as to prevent the use or passage of an unfair resolution for the amending of our Constitution. It is customary to amend our Constitution by a joint resolution, which takes the course of a bill, appears on the calendar, and is read on three seperate days. There is nothing in our Constitution, however, which prevents the use of a concurrent resolution for an amendment to the Constitution. It is merely printed in loose form, and placed on our desks, and I think that it is plain to the members of the House that the looseness of this method requires some attention on our part. A concurrent resolution can be passed without proper consideration, and without the proper opportunity to amend it. In some cases, a good resolution may be defeated to readily. This resolution is offered in order that we may proceed under the proper method. I think an amendment to our Constitution requires at least the same care and attention as an ordinary piece of legislation, and I, therefore, move the adoption of this resolution.

Mr. ALLEN. Inasmuch as the resolution contemplates a change of the Rules of the House, and as we have a Committee on Rules, appointed by the House, I move you that Resolution No. 19 be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House, there are now before the House two concurrent resolutions that I recall for the amendment of the Constitution. I think the sooner we get this amendment to our Rules enacted, the more likely we are to prevent a concurrent resolution being passed in the manner I have indicated. I think, therefore, if the House is convinced of the advisability of adopting this amendment to the Rules, that there is no necessity whatever of referring it to the Committee on Rules.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

STANDING COMMITTEES SHALL GIVE NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE OF HEARINGS.

Mr. BLELOCH offered the following resolution, which was twice read and laid over under the rules.

Resolved, That the standing committees shall notify the sponsor, or introducer, of matters referred to them of the time and place the same will be considered by the respective committees taking action thereon.

TO BROADEN SCOPE OF THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG COMMISSION.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 14.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The resolution was then read by the Clerk as follows:

Whereas, Certain acts and resolutions passed by the several General Assemblies and approved by their Excellencies Governors Stuart and Tener, creating a commission and clothing it with administrative powers, said commission being known as The Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission.

Whereas, Limitations have been placed upon the former soldiers of the Civil War who should be invited as guests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania during July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th, by including only those who participated in the Battle of Gettysburg and who enlisted and served therein prior to July 4th, 1863.

Whereas, The National Government will provide sanitary tenting quarters and rations for the old soldiers of the Civil War who will be present during the aforesaid period.

Whereas, The exercises upon July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th, upon the Battlefield of Gettysburg will probably be the most impressive ceremony the world has ever known; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House concur) That the Commission of the Fiftieth Anniversay of the Battle of Gettysburg be respectfully and earnestly requested to broaden the scope of the provisions made for the attendance as guests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania upon that historical occasion so as to include all Union soldiers, sailors and marines of the Civil War now living in Pennsylvania, also such men who served in Pennsylvania commands known as Emergency Troops, also all soldiers who served in the Confederate Army now living in Pennsylvania as citizens of this Commonwealth. A copy of this resolution, when approved, to be forwarded to the President of the Commission for consideration and action.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the adoption of the Resolution?

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to suggest an amendment to this resolution. My objection to this is that there are just as good men belonging to the State of Pennsylvania that served in the Navy that do not reside at the present time in the State of Pennsylvania. This resolution does not take into consideration any one unless that man resides now in Pennsylvania. There is many a man who served in the Navy who has grown old and whose children have moved away, either to California, or somewhere else, and, if I am not out of order, I would suggest an amendment that would include all the sailors and soldiers of Pennsylvania, whether they reside in Pennsylvania or not.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was then read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend by inserting after the word, "marine" in line fifteen, second page, the words " who are honorably discharged."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, if this resolution is adopted as amended, it is going to cut out of this bill that which is the most pleasing part of it. I submit to this House that the Conferderate soldiers are not truly discharged soldiers in the meaning of that term.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, it is not my intention, by any means, in anything I shall say, to prevent the survivors of the Southern Armies from attending this anniversary. It is my hearty wish that they should do so, and I hope there will be nothing done to preclude their attendance in any way. I think they were honorably discharged by the Federal service.

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will look up the law, he will find out the Federal Government does not recognize such a thing.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, as I read the amendment which has been offered, the resolution would read some thing like this, by inserting the amendment after the word "marines," on line 15 and adding the words "who were honorably discharged," of the Civil War, now living in Pennsylvania, also such men who served in Pennsylvania commands known as 'emergency troops,' also all soldiers who served in the Confederate Army, now living in Pennsylvania as citizens of this Commonwealth." It does not cut out the Confederate soldier; that comes in the "also" class.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, it has just been suggested to me by a gentleman who has spent some time in investigating the records of the old soldiers residing in the State of Pennsylvania, that the records are so incomplete that there are a great many of the Union soldiers who served in regiments and were lost from their commands and who were, by the records of that command, reported as "deserters" or "missing," who subsequently served in other commands and completed the length of service for which they were enlisted. It would be almost impossible to establish, in many instances, where the line can be drawn between those honorably discharged and those who have not a discharge paper. In view of that fact, it strikes me that possibly we are going to impose a task upon this commission that they will not be able to cope with. It has been the practice of the Federal Congress to restore an honorable discharge to all soldiers who served in the Civil War, upon request, and there are very few who have made applications and they have not been given an honorable discharge. That is probably due to the fact that the records of the War Department are very imperfect in that particular. I fear that the adoption of this amendment will impose a great hardship and do something that we don't care, by this resolution, to do. I believe that this commission can use a sufficient degree of judgment, in acting upon the recommendation we are making, so that the State will, in no way, be imposed upon. I think it would not be advisable to annex this amendment to the resolution.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, with this resolution, if adopted, you are going to invite men to this annivarsary, that cost this country millions of souls, and you are going to leave out some of those men who were in the Navy. In Pennsylvania you had no Navy. When I joined the Navy in 1861, I did it as a United States citizen from the State of Pennsylvania. You will find this on record at Washington, in regard to the State of Pennsylvania, that there is no record of my serving forty-eight months in the United Startes Navy. If I can go over the boundary lines, I want to go to Gettysburg. There is, to my own knowledge, some fifty or sixty men in Pennsylvania coming from different parts of this State, and I doubt very much whether they knew what that word meant in 1861. I have reference to the word "marine." We had no such thing as a marine in Pennsylvania in 1861. The meaning of the word "marine" today is well understood. A marine at that time was a police officer on board of a ship; he never went off his deck. That was a marine in 1861, and he did police duty and did that alone and nothing else. Our conception of a marine is not that today. If we are going to do that, I will make a motion that we refer this to the Military Committee.

(The motion was not seconded.)

Mr. ELY. Mr. Speaker, I wish to support the contention of the gentleman who followed Mr. Humes (Mr. Wiltbank); inasmuch as this amendment, if it prevails, would do a great injustice to some men—to many soldiers who served during the Civil War. I had the honor of presenting a bill to this House to provide for the transportation of the veterans of the Civil War to this anniversary. In the preparation of that bill, I was in consultation many times with Adjutant-General Stewart of this State, and he tells me there are many men who have not received an honorable discharge from some irregularity of the Department. I think that in justice to many men who would like to come to this anniversary, that the argument followed by the gentleman should be considered.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. SPEAKER, I find that there is no reason, whatever, why every soldier who served from 1861 to '65, has not an honorable discharge. They all have time to make application for that discharge if they do not have it, and there are in every way facilities to get this discharge.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, this is to be a great patriotic demonstration, and it is my opinion that we should be very careful and not discriminate too closely as to who shall attend. Don't go back a half century and require these late partriots to bring their credentials. Let them be as broad as possible so there will be no feeling engendered between political parties or otherwise. Therefore, I hope this amendment will fall and this great demonstration will be carried out in a truly patriotic spirit.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment:

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

After the words "Civil War" in line 25, strike out the words "now living in," and insert in lieu thereof the words "who enlisted from."

Mr. ALLEN. In order to make myself clear in the matter of this amendment, it covers every point raised including the one by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wiltbank. Not only does it cover that point, but, as has been suggested the State of Pennsylvania, since the day when those who served from this State and added to the historical glory of the State by giving their service in the late Civil War, the amendment which I have offered covers all those points and makes the matter complete. And I offer it for this reason, that the resolution then will read as follows: The words "who enlisted from" being added in this amendment, includes all Union soldiers, sailors and marines in the Civil War who enlisted from Pennsylvania, making no difference whether they lived just across the line in the great empire state of New York, or across the line in Ohio, or west or east or as far west as the Pacific Coast. If their names are added to that roster, of those who went to the front and defended the Stars and Stripes in time of stress, this puts it in proper form, sending an invitation to all to attend this anniversary, whether he be your next door neighbor or a distantly located brother.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution as amended?

It was unanimously agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 389, as follows:

An Act to amend an act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An act relating to private sales of real estate ordered decreed or approved by the orphans' courts and providing a method of giving notice of such sales and validating such private sales of real estate heretofore made under the authority of the orphans' courts for the payment of debts"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the first section of an act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An act relating to private sales of real estate ordered decreed or approved by the orphans' courts and providing a method of giving notice of such sales and validating such private sales of real estate heretofore made under the authority of the orphans' court for the payment of debts" which reads as follows

"Section 1 Be it enacted by the authority of the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That before authorizing decreeing or approving such private sale public notice thereof shall be given by advertisement printed in at least one newspaper and in the legal periodical if any designated by the rules of court of the proper county for the publication of legal notices published in the county where such real estate is located for at least twenty days prior to the date fixed by such order for authorizing decreeing or approving such sale and also by written or printed notices one of which shall be posted at a conspicuous place on the real estate proposed to be sold and at least three of such notices shall be posted at three of the most public places in the vicinity of such real estate" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That before authorizing decreeing or approving a private sale of real estate for the payment of the debts of the decedent public notice thereof shall be given by advertisement printed in at least one newspaper and in the legal periodical if any designated by the rules of court of the proper county for the publication of legal notices published in the county where such real estate is located for at least twenty days prior to the date fixed by such order for authorizing decreeing or approving such sale and also by written or printed notices one of which be posted at a conspicuous place on the real estate proposed to be sold at least three of such notices shall be posted at three of the most public places in the vicinity of such real estate.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 369, as follows:

An Act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the anthracite mines of this Commonwealth and to limit the hours of labor of fire bosses and persons whose duties either in whole or in part are those of a fire boss employed at in or about the same and fixing a penalty for the violation of any of the provisions of this act

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That on and after the passage of this act no person engaged or employed in the capacity of fire boss at in or about any of the anthracite coal mines of this Commonwealth shall be engaged for a longer period than eight hours out of each day of twenty-four hours

Section 2 No person engaged or employed at in or about any of the anthracite mines of this Commonwealth whose duties either in whole or in part are those of a fire boss shall be engaged for a longer period than eight hours out of each day of twenty-four hours

Section 3 Any person persons firm partnership corporation or their agents managers or superintendents violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than fifty dollars and not more than two hundred dollars

Section 4 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 421, as follows:

An Act to amend the thirteenth section of an act approved the twenty-ninth day of March, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and five, and making the sum of four dollars taxed as costs for every verdict taken in any civil action payable to the prothonotary instead of to the sheriff.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That part of section thirteen of an act entitled "Directing the mode of selecting and returning jurors," approved the twenty-ninth day of March, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and five, which reads as follows:

"Section 13. That whenever any verdict in a civil action or cause shall be taken the plaintiff or defendant for whom the same shall be given shall forthwith pay to the sheriff the sum of four dollars which shall be taxed with the costs and afterwards repaid by the party against whom such verdict shall be given if the same be a verdict wherein costs be recoverable for the use of the party so advancing that sum and the money so to be collected shall be paid into the hands of the county treasurer to be appropriated towards a fund for defraying the expenses of the juries who shall attend on the said courts respectively," shall be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 13. That whenever any verdict in a civil action or cause shall be taken the plaintiff or defendant for whom the same shall be given shall forthwith pay to the prothonotary the sum of four dollars which shall be taxed with the costs and afterwards repaid by the party against whom such verdict shall be given if the same be a verdict wherein costs be recoverable for the use of the party so advancing that sum and the money so to be collected shall be paid into the hands of the county treasurer to be appropriated towards a fund for defraying the expenses of the juries who shall attend on the said courts respectively.

All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 336, as follows:

An Act making it unlawful to use any type of mining machine in the removal of ribs, stumps or pillars in any bituminous coal mine in the State of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That on and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to use or cause to be used any type of mining machine for the purpose of extracting or mining in any rib, stump or pillar in any bituminous coal mine in the State of Pennsylvania.

Section 2. Every person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this act shall be liable to a penalty of not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offense together with the costs of prosecution to be recovered before any magistrate or justice of the peace as fines and penalties are by law recoverable and in default of payment of said fine and costs the person, firm or the agent or executive officer of the corporation so offending shall be committed to the county jail of the proper county for one day for each dollar for the fine imposed.

Section 3. That in the event of any violations of the provisions of this act that the mine foreman, superintendent or other executive officer in charge of said mine at the time of the alleged violation shall be held responsible for said violation and be subjected to the fine and imprisonment imposed.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 454, as follows:

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 260, entitled:

An Act making valid the bonds or other obligations issued prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and thirteen by counties cities boroughs townships school districts and other municipalities or incorporated districts not in excess of two per centum of the assessed valuation of taxable property in the respective county city borough township school district or incorporated district in all cases where there has been a failure to file in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the proper county the statement required by the act entitled "An act to amend section two of an act entitled 'An act to regulate the manner of increasing the indebtedness of municipalities to provide for the redemption of the same and to impose penalties for the illegal increase thereof' approved the twentieth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four abolishing the restriction that the tax levy to pay municipal indebtedness shall be equal to eight per centum of the amount of such increased debt and providing for the method of assessing and levying a tax for the payment of principal and interest when the bonds become due and the form of statement to be filed" approved the thirteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven and designating the time when said statement must be filed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Erie, Mr. Mitchell.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, possibly it will be advisable for me to make a little explanation bearing on this bill. It relates solely to conditions in the City of Erie. The subject of abolition of grade crossings has been a question with us, and the question of disposal of garbage in Erie has been a stench in the nostrils of that city. The present administration has been active on these measures and the city council passed an ordinance authorizing a bond issue of five thousand dollars for the purpose of erecting an incinerating plant. Councils passed the bond issue and the Mayor signed the bonds and the ordinance was put through, but through an inadvertence the statement required to be filed under the act of 1897 in the office of the Clerk of the Court was not filed. Thirty seven thousand dollars worth of these bonds have been negotiated and are now in the hands of innocent purchasers. This is merely a validating act to protect the holders of these bonds. Everything has been done to make that bond issue valid; there is no contest only on the ground that the statement was not filed in time in the office of the Clerk of the Court, and because this was not done this bill is presented. It was before the Judiciary Special Committee and explained by me and by unanimous vote they reported it out. Interests opposed to discredit the present administration, wished a hearing and the Mayor of the City of Erie and the City Solicitor were here in support of the act and the opposition was here. They were heard at length and for the second time the Committee on Judiciary Special in open session voted unanimously to affirm the previous decision and send this bill out upon the floor of the House with an affirmative recommendation. That was done in open session, and I would ask all my associates here to join me in voting in the affirmative on this bill.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Erie.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. MITCHELL. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire from the gentleman from Erie, as to whether or not a request was made by the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Kitts, to have this matter held over until his return?

Mr. MITCHELL. No, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, he spoke to me about it and said he did not want any action taken on it until he returned, and had time to look into the matter.

M. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, he never mentioned the matter to me.

I have seen him since the gentleman from Crawford has. I do not think you would find either Mr. Bayle or Mr. Kitts on the floor opposing it now.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Kitts opposed it when speaking to me, and I did not want action taken on it until he returned, if a satisfactory arrangement could be made.

Mr. MITCHELL. Well, Mr. Speaker, he did not ask a postponement of me. I have seen Mr. Kitts since the gentleman from Crawford has and he did not interpose any objection to it. Since that time a public hearing has been had and it was reported unanimously to this House as I have said.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. J. E. Wright, offered the following prayer:

O, God, Thou art King of Kings, and Lord of Lords. We humbly and reverently bow before Thee. We acknowledge Thy right to rule within us and to reign over us. We are Thine agents, chosen by Thee to do the work of this world. We pray that Thou wouldst so possess us and control us, that our wills may be subservient to Thy will and that our interests may be brought into harmony with Thine interests. Now as we enter upon the work of this Legislation week we pray that Thou wouldst enable us to be conscious and courageous in our work, with energy, earnestness, fidelity and vigor, so that God may be honored and the people may be served. All this we ask in the name of Him who taught us to say,

Our Father, who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name, Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors. Lead us not into temptation but deliver us from all evil, for Thine is the Kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of the proceedings of February 13, 1913.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the proceedings of February 13, 1913, when on motion of Mr. Wiltbank, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

BILL PLACED ON CALENDAR.

Mr. STEELE. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 31, File Folio 317, entitled:

An Act to repeal an act approved the second day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, entitled "An Act to provide revenue by imposing a mercantile license tax on venders of or dealers in goods, wares and merchandise and providing for the collection of said tax," together with the amendments thereof.

be placed upon the Calendar, notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee.

Mr. LOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill is to repeal the Mercantile License Tax of 1899. This bill was given serious consideration by the Ways and Means Committee to which it was referred and a public hearing was had and the trend of thought or objection on the part of those supporting this repealer was to the effect that it was unjust taxation and a harsh measure. Now, I would like the House to consider for a moment before placing this bill on the calendar the side of the taxation plan where the farmer is on one side and the mercantile license payer on the other. In the mercantile line we have a man doing a business of from fifteen to twenty thousand dollars a year out of which his net income would be from six to fifteen per cent, and if this mercantile license tax is repealed, he will pay absolutely nothing directly to carry on the Government. I say there is no other tax levied and collected which is easier of payment and more just and more equitable than this mercantile license tax. And I ask the farmer and all other men who pay so much taxes on everything available to consider the large mercantile establishments in Philadelphia, like Wanamaker's, Strawbridge and Clothier and Gimbels, and all other concerns that are doing a mercantile business running into the millions getting off without the payment of one single cent of taxes, for the proper maintenance of the government, should this bill be repealed. There was no good reason proposed by those who advocated the repeal of this bill why it should be taken off, and what is of more importance to this House, no substitute tax measure has been offered. If this bill were repealed, it would take away from the State about $1,400,000, and they do not tell us or propose in what way we shall make up that deficit in the State Revenues. I would ask the gentlemen of this House in considering whether or not this is a fair tax measure to take into consideration that the State needs every penny which can be gotten by taxation. Therefore, I hope that they will vote down this motion to place this bill on the calendar.

Mr. LOWERS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House as a member of the Ways and Means Committee which had this bill under consideration, and as a member who voted to report this bill out affirmatively, I wish to say at this time that I believe this bill should be placed on the calendar in order that the members of the House could go on record. Many of us in making our campaigns pledged ourselves to oppose or favor the repeal of this measure, and I believe we should be given the privilege of going on record, and in no other way can we do that except in placing this bill on the calendar. I do not propose at this time to enter into the merits or demerits of the bill, although there are a number of people who believe that this bill provides for an unjust tax. I will reserve what I have to say until such time as I can do so when the bill is under consideration by this House.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. I would like to say to the members of the House that if this act is repealed, the act of 1899, there will be millions and millions of property relieved from taxation. By as careful a calculation as I am able to make from experience in the mercantile business, I do not believe that this tax would amount to more than three mills on the dollar on the property stored by all the various mercantile establishments of this State. Therefore, ious mercantile establishments of this State. Therefore, the amount that the merchant pays for the support of the State is one of the lighest taxes on any property in our state. If you repeal the Act of 1899, these millions of property will go scot free. Now, if the gentlemen who want this tax repealed would come here witht a provision to reach these millions and millions of property and make them pay their just proportion of taxes for the support of the government, I would gladly consider the proposition, but to come here and say I do not like to pay taxes is only to say what every man says. There is no merchant, farmer, professional man, or others in business in the State but who would like to avoid paying taxes. I have talked with many of the merchants in my county and two years ago I received upwards of three hundred letters asking to have this act repealed. I explained to them exactly the situation and this year I have not received three letters, because the merchants of my county have come to understand that instead of paying more than their share of the taxes for the maintenance of the government, they are actually paying less. I do not think there is any necessity of placing the bill on the calendar. I believe that we should act on this proposition as it is now presented to the House, dispose of the proposition, and act on other business that is more pressing. I hope that the members of the House will vote the motion down as it is proper that the merchants should pay some taxes.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

Mr. SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. I will.

Mr. WATSON. I would ask the gentleman from Delaware as a merchant how much the tax would be.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. As a merchant and considering the stock that I carry in my store, and I have been in business for over thirty years, and now having three sons-in-law and my son engaged in the business with me, I consider that it will average about three mills on the dollar. The neighboring farmer pays thirteen mills. Now they ask the members of this House to repeal this bill, so that they will pay nothing. My sons-in-law and my son have all asked me to have this tax taken off. It is a just tax and every merchant who understands it is willing to pay it

Mr. WATSON. I would like to ask the gentleman from Delaware whether or not he adds anything to the price of his goods, and whether or not the poor farmer paid any part of his tax.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would say that the gentleman has suggested a question that goes to the very fundamental principle of taxation. Adam Smith and Camden more than two or three hundred years ago in discussing the principle of taxation came to the conclusion that the consumer generally pays that tax.

Mr. WATSON. I thought so.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. If that be true, that the various patrons of our stores and warehouses are paying this tax, why should the merchants ask us to repeal it.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. I went into the Auditor-General's office and had in my hand an itemized statement for three years of these taxes

In the year 1909 the total tax of this law collected was $162,173.61. In 1910, $163,736.16. In 1911, which is the last year reported, $172,744.61.

Now, I was informed also in the Auditor General's office, that if this tax law is repealed, that it is the only law that provides the machinery for collecting several other taxes, among which are taxes on billiards; tax on brokers; tax on auctioneers; tax on theaters; tax on eating-houses, and tax on peddlers. To repeal this law, this mercantile tax, will be repealing the law which authorizes the collection of all these taxes, which would not only take off the mercantile tax, but all these other taxes. It seems to me that this is only a just and proper tax, so far as it goes, but it does not go far enough, and we ought to leave it on the statute books.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Ulerich.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I am exactly in accord with my friend from Delaware, Mr. Baldwin, so far as this question goes. Two years ago, I stood for and voted to put a certain bill on the calendar and they voted against the measure of putting it on the calendar, and to be consistent I don't see how a good many of us now can vote in any other way than to put this measure on the calendar. This is not whether it is a good proposition, but to place it on the calendar and when the time comes that it is on the calendar, then we can discuss the merits of the question.

Mr. O'NEILL. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Neill.

Mr. O'NEILL. Mr. Speaker, I call for the previous question.

The SPEAKER. If there is no other gentleman who desires to speak, it is not necessary to put the previous question.

On the question,

Shall the bill be placed upon the calendar?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken,

Whereupon, the Speaker announced that a verification of the roll would be taken, upon the completion of which the Speaker announced the vote as follows:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Rockwell.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, in reading the papers which I read here tonight, there is an error which I wish to correct. The figures should be as follows: In 1909 the amount of this tax was $1,480,787.46. In 1910, $1,555,549.68. In 1911, $1,604,426.78.

RESOLUTION.

Mr. GEISER. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Geiser.

Mr. GEISER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up Resolution No. 10, and ask that a vote be taken upon it now.

The SPEAKER. Resolution No. 10 will be read by the Clerk.

INVESTIGATION OF PERSONS HOLDING MORE THAN ONE POSITION.

Whereas, It is currently reported that there are persons in the employ of the several departments of this Commonwealth holding more than one position under the administration, the duties of which are nominal and the combined salaries greatly in excess of the services rendered

Therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of five members of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, two of whom shall be Democrats shall be and are hereby constituted a committee to inquire into the facts and to make report of their findings to the House within thirty days. Such committee shall have full power to administer oaths and to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of all books and papers; to issue all necessary processes, and to exercise all the powers belonging to a Committee of the House of Representatives.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. GEISER. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, I wish to inform this House that during this administration there have been a number of men holding more than one job and receiving salaries out of proportion for the service they have rendered. I desire to read, as follows, an article taken from the press:

Chief Clerk George Thorn, in the Secretary of the Commonwealth's office, receives a salary of $2,500, and he also is secretary of the Board of Pardons at $1,000, besides receiving perquisites for counting the State Vote.

John Kendlehart, a clerk in the same department at $1,400, receive $500 more as clerk of the Board of Pardons and the fees of notary public.

John F. Whitworth is corporation clerk of $2,250, and secretary of the Underground Railroads Commission at $750. Until Governor Pennsypacker asked for his resignation he also was a water commissioner at $3,000. The Underground Railroad Commission has issued only one charter since it was established under Governor Stone.

James V. Murray, corporation clerk in the Auditor-General's Department, receives a salary of $3,000. He is also clerk to the Board of Accounts at $300.

Christian Mevers, County Clerk at $2,200, is secretary to the Board of Revenue Commisioners at $1,000. A sub clerk writes the minutes, declared Mr. Geiser.

H. D. Jones is cashier in the State Treasury at $5,000 a year. He is also secretary of the Sinking Fund at $1,000, and until recently was secretary of Public Grounds and Buildings at $600.

Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs James Craig receives a salary of $3,000. He is also secretary of the Board of Property at $300.

Walter Gaither is private secretary to the Governor at $5,000, recorder of the Board of Pardons at $500 and secretary of the Panama-Pacific Exposition Commission.

Cassius A. Dunn, as stenographer in the Executive Department, receives $1,200 and as clerk to the Capital Park Commission, $600.

Samuel P. Todd is executive controller at $3,000, and secretary of the Capitol Park Commission to investigate prices of real estate at $3,000.

Harry McDevitt is assistant controller at $1,800 and secretary of the Board of Public Buildings and Grounds at $600.

Thomas J. Lynch is assistant executive clerk at $1,800 and a water commissioner at $3,000.

Benjamin Demming, chief clerk to the Adjutant General, has a salary of $1,800; as recorder of the State Military Board receives $300, and as secretary of the Armory Boards of the State $300.

Now, gentlemen, this resolution is simply giving the information which I have just brought to your attention. It is brought before the House in proper order. It has been two weeks since I offered this resolution. It is thoroughly progressive and its object is to bring about a change from these methods which have existed in this State for a number of years. Malus usus abolen dusest.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

REQUESTING STATEMENT FROM CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS.

Mr. McALEER offered the following resolution, which was twice read, agreed to and Ordered, To lie over, under the rules for printing.

House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pa.

Resolved, That every institution which received an appropriation of State funds for charitable purposes from the session of one thousand nine hundred and eleven and which is again applying for an apropriation from this House shall furnish to this body before March first a list of all monies paid out for salaries or other remuneration in excess of $75.00 per month or $900 per pear, giving name of person to whom paid, amount paid and character of services rendered

And be it Further Resolved, That a copy of this report be furnished to each member.

BILLS RECOMMITTED.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following motion.

The SPEAKER. The motion will be read by the Clerk.

The motion was read by the Clerk as follows:

Moved that House Bill No. 336, file folio 339, entitled:

An Act making it unlawful to use any type of mining machine in the removal of ribs stumps or pillars in any bituminous coal mine in the State of Pennsylvania be recommitted to the Committee on Mines and Mining for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, by way of explanation I will say to the gentlemen of the House that a number of my constituents would like to have a hearing on this bill. They called me on the long distance this morning and asked me if I would see to have that arrangement carried out. I spoke to the Chairman of the Committee and he very kindly agreed to grant that request. I then went to the author of the bill, and asked him if he would also agree to have the bill recommitted for that purpose and he seems anxious there shall be no delay. In all fairness I hope the House will agree to have this bill recommitted for that purpose. Personally I know nothing about the bill. I have not even read it, but I know the people from my section of the state are vitally interested in this bill and they will be here tonight on a late train. If the hearing can be arranged tomorrow it will certainly not delay the bill any length of time.

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, I object to the recommitting of this bill at this time. They have had ample time to have a hearing on this bill and will have opportunity for a hearing before the Senate if this bill is carried in the House. I have no objections to their getting a hearing upon this bill when it gets to the Senate, but I do not think it should be referred back to the committee here and now.

I am willing for one bill on the calendar to go back to the committee and that is House Bill No. 341.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, anything that I may say on this will not indicate how I may vote on this bill, as I have not made up my mind how I will vote on it; but as Mr. North has said he lives in a region where this may affect either the operators or the miners, and there is a great demand to have a hearing; I will say frankly that I think under the circumstances this bill should not be hastily considered here. For myself I did not notice it, until it was on second reading, and I sent copies of it out, and I think it is but fair that these people should have a hearing. It will not delay the bill any length of time, and I ask the members of the House, under the circumstances, and so that both parties can be heard, that they will grant this request.

Mr. W. A. BLAIR. Mr. Speaker, I have no objections to having a hearing on any of these bills, but these mining bills were considered in committee for nearly the ten days allotted, and these gentleman have had ample time to appear before the committee before this time. These bills, especially these mining bills, have all been in the paper and the mine operators have been in touch with each and every one of them. While there is no objection, at the same time, the committees have a great deal of work to do and if we have got to have a hearing at any time anybody wants to have these bills recommitted we will be here until next March. There was no dissension at all upon any of these bills in committee. Every person interested had an opportunity to be there, and I think that it is only wasting time to recommit the bills.

On the question recurring,

The SPEAKER declared he was in doubt.

Whereupon a division was called for, 88 voting in the affirmative and 86 in the negative.

And the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion adopted.

Mr. RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker, I ask, as the sponsor of the bill, that House Bill No. 556, entitled:

An Act to provide for the compensation by the proper county of the licensed practitioner of medicine of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the execution and furnishing certificates of death birth and health and the various reports of contagious and reportable diseases and other medical certificates and reports required by law and the rules and regulations of the Department of Health of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and to provide that the county treasurer of each and every county in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the Commissioners of Health of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall carry out the provisions of this act on page 7 of tonight's calendar, be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 341, entitled:

An Act to amend article nineteen section three of an act entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" Approved June ninth one thousand nine hundred and eleven Pamphlet Laws seven hundred fifty-six be recommitted to the Committee on Mines and Mining for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 234, entitled:

An Act to provide for the safety of persons employed in and about bituminous coal mines and to provide for the examination of persons' seeking employment as coal miners and to prohibit the employment of incompetent persons as miners and providing penalties for the violation of the same on page 7 of tonight's calendar be recommitted to the committee on Mines and Mining for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.
Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 421, entitled:

An Act to amend the thirteenth section of an act approved the twenty-ninth day of March, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and five, and making the sum of four dollars taxed as costs for every verdict taken in any given action payable to the prothonotary instead of to the sheriff.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MATT: I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Erie.

The SPEAKER: Will the gentleman from Erie permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MITCHELL: I will.

Mr. MATT: I desire to ask the gentleman the question why the four dollars is to be transferred to the prothonotary from the Sheriff?

Mr. MITCHELL: For the information of the gentleman from Bedford and the other members of the House, I wish to say that under the law of 1885 in any civil action the unsuccessful party pays four dollars to the Sheriff which is taxed as costs and paid into the county treasury to pay the jury and other expenses of the county. The only change whatever made in the present law is changing the word "Sheriff" to "Prothonotary," simply changing the custodian of the money, and making no other alteration of the law. In every other respect it is exactly the same as the present law.

The question recurring.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 454, entitled:

An Act providing for the amendment or alteration of the charters of corporations having toll bridges across any rivers or streams in this Commonwealth whose travel by horses, wagons, et cetera has been diverted or taken away by the erection of free public bridges so that it may not be obligatory upon said companies to maintain their bridges for such travel.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SHOWALTER: Mr. Speaker, I notice that there is a typographical error in this bill, and therefore ask the unanimous consent of the House to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER: The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section one, line 13, by striking out the word "as" and inserting the word "so".

The SPEAKER: Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendment as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 354, entitled:

An Act for the protection of the public health by prohibiting the use of finger bowls unless such finger bowls are thoroughly cleansed after each individual use, and providing a penalty for violation thereof.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ULERICH. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin?

The SPEAKER: Will the gentleman from Franklin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RUNK: I will.

Mr. ULERICH: I would like the gentleman to tell the members of this House that if this bill should become a law what provisions could be made for ascertaining whether the provisions of the law were carried out. It says here in the latter part of the bill, or in one part of the bill, "such finger bowls have been thoroughly cleansed after each individual use." How would you ascertain whether or not the law has been carried out in that regard?

Mr. RUNK: I had intended to say a few remarks on this subject and I will be glad to be interrogated.

Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I arise as much as matter of personal privilege as to defend the merits of this bill. When this bill was introduced in the House, a reporter for a newspaper, called this Health Department bill, one of Dr. Dixon's "freak bills." Some young men down in the Cumberland Valley assumed to be funny, engaging even in poetical effusions. I therefore have had some rather exasperating notoriety. 'This Finger Bowl Bill, is only one of many which have come from the Department of Health. I am not the author of this bill. It was advised by the Advisory Board of the Department of Health of Pennsylvania, composed of the following well known professional men: Adolph Koenig, M. D., Lee Masterson, Civil Engineer; Charles B. Penrose, M. D.; George W. Guthrie, M. D.; B. H. Warren, M. D., and author of that splendid book on the Birds of Pennsylvania, and Charles J. Marshall, Veterinary, M. D.

Being a member of the House Committee on Health and Sanitation, a representative of the Health Department, a personal friend of mine, asked me to introduce the bill, and as you all know my name had to be written on the bill. At first reading I felt as if this finger bowl measure was one of a trivial nature, but having implicit confidence in the Advisory Board and Dr. Dixon, whose name and fame is known all over the civilized world, I hesitated not.

My curiosity became aroused by the queer newspaper references to the finger bowl bill, and I commenced to study the dangers lurking in the oft used waters in finger bowls at hotels and restaurants where the bowl is used daily. It took only a brief time in reading Health reports, not only of Pennsylvania, but those of the United States Public Health Service, to convince me that the Finger Bowl is as dangerous as the Common Drinking Cup. I am now an earnest advocate of this bill for the protection of the public.

If you go to a hotel or restaurant and pay for the meal you order, is it asking too much of a waiter who lurks around expecting a tip, perhaps as large as you pay for the meal, to get you clear water in a finger bowl, and not require you to use water which has washed the fingers and lips of others before you? Is it asking too much of a proprietor to see that his customers are protected from disease which is more readily contracted through water than any other source? If there is any gentleman within the sound of my voice who is willing to be subjected to such a danger, let him be interrogated.

C. H. Lavinder, surgeon of the United States Public Health Service, in the United States Health Report of January 3, 1913, says this about the finger bowl: "It seems to be customary even in high-classed hotels and restaurants to have in use half a dozen finger bowls, more or less, and these to serve for many patrons. The water in them seems to be changed at rare intervals and entirely in the discretion of the waiter. Occasionally one will see the old water poured out and fresh poured in, but far from frequently even this is not done. I presume the bowls must be washed now and then. Now, when one considers that many persons in using these bowls wash not only their fingers but their lips as well, it would seem that the conditions of the Common Drinking Cup are different only in degree. Moreover with the finger bowl it is not only the question of using a Common bowl but often Common water also.

Since I first noticed in some hotels and restaurants, says Dr. Lavinder, this disgusting manner of serving those convenient accessories of a table service, I have taken some pains to learn how widespread such a thing might be, and my observations lead me to the belief that it is very common indeed. I am inclined to think that the Common finger bowl should be classed with the Common Drinking cup as an offense of the same character, but possibly less in degree."

Now Gentlemen of the House this bill was unanimously recommended as committed by the Committee of the House on Health and Sanitation, a committee composed partly of splendid physicians and chemists. At the time it was being considered, a doctor, a specialist on the eye, ear, throat and nose, was present and has since told me that if this bill passed the House he would personally go before the Health and Sanitation committee of the Senate and urge its passage by that body, for he considered it one of the most dangerous practices at the table service.

So gentlemen if it is a "freak or foolish bill" can we conclude that the Advisory Board of the Health Department, Dr. Dixon and Dr. Lavinder, are foolish men, for it is their measure, their conclusions, and their recommendations for the benefit of mankind. I have done my part in expressing faith in these men, now let us see what you think of them. If you vote down their measure, some day, some time, somewhere, the disease you may catch from the use of the common finger bowl by using the same water that others have used before you, may cause you to remember the advice of Dr. Dixon and his associates.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. RUNK. I will.

Mr. LANIUS. Did not the gentleman say that one of these medical authorities was an expert on canary birds.

Mr. RUNK. I do not think I said that.

Mr. LANIUS. Did you not read the name of Dr. Charles Marshall, a veternary surgeon?

Mr. RUNK. I did.

Mr. LANIUS. Do you mean by that that we are to furnish finger bowls for the cattle also.

Mr. RUNK. It would not do any harm.

Mr. LANIUS. Do you not think that there is just as much danger in dirty dishes.

Mr. Runk. Sure.

Mr. LANIUS. Should they not wash the dishes also? I use a knife, and a fork, and a spoon, and a plate and cup. I might not take notice to the finger bowl, and might perhaps drink the water out of it.

Mr. Runk. That is a matter for you, Mr. Lanius.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I have just ascertained that the gentleman from Franklin is not the author of this bill. I took this bill for a joke the first time I read it, and I was going to make a motion that it be passed as a joke only. I think it has gone far enough; we have given it proper respect, and we should not take it any further. If the party who drew up this bill is really serious about this matter, we ought to start at the beginning with the service of the table, beginning with soup and going clean along the line down to the finger bowl and table cloth. The bill is not wide enough.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same All mortgages or defeasible deeds in the nature of mortgages made or to be made or executed for any lands tenements or hereditaments within this Commonwealth shall have priority according to the date of recording the same without regard to the time of making or extending such deeds and it shall be the duty of the recorder to endorse the time upon the mortgages or defeasible deeds when left for record and to number the same according to the time they are left for record and if two or more are left upon the same day they shall have priority according to the time they are left at the office for record And that no mortgage or defeasible deed in the nature of a mortgage shall be a lien until such mortgage or defeasible deed shall have been recorded or left for record as aforesaid Provided That no mortgage given for the purchase money of the land so mortgaged shall be affected by the passage of this act if the same be recorded within ten days from the date of the recording of the deed to the grantee

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, I move that House bill No. 158, just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House bill No. 265, as follows:

An Act providing for the establishment and maintenance of tuberculosis hospitals by a single county or by a group of two or more counties authorizing the holding of elections for the approval thereof and the appointment of boards of directors to erect and manage the same providing for the issue of county bonds and the appropriation of moneys by the county commissioners for the purposes of such hospitals imposing the duty upon the board of public charities to fix in each year the maximum per capita maintenance rates for such hospitals and prescribing the duties and powers of the board of directors

County Hospitals for Treatment of Tuberculosis

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall be lawful for any county in this Commonwealth after action taken as provided in the following section of this act to establish and maintain a hospital for the care and treatment of persons suffering from tuberculosis or to join with other counties of this Commonwealth to establish and maintain such hospital

For this purpose it shall be lawful for any county by its county commissioners to appropriate money or to issue bonds as hereinafter provided

Petition to Court of Quarter Sessions for an election to Approve Bond Issue

Section 2 Whenever it shall be desired to establish a hospital as described in section one by any county within this Commonwealth or by a group of any two or more counties each one of which is contiguous with one or more of the others the citizens of any such county or counties may present to the court of quarter sessions of the county a petition signed by five per centum of the legally qualified voters within the county as determined by the registry lists for the last preceding general election therein and setting forth that in the judgment of the petitioners it is desirable that such a hospital be established by the county in which the petitioners reside or jointly with the specified county or counties and that for such purpose it is desirable that the county of the petitioners shall issue interest bearing bonds for such purpose to the amount stated in the petition and in case joint action with any other county or counties be contemplated specifying the proportionate amount of money to be contributed at the outstart by each county and praying the court to order an election in the said county upon the question of the issue of said bonds to the amount and for the purposes stated

The said petition shall be subscribed by the petitioners within two months immediately preceding the presentation thereof to the court and shall be verified by affidavit of five or more of the petitioners to the effect that the subscribers constitute the required per centum of legally qualified voters within the county The date of signing by each subscriber and his place of residence shall be clearly set forth in the petition

Filing of Petition Time of Exceptions Action of Court

Section 3 The petition shall be filed with the clerk of the said court at least three months before any election held as hereinafter provided and the fact thereof shall be advertised once a week for two weeks in one newspaper published in the county town of the county and in like manner in the Law Reporter if any published in the county The court shall file an order directing that an election be held in the said county upon the question of the issue of bonds to the amount and for the purpose stated Provided That in any case where joint action is contemplated with any other county or counties the court may refuse to file such an order unless satisfactory proof is given that like petitions have been filed in such other counties provided further that in no case shall an order directing such election be filed within less than forty-five days before holding the same

Election Notice Conduct

Section 4 Whenever the court shall make an order as provided in section three the said election shall be held as part of the next general election in the county and the court shall direct the proper officers to give notice thereof in the county in the manner provided by law for holding general elections

The said election shall be conducted in all respects as the general at which the question shall be voted on provided that the officials whose duty it shall be to provide the ballots shall prepare ballots for such election upon which shall be printed in brief form a statement of the questions submitted followed by the words "for a bond issue" or "against a bond issue" to which may be added directions for voting The expense of the election shall be borne by the county

Returns of Election

Section 5 The court or officer to whom the returns of the said election shall be made shall certify the result thereof to the court of quarter sessions having jurisdiction of the proceedings

Effect of Election Decree of Court

Section 6 (1) If it shall appear by the vote when computed and certified as aforesaid that a majority of the legally qualified voters of the county voting upon such question have voted in favor of the bond issue the said court of quarter sessions shall enter a decree that the prayer of the petitioners be granted and that the county commissioners shall prepare and cause to be issued in due conformity with law the bonds of the county to the amount set forth in the petition and for the purpose therein specified and shall certify the result of the election to the county commissioners upon whom also shall be served a copy of the decree and to the Governor of the Commonwealth to the Commissioner of Health and to such other board commission or commissioner of the Commonwealth as may have supervision over the said hospital when established

But if a majority of the voters so voting shall vote against the bonds issue the entire proceedings shall be dismissed by the court and the said question shall not again be submitted to the vote of the electors within a period of less than two years from the date of such election

(2) In any case where the petition filed shall contemplate the action of the county jointly with any other county or counties the court shall before entering any decree as provided in subsection one require satisfactory proof in such manner as it may determine of the result of the vote in the other county or counties concerned and the failure of the legally qualified voters of any county concerned to approve the said bond issue shall render void the said election in all the counties concerned and in such case the court in any county where the vote has been in favor of the bond issue shall dismiss the entire proceedings provided that the dismissal in such cases shall not prevent the filing of a petition in that county at any time thereafter

Hospital Board of Directors

Section 7 Whenever any bond issue shall have been approved in accordance with the provisions of this act to establish in any county or counties a hospital for the care and treatment of persons suffering from tuberculosis there shall be and the same is hereby established a board of directors for the purpose of erecting maintaining directing and managing the same for and on the behalf of the county or counties concerned The said board shall consist of five members and shall possess the powers and perform the duties hereinafter specified and also have all powers necessary to enable it to carry out the purposes of this act The said directors shall be a body corporate by the name and style of the Tuberculosis Hospital of County or of and Counties as the case may be under which name it may sue or be sued conduct its business and acquire and hold such real estate rights and easements as may be deemed necessary for carrying out the duties imposed by this act

Appointment of Directors Qualifications Terms Vacancies

Section 8 Within ninety days after the Governor shall have received from the said court or courts as provided in section six a proper certification of the result of the said election or elections he shall be and with the advice and consent of the Senate appoint five citizens of the county or counties concerned at least one of whom shall be a woman and two of whom shall be reputable physicians practicing their profession therein to be members of the board of directors provided that in case more than one county is concerned at least one citizen of each county shall be appointed to the board

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 22, as follows:

An Act to avoid delay in the administration of justice by fixing a time within which decisions in certain questions and matters shall be rendered by judges and requring certain certificates from judges before their salaries shall be paid

Whereas There has been grave complaint on the part of litigants and their counsel and others interested that unwarranted delay exists in the administration of justice and

Whereas A large part of this delay is due to the procrastination of judges in rendering decisions and

Whereas Such delay is not alone vexatious but very costly to those seeking justice in our courts and

Whereas This Commonwealth has been very generous in compensating judges for the services rendered on the bench therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever any question or matter in law or in equity shall be submitted to or argued before any court or judge of record of this Commonwealth it shall be the duty of such court or judge to render a decision on such question or matter within six months after such submission or argument unless the time be extended in writing signed by all parties in interest or by their respective counsel

Section 2 It shall be unlawful for the Auditor General to draw a warrant in payment of the salary of any law judge of this Commonwealth unless the said judge shall have certified to the Auditor General that this act has been fully complied with during the time covered by such warrant and that such judge has not at the time of giving such certificate any question or matter under consideration or advisement contrary to the requirements of this act company or corporation and if a fair and reasonable price which shall be approved by the Governor for said road or part thereof cannot be agreed upon it shall then be lawful for the State Highway Commissioner to petition the court of quarter sessions of the county in which the State highway or any part thereof owned or controlled by said turnpike company or other private corporation is located setting forth that such turnpike or toll-road or part thereof is a State highway within the designation and description of this act and that no agreement as to price or damage can be reached and thereupon said court shall appoint a jury of view consisting of five reputable citizens of the county in which the road or part thereof is located and the said jury having been sworn or affirmed to perform their duties faithfully justly and impartially shall after due notice to the company or corporation and the State Highway Commissioner view and condemn the said turnpike toll-road or highway or part thereof as a State highway or part thereof and shall appraise and report the damages which the owner or owners shall be entitled to receive therefore and for the purpose of appraising the damages as aforesaid the said jury shall first hear evidence on the part of the said owner or owners and afterwards shall hear evidence on the part of the State Highway Commissioner after which evidence shall be heard in rebuttal and in sur-rebuttal as prescribed for trials at law Said report shall be presented for confirmation nisi at the term of said court next succeeding said appraisement and view unless by order of said court the same be continued to a later term and if no exceptions are filed thereto said report shall at the expiration of thirty days after confirmation nisi be confirmed absolutely and an appeal therefrom by the Commonwealth of the company or corporation shall lie to the Court of Common Pleas of said county within thirty days after confirmation absolute and upon issue framed by the Court of Common Pleas the damages shall then be ascertained as in similar cases subject to an appeal to the Superior or Supreme courts as the case may be The said court of quarter sessions may in its discretion appoint a competent stenographer to keep a faithful record of all proceedings before the viewers and to furnish a full copy of his notes to be attached to and form a part of the record And the said stenographer shall be allowed the same compensation as that paid in their resepctive county to court stenographers and each viewer shall be allowed the sum of two dollars and fifty cents for each day necessarily employed which together with the compensation allowed the said stenographer shall be taxed as part of the costs of the proceeding and be paid as hereinafter provided Immediately upon agreement reached or upon completion of any court proceedings and acceptance of the appraisement or verdict by the Commissioner the damages so determined or awarded shall be paid by the Commonwealth together with the costs and expense of the proceedings in condemnation and the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof shall become a State highway or part thereof free from tolls Provided That if the amount of damages as finally awarded shall be deemed excessive by the State Highway Commissioner he may refuse to accept the appraisement or verdict and may then omit said turnpike or toll-road or part thereof from the aforesaid route of State highway and all court costs and costs of jury proceedings shall thereupon be paid by the State Highway Department and by necessary divergence therefrom he may select and adopt the next best and most suitable and conveneient route or road in order to connect up and complete a continuous State highway and thereafter such diverged route or road shall be taken and remain and be as much a part of the State highways of the Commonwealth as though otherwise particularly described in this act Provided further That at any time during the proceedings in condemnation after the filing of the original petition of the State Highway Commissioner the said State Highway Commissioner with the consent and approval of the Governor may after ten days' written otice to the owner or owners of said turnpike toll-road or highway present to the said court of quarter sessions of the proper county a declaration of his intention to immediately enter upon and take the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof and to pay or cause to be paid to the said owner or owners such amount of damages as shall be assessed in the manner provided for by this act and all costs and expenses of the said proceedings which declaration shall contain certificate of the State Highway Commissioner that sufficient funds to pay all possible damages costs and expenses of said proceedings have been appropriated by the Legislature for this specific purpose and upon presentation of said declaration the said court shall mark the same filed of record in said proceedings whereupon the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof shall immediately become a State highway or part thereof free from tolls and the same may then be improved and maintained by the State Highway Commissioner in the manner provided by this act and upon completion of the proceedings in condemnation the State Highway Commissioner shall accept the appraisement and verdict and the damages so determined or awarded shall be paid by the Commonwealth together with the costs and expenses and in case the said damages and costs and expenses are not paid within thirty days from final adjudication and judgment thereon the owner or owners of said turnpike toll-road or highway may enforce the payment by writ of mandamus which shall be issued by the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which the seat of government is or may be located and shall be proceeded in as provided by law And provided further That where any existing turnpike or toll-roads or parts thereof owned by turnpike companies or private corporations shall be or form any part of any State highway hereinbefore designated described or defined the same are not hereby immediately taken over for improvement or repair but the purchase thereof shall be deferred by the State Highway Commissioner and the same shall remain and be operated and controlled by the owners thereof as heretofore until such time as the work of improvement of all other State highways and parts or portions thereof shall have been completed And provided further If in the judgment of the State Highway Commissioner local or special conditions of any of said turnpikes or toll-roads or any part or parts thereof are such as tend to interfere with or inconvenience travel thereon and shall sooner require the purchase improvement and control thereof by the State then upon the approval of the Governor such turnpike or turnpikes toll-road or toll-roads or part or parts thereof so affected by such local or special conditions shall be taken over in accordance with the provisions of this act

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication from the House of Representatives, returning to the Senate concurrent resolution as follows:

In the Senate, February 21, 1913.

Whereas, There has recently been considerable discussion in the newspapers and elsewhere regarding the number, duties, efficiency and salaries of the officers, clerks and employes of the Senate, House of Representatives and the several departments, boards and commissions connected with the State government; and

Whereas, It is of the greatest importance that the Senators and Members of the present General Assembly should be informed as to the necessity for, also the qualifications, number and salaries of said officers, clerks and employes so that if any charges are found necessary there may be authorized during the present session of the Legislature; therefore,

Be it resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That a commission consisting of four members of the present Senate, one of whom shall be a Democrat, be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate, and five members of the present House of Representatives, one of whom shall be a Democrat, be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, to investigate as to the necessity for, efficiency, number and salaries of the officers, clerks and employes of the Senate, House of Representatives and the several departments, boards and commissions connected with the State government, and to make report thereof and, if necessary, to recommend not later than April 1, 1913, to the present General Assembly such a bill or bills as may be requisite to improve the service and remedy any defects existing under the present laws.

Such a commission shall have full power to administer oaths and to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of all books and papers; to issue all necessary processes, and to exercise all the powers belonging to a joint committee of the Legislature. Such commission shall elect from its number a chairman, and shall have power to select not more than one clerk and one stenographer the salaries of whom, as well as any other expenses of said commission, shall be provided for in the General Appropriation Bill of 1913.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Said amendments were twice read as follows:

By inserting in line 8 after the word "Senate" the word "and", and by striking out in line 9 the words "and the several departments, boards and commissions connected with the State government," and by striking out in the latter part of the resolution the words "and shall have power to select not more than one clerk and one stenographer the salaries of whom, as well as any other expenses of said commission, shall be provided for in the general appropriation bill of 1913." and inserting in lieu thereof the words "and the Chief Clerk shall assign one of the regularly elected clerks of committees to said commission as its clerk."

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I move that the Senate nonconcur in the amendments made by the House of Representatives.

Mr. KURTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, that the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE COMMISSION OF THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG TO PROVIDE FOR ADDITIONAL GUESTS OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA RETURN WITH AMENDMENT.

He also laid before the Senate communication from the House of Representatives returning to the Senate, concurrent resolution as follows:

In the Senate, February 4, 1913.

Whereas, Certain acts and resolution passed by the several General Assemblies and approved by their Excellencies Governors Stuart and Tener, creating a commission and clothing it with administrative powers, said commission being known as The Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission.

Whereas, Limitations have been placed upon the former soldiers of the civil war who should be invited as guests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania during July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th by including only those who participated in the Battle of Gettysburg and who enlisted and served therein prior to July 4th, 1863.

Whereas, The National Government will provide sanitary tenting quarters and rations for the old soldiers of the Civil War who will be present during the aforesaid period.

Whereas, The exercises upon July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th, upon the Battlefield of Gettysburg will probably be the most impressive ceremony the world has ever known.

Therefore Be it Resolved, (if the House concur) That the Commission of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg be respectively and earnestly requested to broaden the scope of the provisions made for the attendance as guests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania upon that historical occasion so as to include all Union soldiers, sailors and marines of the Civil War now living in Pennsylvania, also such men who served in Pennsylvania commands known as Emergency Troops, also all soldiers who served in the Confederate Army now living in Pennsylvania as citizens of the Commonwealth. A copy of this resolution, when approved, to be forwarded to the President of the Commission for consideration and action.

With the information that the House had passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Said amendment was twice read as follows:

By striking out in line 7 the words "now living in" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "who enlisted from".

Mr. SHEATZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate nonconcur in the amendment made by the House of Representatives.

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. J. E. Wright, offered the following prayer.

O God, Thou hast answered the prayers of our fathers and established our land in liberty. We invoke Thy blessing upon our Republic that we may have peaceful times and fruitful seasons and plentious harvests; that our homes may be blessed, that our industries may be prosperous, that we may be exempt from famine, and pestilence and insurrection and war and tumult and confusion and strife.

We pray for Thy blessing upon Thy servant, the President of the United States, and upon Thy servant so soon to assume this responsible office; and upon Thy servant the Governor of this Commonwealth, and the Speaker of this Assembly, and all law-makers, judges and magistrates. Unite the hearts of the people that they may live in concord and amity, and enrich our land with liberty and order, and godliness, and power, that God's name may be glorified and the world be blessed.

We ask it in the name and for the sake of Jesus Christ, our Savior and Lord. Amen.

AMENDMENT TO RULE NO. 64.

Mr. EHRHARDT offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the House of Representatives, February 18, 1913.

Resolved that Rule 64, paragraph A, which now reads as follows:

"Any person accorded the privilege of a newspaper correspondent must be the telegraphic correspondent of a daily newspaper, who is not engaged in any department of the State government, or in any other business, or must be the official reporter for a Harrisburg daily newspaper; and no more than one representative of each newspaper shall be accorded this privilege."

Be amended so as to read as follows:

"Any person accorded the privilege of a newspaper correspondent must be the telegraphic correspondent of a daily newspaper or of a recognized press association who is not engaged in any department of the State government or any other business, or must be the official reported for a Harrisburg daily newspaper; and no more than one representative of each newspaper shall be admitted to the press gallery at the same time."

Committee on Rules,
By F. C. ERHHARDT,
Chairman.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EHRHARDT. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the chairman of the Committee on Rules to explain the necessity for this change.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, at the request of several of the news writers and arrangements with the Speaker of the House, there being four representatives of the Press at present in the House and being only seats provided for one representative from each paper it was agreed that the four or six representatives from one paper should arrange among themselves to occupy but one seat, and attend sessions at such times as they saw fit, so that each paper was afforded a seat for one representative. That is the only change.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna further.

Mr. SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. EHRHARDT. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if I understand him correctly, that this resolution meets with the approval of the press, the gentlemen who represent the newspapers?

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, it does. My arrangement was with the Press Association. At their request this change has been made.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. I wish to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna also.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. EHRHARDT. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, it looks to me as if the words "Any other business" included in the resolution make a very broad term.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state for the information of the gentleman that that expression is in the present rule. The only change made by this amendment is to permit the granting of cards to a gentleman who represents a press association, like the Associated Press. The present rule odes not provide for that; also to provide that one newspaper may have more than one correspondent, but providing that only one of such correspondents can occupy the seat assigned to that paper at a time, the present rule providing that only one be in the gallery at a time.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. JOHN R. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 648, entitled:

An Act to provide for the erection and organization of new counties out of parts of two adjoining counties and prescribing the manner in which the same may be done.

file folio 407, on page 4 of today's calendar, be recommitted to the Committee on Counties and Townships for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr JOHN R. JONES. Mr. Speaker, my purpose in asking for this recommittal is this: This bill is in the nature of an enabling act. I want to call the attention of the members of the House to the fact that while you found a pamphlet on your desk relating to the proposed creation of a new county to be taken out of Luzerne and Schuylkill, that it does not follow that the new act proposed applies wholly to those two counties. It is an enabling act providing that whenever two adjoining counties of this Commonwealth shall each contain eight hundred square miles or more, and attain a population of 150,000 or more or that have already reached the same, they may be divided and a new county created, and so on. Under the provisions of this act, whenever there are counties in that position they can proceed under that act for the creation of a new county. It is a matter for the House to determine whether or not they will support such legislation when it comes up. The point that I want to make in support of my motion to recommit is this, that this bill was introduced on the 12th of February, last Wednesday, and reported out of Committee the very next day, and printed for action to-day, before one could really know whether or not such a bill was introduced into this House. This act proposese to take from two large counties, a big amount of their territory. It affects their financial condition, and it is a matter that should not be passed upon or passed out of the Committee without due notice, and consideration. I do not want to make any reflection upon the Committee; but as the members can see this is an act that does not apply solely to two counties. You can see that the action has been hasty when the bill was referred to the Committee on the 12th and reported out again on the 13th before those affected by it had any notice of its introduction. Now, I have asked that this be put back in committee for further consideration and hearing and I make a personal request to the sponsor of the bill who did not seem fit to do so, as he wants the bill passed promptly. I ask, in all fairness, that the House recommit this bill to the committee that I may consult with my constituents at home who may be affected by this bill. Last evening a bill was recommitted under similar circumstances, for the purpose of a hearing, and I ask the members of the House to support my motion for the recommitting of this bill.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House I object to having this bill recommitted. The members of the Committee on Counties and Townships are a very competent body. The inhabitants of the two counties are well aware that this bill is a matter of ancient history. The points in this bill have been rehashed for the last thirty years. This is the fifth time that this bill has been introduced. This bill had passed the House and was killed in the Senate on one occasion, and on another occasion it passed in the Senate and was killed in the House, and again the bill was passed by both Houses and vetoed by the Governor. I cannot see why this bill should be recommitted, or why the time was not long enough for the committee to give the bill due consideration. I therefore object to recommittment and ask for a vote on it if necessary.

Mr. JOHN R. JONES. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I want to reply to that because you may get some wrong impression. It is not a question as to whether or not the committee has given it due consideration. That is not the sole question. There are other things that it is important should be considered. It does not apply solely to Luzerne and Schuylkill Counties. If you will read the bill you will see it is an enabling act covering counties containing a certain population and certain territory and creating machinery whereby new counties may be created wherever these conditions exist. The fact that this has been hashed and rehashed has nothing to do with the question here. The question is for this Legislature to determine. We want an opportunity to present the facts here and show you how it affects us. I understand, that as far as this bill is concerned, that seven out of the eight members from Luzerne County are opposed to it, and I know of none in my county of Schuylkill that are in favor of it, and I ask that a bill of such vital importance to the two counties, with a special reference to Schuylkill and Luzerne Counties, be given due consideration. I want to say this: That a bill introduced one day and reported out of Committee the next gives one no opportunity to know or find out about the introduction of the bill, and that is all that my motion means.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say to the members of the House, that seven out of eight of the members from Luzerne County are not opposed to the bill, and while the members of the Schuylkill County delegation will probably vote against the vote bill, they do not look upon it unfavorably. I wish to say that this bill received the utmost consideration in the Committee on Counties and Townships and if any member of that committee was delinquent in attending to his duties, I cannot see why it is necessary for us to recommit a bill on one man's account.

Mr. BECKER. Mr. Speaker, I think that the bill ought to be recommitted to the Committee on Counties and Townships. I would like to give some information and receive some information in regard to this matter and I certainly think that the bill ought to be recommitted.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGES.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate, which were laid on the table.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 443, entitled:

An Act fixing the number and salaries of clerks and other employes in the Auditor General's Department.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. W. H. WILSON: Mr. Speaker, I wish to say just a word in explanation of this bill. The bill which is now before you for your consideration is the result of the combined labors of the present incumbent in office and the Auditor General elected, and after consultation with former Auditor-General Young. It carried out the suggestion made in the report of the Commission on Taxation, suggesting that five new clerks be appointed in this department for the purpose of carrying out the business of the department. The Commission on Taxation suggested that five new clerks, or five new clerkships be created at five thousand dollars a year. There has been really nothing materially done in the way of the conducting of the business of this department in the way of additional clerkships since 1861, and because of the fact that the other Auditor-Generals and the Auditor-General elect, and the Tax Commission have found that the vast amount of business being done by this collecting agency and disbursing agency of the entire Commonwealth requires that it is absolutely necessary for the proper conduct of the business, I think this measure should be supported. Instead of adopting the suggestion that five clerks be appointed at a salary of five thousand dollars each, in this bill the salary of the various officers has been graduated. I therefore ask everyone of you gentlemen to support this bill, as it is a needed measure, and one which will provide enough clerks to put the department in a position to do the work which is necessary to be done in this department.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 265, entitled:

An Act providing for the establishment and maintenance of tuberculosis hospitals by a single county or by a group of two or more counties authorizing the holding of elections for the approval thereof and the appointment of boards of directors to erect and manage the same providing for the issue of county bonds and the appropriation of moneys by the county commissioners for the purposes of such hospitals imposing the duty upon the board of public charities to fix in each year the maximum per capita maintenance rates for such hospitals and prescribing the duties and powers of the board of directors.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 25, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Forestry to lease portions of the State forest for chuch school health and recreation purposes

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Department of Forestry is hereby authorized to lease for a period not exceeding ten years on such terms and conditions as it may consider reasonable to any citizen church organization or school board of Pennsylvania such portion of the State forest as the Department may deem suitable as a site for a temporary building to be used by such citizen or family for health and recreation or as a site for church or school purposes

Section 2 The receipts from such leasing shall be paid into the State Treasury Eighty per centum thereof so paid in shall constiutute a part of the State School Fund of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER: The gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams.

Mr. WILLIAMS: Mr. Speaker, This bill is that it does not call for any expenditure of State funds is an exception to the great number of bills introduced from day to day. On the contrary, it is a revenue producer in that it provides that eighty per-cent. of the revenue from the leases shall become part of the permanent School Fund provided for in Article 27 of the School Code, as well as a preserver of health. The land belonging to our Commonwealth represents nearly one million acres; they are the elevated lands, the lands of pure air and pure water where fish and game are found in abundance. Through the ownership of these lands, the State has a monopoly of the desirable sites for location for summer cottages, and this bill is intended to place these lands within the reach of their owners, the people of our State, who may seek rest and recreation among them. Help this bill to become a law, and you will be paving the way for thousands of our citizens to go to their cottages and family health resorts in the mountains during the heated terms of the year and then to occupy these lands in this way will not only contribute to the health of our citizens, but will be an additional protection against fire, that great enemy to forestry, in which those engaged in reforesting our State lands have to meet and contend with. Each year we spend several millions of dollars through our model Health Department in the interest of the health of the people of our State as a whole, and increasing tuberculosis stations in particular, where a law of this kind will have the possible effect of preventing it.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—2.

Keegan, McDermott,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up House Bill 132 on page two of today's calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 132, as follows:

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act providing for the better management of the jail or county prisons in the several counties of this Commonwealth having over one hundred and fifty thousand and less than two hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants each by creating in such counties a board to be known by the name and style of Inspectors of the Jail or County Prison with authority to appoint a warden of such prison and by vesting in said board and the officers appointed by it the safe-keeping discipline and employment of prisoners and the government and management of said jails or county prison"

Approved the twenty-seventh day of April Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the persons now holding the following offices and their successors in all counties in this Commonwealth containing over one hundred and fifty thousand and less than two hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants shall compose a board to be known by the name and style of Inspectors of the Jail or County Prison to wit The judges of the court of quarter sessions the district attorney the sheriff the controller and commissioners of each of said counties in which board and the officers appointed by it the safe-keeping discipline and employment of prisoners and the government and management of said institution shall be exclusively vested and that the present responsibility of the sheriff of each of said counties in regard to the safe-keeping of the prisoners shall cease and determine on their committal to said prison and such sheriff shall no longer be furnished a residence in said institution

Section 3 That all the expenditures required for the support and maintenance of prisoners the repairs and improvement of said prison shall be paid from the county treasury by warrants drawn in the mode now prescribed by law on the regular appropriation for the purpose but no warrant shall be certified by the controller for any expense connected with the prison unless on vouchers approved by a majority of said board and endorsed by the president and secretary thereof and all contracts involving an expenditure of over one hundred dollars shall be publicly advertised in the newspapers authorized to do the county advertising and be given to the lowest and best bidder

Section 4 That the warden at the time of his appointment shall give bond with good and sufficient security to be fixed and approved by the board of inspectors for the faithful performance of his duty and may at any time be removed by said board for misconduct or inefficiency All deputies assistants or keepers shall also give bond if required by said board and may at any time be suspended by the warden or removed by the said board

Section 5 Provided that in all counties to which this act applies where the sheriff is now the acting warden or keeper of the county jail or prison and has his residence therein this act shall not take effect until the expiration of the term of the sheriff now so acting as jail or prison warden or keeper

Section 6. This bill shall not be construed to repeal any special laws relating to the management of jails or county prisons in the counties affected by this act be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hreby enacted by the authority of the same That the persons now holding the following offices and their successors in all counties in this Commonwealth containing over one hundred and fifty thousand and not less than three hundred and twenty-five thousand inhabitants shall compose a board to be known by the name and style of inspectors of the jail or county prison to wit The sheriff the controller and the commissioners of each of said counties in which board and the officers appointed by it the safe-keeping discipline and employment of prisoners and the government and management of said institution shall be exclusively vested and that the present responsibility of the sheriff of each of said counties in regard to the safe-keeping of the prisoners shall cease and determine on their committal to said prison and such sheriff shall no longer be furnished a residence in said institution

Section 2 That within thirty days after this act shall become effective the above-named board shall meet and organize by the election of a president and secretary A majority of the members of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business and all actions of said board must be by the approval of a majority of all of the members of said board The board shall meet monthly or oftener if required and keep regular minutes of their proceedings in a book to be filed with the financial records of each of said counties and shall make such rules and regulations for the government and management of the prison and the safe-keeping discipline and employment of prisoners as may be deemed necessary The board shall appoint a warden of the prison who shall reside in the building The warden subject to the approval of the board may appoint such deputy or deputies assistant or assistants keeper or keepers as may be required in taking care of the prison the number and salary of the same to be fixed by said board of inspectors

Section 3 That all the expenditures for the support and maintenance of prisoners the repairs and improvement of said prison shall be paid from the county treasury by warrants drawn in the mode now prescribed by law on the regular appropriation for the purpose but no warrant shall be certified by the controller for any expense connected with the prison unless on vouchers approved by a majority of said board and endorsed by the president and secretary thereof and all contracts involving an expenditure of over one hundred dollars shall be publicly advertised in the newspapers authorized to do the county advertising and be given to the lowest and best bidder

Section 4 That the warden at the time of his appointment shall give bond with good and sufficient security to be fixed and approved by the board of inspectors for the faithful performance of his duty and may at any time be removed by said board for misconduct or inefficiency All deputies assistants or keepers shall also give bond if required by said board and may at any time be suspended by the warden or removed by the said board

Section 5 This bill shall not be construed to repeal any special laws relating to the management of jails or county prisons in the counties affected by this act

Section 6 That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act or any part thereof are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MANNION. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to insert an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend Section one by inserting after the words "to wit" in line 9 "the judges of the court of Quarter Sessions."
Amend by inserting after section 4, the following:
"Provided that in all counties in which the act applies where the sheriff is now acting warden or kepeer of the county, jail or prison, and has his residence therein, this act shall not take effect until the expiration of the term of office of the sheriff now so acting as jail or prison warden or keeper."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendment as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment to this bill.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amen line 2 of title "jail" to read "jails".
Line 2 of title "prison" to read "prisons".
Section 1, title should be recited again in section 1, and insert following words "which read as follows"
Section 1 page 4, line 6, omit "not".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendment as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill be prepared for final passage.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 184 on page two of today's calendar, Bills postponed for the present, entitled:

An Act providing that the appraisers' lists of mercantile licenses shall not hereafter be published.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, if this bill is going to conflict seriously with a bill introduced last week at the suggestion of the Joint Tax Commission, whose report has been laid upon the desks of each member. It provided that in addition to the publishing of the name of those paying mercantile taxes, the amount upon which the claim tax shall also be published. There has been an argument on the part of the people who have advocated the repeal of the mercantile license tax act that the thing was wholly without merit. In addition to the publishing of the names, the amount of business on which they were paying taxes being in reaching persons of responsibility and having them pay a just share of taxation. This conflicts seriously with the bill introduced at the suggestion of the Joint Tax Commission. I think that this bill does not possess the same meritorious features of the other. I ask that the House vote this one down.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, my first thought was to withdraw the motion calling it up and letting it stand for the present, if that is the sense of the House. The only purpose of this bill is to save the costs to the State to this bill to become a law It would save the State an expense in collecting the mercantile tax about $173,000. It is the only purpose of introducing this bill. With the suggestion offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, I will withdraw the calling up of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman desires to withdraw his request for the present consideration of the bill.

Mr. MORROW. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No 362 page three of today's calendar, entitled:

An Act repealing section four of an act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide for the classification of the townships of the Commonwealth with respect to their population into two classes and to prescribe the form of government for the townships of each class' approved the twenty-eighth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and nienty-nine as to townships of the first class providing for certain duties of the secretary of the board of commissioners invalidating contracts hirings purchases or orders not provided for by or in excess of appropriations providing for inspection of the records and documents by taxpayers and the method of making contracts" approved the third day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MORROW: Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER: The gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Morrow.

Mr. MORROW: Mr. Speaker, The asking for the repeal of this section I suppose needs some explanation. Under the present section of this act, Township Commissioners are not allowed to expend more than $100.00 upon repairs, or otherwise, except by contract given to the lowest and best bidders. This $100.00 includes labor and material. Whitehall Township, Lehigh County, one of the largest townships in the State, with forty miles of road to keep in repair, wishing to make these repairs itself, without using the contractor, desires that you strike out this restriction of $100 by the repeal of this section. Their reason for this is that during the past year, they made a contract in accordance with this section with the lowest and best bidder for a section of road that required repairs. Now the costs of these repairs amounted to $3,700.00 and the Commissioners contend that they could have made them for $2,-200.00. Now, why should they be compelled to pay the difference to the contractor as profit! We have in Whitehall Township a complete roadmaking outfit including crusher, roller, etc. and also the stone quarry. We are fully confident that we could do our own road work with profit to ourselves, and relief to the needy in our community by employing them at this work. For ten years prior to the passage of this section, we repaired, or rather rebuilt about one-half of our township roads without any increase in taxes. How long do you think such a condition would remain if the contractors received all of our work? Gentlemen, we can ask for no greater favor than the request in this bill. Give us the right to spend our own money as we see fit.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MORROW. Certainly, Mr. Speaker, if I can answer the question.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman, if Section 4 of this act be repealed, will there be any legislation which will compel the advertisement of contracts by first class townships.

Mr. MORROW. Mr. Speaker, I want to tell the gentleman that for ten years we contracted and built twenty miles of road and we never in that time raised one mill of taxes.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman, and ask him to answer the question: If this section is repealed will there be any legislation left requiring the advertisement of contracts by townships of the first class.

Mr. MORROW. Mr. Speaker, not in that act.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I will ask him again whether there will be any legislation left.

Mr. MORROW. Mr. Speaker, I am simply asking for the repeal of this act, and there will be no new act because section four covers all contracts over one hundred dollars. It may be in some other act passed previous to this act. That I have not looked up.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr Speaker, unless somebody in this House can state what the status of the law in reference to advertising of contracts by townships of the first class is or will be if this act be repealed, I think this House ought not to pass this bill, and I would request that the gentleman withdraw his request to call up the bill at this time.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken, and were as follows, viz:

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following motion.

The SPEAKER. The motion will be read by the Clerk for information.

Moved by John R. K. Scott, seconded by Patrick Conner, who voted in the majority, that the vote by which House Bill No. 6 file folio 155, page 1 of the calendar of Tuesday, February 11th, 1913, was defeated upon final passage, be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill for the reconsideration of the vote by which it was defeated being now before us, was disposed of last Tuesday. The motion is made because the bill that was defeated covered more than that which was meritorious. The bill was brutually drafted and had many elements which could not be supported, but there were some elements in it that some of the members wanted to support. If this motion is allowed and the bill reconsidered, and you will let me move to postpone the bill and then later have it recommitted back to the committee for the purpose of amendment, it will give many of the members an opportunity to be properly recorded upon this bill when the amendments that they are willing to support are made to it. There are a number of members who wanted to vote for the bill, but could not support it as it was drawn, and when it came up on final passage it was defeated, and the real expression of many of the members on this floor could not be shown by the vote on this bill. I hope, therefore, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, that this motion, which is merely to reconsider the vote by which the bill was defeated, will be adopted and allow the bill to come back on the calendar in proper form, and then be recommitted and amended in accordance with the expression of many of our members. I hope this motion will prevail.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I think the House fully understood when I presented this bill that I did not draft the bill. The bill was presented to me and I was sponsor for it. But before we vote on it on final passage I desire to recommit this bill for some correction and amendment, and if this motion does not pass, which I hope it does pass, I would certainly put in another bill and eliminate some of the things which are in the former bill. I hope the members of the House will reconsider this bill and pass favorably upon it and then we can recommit it for further consideration.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I regret very much that I am compelled to take issue with both my Philadelphia colleague and my Westmoreland colleague. I also regret that my honorable friend from Westmoreland is so long on his intention and so short on his memory. For the information of the House gentlemen, I quote from the gentleman from Westmoreland in his able remarks here last Tuesday, in which he says as follows, on page 236 of the Legislative Journal "This bill was darwn up after consultation with a number of coal operators in the County of Westmoreland and other counties in Western Pennsylvania, together with some of the very best legal talent available, even so far as a judge upon the bench." Now I ask the gentleman, and also all my colleagues in the House, if the gentleman had all of that skillfull preparation and had the benefit of the advice of the very judge upon the bench, how can he now say that the bill was hastily and brutally drawn? How can the gentleman deny the very statement he made to this House, and it seems to me without any further argument that they are certainly able to read, and it seems to me that the gentleman is certainly presumptious in asking for the reconsideration of this bill, when it was honestly defeated, and I hope that his motion will be defeated.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, there is no way by which any one in making an address can make quotation marks. Now I said just what the gentleman has quoted, because I was told by the real drawers of the bill that that was the fact, hence I could not say anything else, and could not mention the drawers of the bill. I was the sponsor of the bill, and I think the Chairman of the Law and Order Committee will tell you that I wanted him to recommit the bill, and I also asked the House to allow me to do that when the bill was under consideration.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogare the gentleman from Westmoreland County.

The SPEAKER. Will the Gentleman from Westmoreland County permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ULERICH. Certainly, Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman please tell the House, who did in fact draw this bill.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, is it necessary for the edification of the House that I make that statement?

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen is not required to make that statement.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I will say that I know that neither I nor any member of the House can require that statement.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, when that bill was presented to the House, that bill was presented and drawn by the Anti-Saloon League.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman please say in fact who drew the bill, and also whether a judge was interested.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, and I am not giving the name, I think that was absolutely right. It was a judge of one of the best counties in this State. However, we have some of the best judges in Westmoreland County.

Mr. ALWORTH. Mr. Speaker, I am in hearty accord with the motion to recommit or rather reconsider this bill. There were a number of things contained in its provisions that I could not support, but there were some things that I should have liked to have supported. I believe if this vote is reconsidered, and the bill is sent back to the committee and properly amended, we will have a proper bill and one that will receive the hearty support of the members of this House, and a proper measure for this House to pass.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, this motion while it is a proceeding that is possibly not a usual one, in the first six weeks of the session, the motion for the reconsideration of a vote by which a bill has failed is no new proceeding. Not only is it a courtesy usually extended to the sponsor of a bill, such as this one, but it is extended to the sponsor of every bill who comes on the floor of the House and asks that he again be allowed to submit the bill to the members for their vote,—I say, it is not only a courtesy, but in this case it is merely an act of fairness to ourselves. I cannot understand why the gentleman from Allegheny who so successfully and eloquently opposed this measure a few days ago, should now oppose a reconsideration of this bill. Many of us voted along with him to defeat this measure, not because we agreed with him in everything he said, not because we agreed with him that this bill contained no merit, but we voted with him because we thought the bill contained a great deal of demerit. When a bill prevents a man from having served at his home by the deliveries of a legitimate business his wines and liquors, then the legislation is going beyond all reason, but if we have a bill before the House to stop the liquor man to hauling with his four-team horses barrels of liquor to the miners and working men on the days on which he receives his pay, and lures his money to liquor instead of it going to the family, then we have a bill that contains merit, and one which many of us desire to support. There is no reason for the gentleman from Allegheny, or his friends, to oppose having this bill brought properly before the House, and there is no use for him quibbling with the gentleman from Westmoreland as to who has drawn the bill, whether it was drawn by the Anti-saloon League or by the paid agitators of which he speaks, or whether it is drawn by a learned judge. The bill itself is not properly drawn, and does not properly express the views of all the members of this House, and many of us here were compelled to vote against it in the manner in which it was presented while we may have wanted to vote for the meritorious portions contained in it. Now, in the sense of fair play, where is there any reason to keep this bill from being reconsidered, and then sending the bill back to the committee and having it properly amended? Then we can express our views, and the gentleman from Allegheny may possibly again lead his fight to a successful end. Why not submit it again to our sound judgment? I do not think the bill presented by the gentleman from Westmoreland should be crushed here in this manner when there are merits in it that should be properly presented to this House. I hope that there will be no such action in this House that will stop any member from asking for a reconsideration of his proposed legislation.

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I see no reason why this House should disinter a crumbling corpse which has been legally killed and officially buried. As the gentleman from Philadelphia speaks about "sound judgment" I desire to call the attention of the members of this House to the fact that this bill had its day in Court. Everyone understood its provisions. I was not present here on the day of its consideration, being absent on official business, but I followed the bill and understood the entire workings of it. I followed the press reports, and I believe that not only all of the members of this Assembly, but also all of the voters of the State of Pennsylvania understood the provisions of this bill. If the gentleman is so presumptious that he wishes to call up the bill for the purpose of amendment, let him give birth to a new bill, and while it is in its infancy, present it to the House in the proper manner.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia who spoke on this motion a few moments ago.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. John R. K. Scott, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. I will.

Mr. ALLEN. I desire to ask the gentleman whether the purpose which prompts him in this matter is that the bill should be such that peddling may be prohibited in this State?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. It is the desire to prohibit peddling to a greater extent that is prohibited under the act of 1911.

Mr. ALLEN. I desire to interrogate the gentleman further, and would ask him if the Act of 1911 is not absolutely prohibitive to peddling in all its details?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. In answer to that I would say, the Act of 1911 has not yet become effective. A few hours ago fifty-four of the peddlers were arrested in Philadelphia and are now under bail.

Mr. ALLEN. I desire to ask the gentleman if it is not a fact that many fines, in many sections of the State, have been imposed on many law-breakers under the Act of 1911 for peddling?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. I dare say there is no question but that there have been many penalties imposed, but the present penalty is not sufficient to suppress peddling.

Mr. ALLEN. I should like to ask the gentleman what the penalty is under the Act of 1911?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. I do not know what the exact penalty is under the Act of 1911.

Mr. ALLEN. If the gentleman at last acknowledges his lack of information as to the penalty, I desire to know what other penalty than that provided in the Act of 1911 could be injected in this bill?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. If the gentlemen will allow the passage of this motion, they will get the information, not only as to the penalty but also as to the elements that we desire to have stricken out, and that is why we want to send it back to the committee. It may then have full consideration, and we will have a full understanding of it when it is again brought out on the floor of the House.

Mr. ALLEN. I desire to say in relation to the motion before the House that this Bill was drawn with full understanding, no doubt, as to the provisions in that bill. A whole meal was sought by those who drew the bill. That full meal has been denied them by a positive and overwhelming vote of 134 members of this House, against 65. Having been denied the full meal, so to speak, it is now attempted on the floor of this House to resurrect this bill, as was suggested by the gentleman from Erie, and breathe into it a new life, to see what other portion of a meal may be given at the hands of this House. If you as members of this House come before this House with a measure you stand upon the merits of that measure. If you come before the House on some other measure because of the fact of the defeat of the first measure, you must stand on the merits of that measure.

We read it in the newspapers, and I presume it is true—at least the Chairman of the Committee can answer for it that bills are being introduced almost daily in the Law and Order Committee regarding the liquor traffic in this State. This bill, as I understand it, was not and is not the only bill resting in the hands of the Committee in relation to regulating the liquor laws with reference to the dealers, bottlers and wholesalers. This Committee, let me inform you—the Law and Order Committee of this House—was a committee which at least smacked very much of a committee that had the stamp of approval of the Anti-Saloon League. As a member of the Committee on Committees—and I have no hesitancy in making this statement on the floor of the House—it was demanded by a certain element that a majority of that Committee be appointed from that element. For some reason or other—I do not know why—the challenge seemed to be hurled at me. It was very heartily and rapidly acceded to at that time. And strange to say the names proposed when those who were there for the purpose of handling the legislation in regard to local option in the State of Pennsylvania, and 12 of them—No, 9—I want to be absolutely correct—were named by one man on that Committee. Whether or not————

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALLEN. I will after I have finished.

Mr. SHERN. I would like to know whether the gentleman intends to proceed further into the proceedings of the meetings of the Committee on Committees and if he had this information at the time the report of the Committee on Committees came to this House, why he did not give this information to the House so that the House could have voted down that report.

Mr. ALLEN. As I was saying I will submit to any interrogation at the conclusion of my remarks, and I still maintain that I will do so. The members of that Committee were handed in and were gladly acceded to. The other members of that Committee suggested apparently, in a haphazard manner————

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SHERN. The remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny do not pertain to the motion now under consideration. I insist upon my point of order. The remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny are not germane to the issue.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is compelled to state that from the best advice obtainable, the Chair must rule that the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny are not in order.

Mr. ALLEN. I wish to say to the members of this House that this bill was presented to the Committee on Law and Order on January 21st. That committee must be given credit for giving due consideration for the application of its duties relative to the investigation as to the legality and the merits of this bill. This bill was reported to the House on the fifth of February, 1913, as House Bill No. 6, and then went upon the Calendar for its first reading. That bill stayed upon the calendar in the regular course of legislative proceedings and was passed upon first reading. It came up before this House in the regular course and this bill was passed upon second reading, when it could have been amended if there was anything in the bill that should have been amended. In due time, it reached third reading in this House and was defeated by a vote of 134 to 65. On what? That the bill which had been introduced by the gentleman from Westmoreland and referred to the Law and Order Committee of this House, and had been debated upon by the members of this House, and explained, and when the vote on the final passage of the bill was taken there was no question raised as to the legality of the bill as drawn, and the bill failed. The sole reason is given at this time for the attempt to again bring on the floor of this House for a further consideration—the only reason given is that the bill might be amended, that some of the features of the present bill that made it so noxious to the House might be stricken out and that the bill might be remodeled. If that is the sense of the motion, what does it mean? It means that the bill comes back to this House for reconsideration. It means that that is something that perhaps if it does come back to this House, that it may meet with the approval of probably a half a dozen more members of the House. Now, I know that in the regular process of erecting a headstone for this bill it will not prevent the recast of an additional bill being introduced to the Committee which may, in some measure, meet with the approval of more members of this House, and that that bill might, in due time, be buried and resurrected, and might again be buried, and that a third bill might take its place so that a final determination might be given to such matters as may come before this House. All the members of the House will agree with me in this statement, and I defy contradiction of this point—that until the liquor legislation is passed, either favorably on the books of the laws of this State, or otherwise, that the progress of this House will be retarded. That has been the history of this House for years and years, and some of the other members on the other side of the House who are older on the floor of this House than I am, will back me up in that statement. I believe, according to the reports that have come to me and the Chairman of the Law and Order Committee can correct me if I am wrong in this statement—that there have been introduced into this committee bills that cover almost every feature of the change demanded by the Anti-Saloon League in reference to the laws that govern the liquor traffic of the State of Pennsylvania. And, if that be true, if that be true, why is it necessary to again call before the House a bill of this character, a bill that has been voted upon and defeated by this House, that we should again pass upon it. Why, in the name of High Heaven, and sound sense, should we not get rid of this legislative measure, which, until it is passed, retards all other measures or legislation that may come before this House? Why should we again vote to put upon the calendar a measure which has already been submitted to this House and defeated? Why should we again have this bill submitted to the house for reconsideration?

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT and Mr. ULERICH and were as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House bill No. 454, as follows:

An Act providing for the amendment or alteration of the charters of corporations having toll bridges across any rivers or streams in this Commonwealth whose travel by horses wagons et cetera has been diverted or taken away by the erection of free public bridges so that it may not obligatory upon said companies to maintain their bridges for such travel

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever a free public bridge has been erected and opened across a river or stream in this Commonwealth near to and accommodating the same public travel as the bridge of a private company or corporation authorized to take tolls for the passage of wagons and other vehicles foot passengers horses cattle sheep swine et cetera thus diverting or taking away such travel from such bridges and the said company shall desire to amend or alter the articles and conditions of the charter or instrument upon which said corporation is formed and established so that it may not be obligatory upon such company or corporation to maintain its bridge for travel by wagons and other vehicles foot passengers horses cattle sheep swine et cetera it shall and may be lawful for such corporation to apply to the Governor of this Commonwealth for such amendment or alteration in the manner provided in this act

Section 2 The corporation desiring such amendment or alteration shall give notice of the intention to apply therefore in two newspapers of general circulation printed in the county wherein the principal office or place of business of said corporation is located once a week for three weeks setting forth briefly the character and objects of the desired amendments or alterations and the intention to make application therefore

Section 3 The said corporation shall prepare a certificate under its corporate seal setting forth the character and objects of the proposed amendment or alteration of its charter or the instrument upon which said corporation is formed or established acknowledged by the president and secretary of said corporation before the recorder of deeds of the county wherein such corporation has its principal office or place of business which certificate together with proof of publication of notice as hereinbefore provided shall then be produced to the Governor of the Commonwealth who shall examine the same and if he find it in proper form and that such amendments or alterations are or will be lawful and beneficial and not injurious to the community he shall approve thereof and endorse his approval thereon and direct letters patent to issue in the usual form reciting the said amendments or alterations and the said certificate shall then be recorded in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and with all its endorsements shall be recorded in the office for the recording of deeds in and for the proper county where the principal office or place of business of said corporation is located and from thenceforth the same shall be deemed and taken to be a part of the charter or instrument upon which said corporation was formed or established to all intents and purposes as if the same had originally been made a part thereof And thereupon it shall not be obligatory upon such company or corporation to maintain its bridge for travel by wagons and other vehicles foot passengers horses cattle sheep swine et cetera but such company or corporation may close such bridge to such travel permanently or temporarily as may seem fit retaining however all its rights of property and franchises in such bridge and its location for all other uses and purposes whatsoever

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House bill No. 482, as follows:

An Act to provide for the holding of a Constitutional Convention the election of delegates thereto and the submission of the report thereof for the approval of the people

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That at the fall primary election to be held at the time fixed by law for the nomination of candidates to be voted for at the municipal election in November one thousand nine hundred thirteen the question of holding a convention to revise the Constitution of this Commonwealth shall be submitted to the electors of this Commonwealth which question shall be stated on the official ballots in the following form "Shall a Constitutional Convention be called" followed by the words "Yes" "No" the one above the other with instructions printed thereon that the voter will if he favors a Constitutional Convention place a cross-mark (X) after the word "Yes" if opposed to a Constitutional Convention he will place a cross-mark (X) after the word "No"

Separate ballots for this purpose shall be used at the said election and marked "Official Constitutional Convention Ballots" and one of which shall be given to each elector to whom a ballot is given for voting at the said primary

It shall be the duty of the commissioners of the respective counties to prepare and have printed the said ballots in the manner now provided for the furnishing of ballots for the said primary election

Section 2 The election on the question of holding the said Constitutional Convention shall be conducted by the regular election boards and shall be governed by the laws regulating the conduct of general and municipal elections in so far as the same are not modified by the provisions of this act or are not inconsistent with its terms provided that the result of the said election shall be separately counted returned computed canvassed tabulated and certified by the proper officers

Section 3 The Secretary of the Commonwealth as soon as he shall have received and tabulated the complete returns of said election upon the question of holding a Constitutional Convention and not later than the tenth day of October succeeding the holding of the said election shall certify the result thereof to the Governor who shall forthwith issue a proclamation declaring the result of the said election

Section 4 In addition to the ballots provided for in this act the county commissioners shall for the conduct of the said election provide such lists of voters forms blanks return sheets blank books and other supplies as they are by law required to furnish to election officers for the use at general or municipal elections Such supplies shall have printed upon them appropriate instructions and shall be in appropriate form for use at the said election

Section 5 The Secretary of the Commonwealth as soon as may be after the approval of this act shall give notice of the holding of the said election by publication in not more than two newspapers in each county of the State for one month prior to the holding of the said election and shall transmit the said notice to the sheriffs of the said counties and the commissioners who shall give notice of the holding of the said election as now provided by law for the giving of notice of the holding of primary general and municipal elections

Section 6 The expenses of holding the said election shall be paid as the expenses of holding municipal and general elections are now payable by law

Section 7 The qualifications of electors entitled to vote at the said election shall be the same as the qualifications of electors entitled to vote at the said primary election to be held on the said day Each elector shall prove his qualifications and his identity in the same manner as now required by law to entitle him to vite at the said primary

Section 8 If the result of the said election be in favor of holding the Constitutional Convention as above provided delegates thereto shall be elected at the succeeding municipal election to be held in November one thousand nine hundred and thirteen

The convention shall be composed of one hundred and sixty-five delegates three to be elected from each of the fifty Senatorial districts of this Commonwealth and fifteen delegates to be elected from the Commonwealth at large

In choosing such delegates each elector shall be entitled to vote for one district delegate and five delegates-at-large and the candidates highest in votes shall be declared elected

Section 9 Nominations for delegates to the convention shall be in all cases be made by petition

Nominating petitions for district delegates shall be signed by at least two hundred and fifty qualified electors of the proper district and shall set forth that the signers thereof are qualified electors of the district in which the candidate resides and from which he desires to be elected and that they will support the candidate whose petition they are signing No elector shall sign more than one nominating petition and in case of his signing two or more his signature shall be counted on the one first signed Nominating petitions for delegates-at-large shall be signed by at least five hundred qualified electors not more than on hundred of whom shall be residents of any one county Such petitioners shall set forth that the signers thereof are qualified electors of the Commonwealth and that they will support the candidate whose petition they are signing

No elector shall sign more than five nominating petitions for delegates-at-large In case of his signing six or more his signature shall be counted on the five first signed by him

Every signer of a nominating petition shall add his occupation and residence giving city borough village or township with street and number if any and the date of signing the petition No petition for nomination shall be circulated prior to the first day of October one thousand nine hundred and thirteen and no signature thereto shall be counted unless it shall have been affixed to such petition and bear date not earlier than October first aforesaid

Nominating petition shall be filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth at least ten days prior to the election at which delegates are to be chosen

The Secretry of the Commonwealth immediately after the last day for the filing of such petitions with him shall furnish to the county commissioners of each county a correct list of the candidates to be voted for in the respective counties for delegates as contained in such petition

The qualifications of delegates to the Constitutional Convention shall be the same as is by law prescribed for Senators in the General Assembly of this Commonwealth

Section 10 The names of the candidates for delegates to the said convention shall be printed on the official ballot to be used at the said election under the words "Delegates-at-Large to Constitutional Convention Vote for Five" and under the names shall be left blank spaces in which the elector may write the names of any persons for whom he desires to vote and the candidates for district delegate in a separate column under the words "District Delegate to Constitutional Convention Vote for One" under which shall be left out blank space in which an elector may write the name of the person for whom he desires to vote

The ballots in each county shall be printed in as many different series as there are candidates for district delegates In the first series the names of the candidates shall be arranged alphabetically In the second series the candidate first named in the first series shall be last and so on throughout the various series so that each candidate's name occupies different position in each series When the ballots are bound together the first shall be taken from the first series the next from the second and so on so that the one ballot from one series is immediately followed one from the next

In the first series the candidates for delegates-at-large shall be arranged alphabetically in the second the first shall be last and so on making the first in each proceding series the last in the next

Section 11 Returns of the election of district delegates shall be made as now provided by law in the case of the election of State Senators and of the delegates-at-large as provided by law in case of judges of the Supreme Court and the election of the said delegates shall be conducted in all respects as now provided by law for the election of other public officers

Section 12 The delegates so elected shall meet in the hall of the House of Representatives at the State Capitol in Harrisburg at twelve o'clock noon on the first Tuesday in January in the year one thousand nine hundred and fourteen with general powers of adjournment as to time

It shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to call the convention to order at the time of its assembling and to present to the delegates there assembled the several returns of the elections of the members thereto whereupon the roll of those appearing upon the face of the returns to have been elected shall be called The oath of office prescribed by the constitution for Senators in the General Assembly shall be administered to the delegates present by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and thereupon the delegates shall elect one of their number as president and such other officers and employes as they shall determine and proceed with the transaction of business

The president of the convention is hereby authorized and empowered to administer the oath of office herein required to be taken by delegates to said convention and to the officers and employes elected thereby

A majority of the whole number of delegates shall be necessary to constitute a quorum

The convention shall judge of the election and qualifications of its own members

Section 13 In case of vacancies in the membership of the convention occurring prior to subsequent to its organization delegates shall be elected to fill the same by the members of the convention Provided That any delegate elected to fill a vacancy in the representation of any Senatorial District shall be a resident of such Senatorial District

Section 14 Said convention shall have power to propose to the qualifications of this Commonwealth for their approval or rejection a new constitution or specific and particular amendments or additions to the present constitution as they may determine by a majority vote

Section 15 The new constitution or amendments or additions proposed by the convention shall be engrossed and signed by the president and chief clerk of the convention and delivered to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall enter it on the record in his office and shall publish the same in convenient form and send a copy thereto by mail to every elector in the Commonwealth

For the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this section the county commissioners of each county in the Commonwealth are hereby required to furnish to the Secretary of the Commonwealth on or before the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and fourteen a list of every qualified elector in their respective counties as shown by the voting or registry lists used at the election at which delegates were elected to said convention together with the post office address of each of said voters

Section 16 The constitution proposed by the convention shall be submitted to the qualified electors of this Commonwealth for their approval or rejection at an election to be held at such time as the convention shall prescribe Such election shall be conducted in the manner in which general and municipal elections are by law conducted The constitution shall be submitted to the electors in such manner as the convention shall direct Provided That any section in the proposed constitution relating to female suffrage the initative the referendum the recall either of officers or judicial decisions and any other sections which one-third of the members of the convention shall direct shall be separately submitted to the electors for their approval or rejection

The majority vote of the electors voting thereon shall be necessary to the adoption of the constitution proposed by the convention or any part thereof separately submitted

Section 17 The entire compensation and allowance to each delegate to the convention shall be as follows For salary fifteen hundred dollars ($1500) for mileage ten cents per mile circular not to be allowed at more than two sessions for postage stationery and contingencies one hundred dollars ($100)

An Act directing the Legislative Reference Bureau to prepare a compilation or digest of the existing general laws of this Commonwealth fixing the powers and duties of the bureau therein and making an appropriation therefor.

The preamble, first, second, third, fourth and fifth sections of the bill were read and agreed to as follows:

Whereas For almost one hundred years there has been no official compilation or digest of the laws of this Commonwealth and

Whereas Through all these years each successive session of the General Assembly has added voluminously to the general statute law and

Whereas Owing to ill-considered and hasty legislation the laws of our Commonwealth are in a state of comparative chaos and are a disgrace to a modern civilized state and

Whereas It will be of the highest value to every citizen of this Commonwealth to have our laws simplified co-ordinated classified harmonized and digested under suitable headings therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Legislative Reference Bureau is hereby directed to examine the entire general statute law of this Commonwealth and to ascertain as nearly as may be what laws and parts of laws have been repealed or which have become obsolete and cause to be prepared a compilation of the existing general laws arranged by chapters and sections under suitable topical headings It shall be also the duty of the Bureau to cause to be prepared an additional compilation wherein the existing general laws shall be simplified condensed harmonized clarified and compiled by chapters and sections under suitable topical headings

Section 2 The Bureau is authorized to employ such experts learned in the law or otherwise such clerical and stenographical and other help as the Bureau shall deem necessary in carrying out the provisions of this act The Bureau shall render a report of such work as has been done to the General Assembly at the session of one thousand nine hundred and fifteen

Section 3 The printing and binding deemed necessary by the Director in the proper performance of the duties herein imposed shall be done by the State Printer upon the order of the Superintendent of Public Printing and Binding upon a requisition of the Director of the Bureau

Section 4 The compilation provided for in this act shall be under the special direction of the assistant director of the Legislative Reference Bureau learned in the law who shall receive an addition to his regular salary the sum of one thousand dollars a year for the two years of nineteen hundred thirteen and nineteen hundred fourteen

Section 5 To carry out the purposes of this act the sum of thirty thousand ($30,000) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau

The title of the bill was read as follows:

An Act directing the Legislative Reference Bureau to prepare a compilation or digest of the existing general laws of this Commonwealth fixing the powers and duties of the bureau therein and making an appropriation therefor.

SENATE MESSAGES.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced informed that the Senate non-concurred in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the resolution from the Senate as follows, viz:

TO BROADEN SCOPE OF FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE GETTYSBURG COMMISSION.

Whereas, Certain acts and resolutions passed by the several General Assemblies and approved by their Excellencies Governors Stuart and Tener, creating a commission and clothing it with administrative powers, said commisison being known as The Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission.

Whereas, Limitations have been placed upon the former soldiers of the Civil War who should be invited as guests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania during July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th, by including only those who participated in the Battle of Gettysburg and who enlisted and served therein prior to July 4th, 1863.

Whereas, The National Government will provide sanitary tenting quarters and rations for the old soldiers of the Civil War who will be present during the aforesaid period.

Whereas, The exercises upon July 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th, upon the Battlefield of Gettysburg will probably be the most impressive ceremony the world has ever known; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House concur), That the Commission of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg be respectively and earnestly requested to broaden the scope of the provisions made for the attendance as guests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania upon that historical occasion so as to include all Union soldiers, sailors and marines of the Civil War who enlisted from Pennsylvania, also such men who served in Pennsylvania commands known as Emergency Troops, also all soldiers who served in the Confederate Army now living in Pennsylvania as citizens of this Commonwealth. A copy of this resolution, when approved, to be forwarded to the President of the Commission for consideration and action.

The SPEAKER. The amendment to the resolution in question was the amendment offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, to strike out the words "Now living in," after the words "Civil War" on the fourth line from the bottom on page 2, and inserting in lieu thereof the words "who enlisted from."

The question now is will the House adhere to or recede from its amendment.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, as expressed the other day when the amendment was offered to the resolution, there were certain gentlemen of the House who at that time did not thoroughly understand the purpose. I think perhaps that the same thought has found lodgment in the minds of the Senators. My purpose in amending the resolution at this time in the way in which it was amended was so that all soldiers who had enlisted from the State of Pennsylvania should receive the honors which are sought to be carried with this resolution. It made no difference whether they enlisted in New York companies or regiments, Ohio, Indiana, or any other State, so long as their residence upon their enlistment showed that they came from the great State of Pennsylvania. Now certain of the members of the House felt at the time the amendment was offered—and I appreciate as fully as any one that amendments offered on the spur of the moment frequently miscarry—many of the members felt that the purposes intended by the amendments were not reached by the amendments. They felt that soldiers who had enlisted, for instance, in New York regiments, although they hailed from the State of Pennsylvania, were not covered by the amendment which I had offered. I think that so far as the merits of the case are concerned, there is no question, but that when you say "Enlisted from the State of Pennsylvania" that it carried that full purpose. Now it makes no difference by this resolution as amended in this House, it makes no difference whether that soldier be now living in the far northwestern State of Oregon, or the far northeastern State of Maine, or in the most southern tier of States in the United States; it makes no difference where he hails from so long as his original enlistment shows him to have been from the State of Pennsylvania. There is no objection to the fact whether the company with which he enlisted or re-enlisted came from this great State or any other State. Now I say that the purpose of handing out glory to those who maintained the honor and glory of this great Commonwealth is in better form by handing it to those who enlisted from this State, whether in outside companies, regiments and commands, rather to those who enlisted in foreign states and in foreign regiments and companies, and who since the late unpleasantness have become residents of this State. Many of those who enlisted in their home towns in this great State and served under the provisions of that resolution and covered by that resolution, have since emigrated from their homes hundreds and thousands of miles away. Under the original resolution as drawn "now living" in every one who lives beyond the confines of the State of Pennsylvania, however great his glory, however splendid his record may be, is absolutely set aside and held for naught by the purpose of the original resolution as it was when drawn, under the words "now living in." But any one who enlisted as from this State, whether in this State or out of this State, and who now lives in the State of Pennsylvania, or beyond the confines of this State, under the amendment offered and adopted by this House, is the recipient of the glories crowned upon him by this amendment which is now not concurred in by the Senate. I feel, gentlemen of the House, that this House, in order to maintain the position and stand which I have endeavored to express briefly at this time, and on the occasion of offering this resolution, ought to stand to the amendment which we adopted, and thrust into the resolution, and ought to refuse to concur in the non-concurrence of the Senate.

I therefore move that the House adheres to its amendments.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I think that we will all agree with the gentleman from Allegheny that this resolution should include all of the soldiers who enlisted from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but it strikes me that the error has crept into this resolution by striking from the original resolution, the words, "Now residing in" when we added the words "enlisted from." I believe that both Houses are right in this proposition and that the resolution should include both expressions so as to enable all of the soldiers of the Civil War, now residing in, or enlisted from Pennsylvania, to participate in this anniversary celebration. I think that the members of the Senate in the original resolution did not take in enough territory. I think that the gentleman from Allegheny in offering the amendment has limited the resolution even more than the Senate did in its original resolution, and I believe that this resolution should include all soldiers now residing in, and those enlisting from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in order that all of the men from this State and from other States whom we are now responsible for and who are residents of this great Commonwealth, may have this, probably their last, opportunity to participate in the great anniversary growing out of the great Civil War. This is the last chance probably that we will have in any large degree to do anything for those old soldiers, and I think we ought to avail ourselves of this opportunity to care for all of them, whether they reside in the State of Pennsylvania now, or whether they enlisted from the State of Pennsylvania, to have them participate in this anniversary celebration.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I quite agree with the gentleman from Crawford in the purposes which it would be very nice to subserve by this resolution, but we are up face to face at this time with this proposition: The resolution has passed the House in the amended form. It has gone to the Senate in that amended form, in which the Senate has refused to concur, and insists upon the original form of the resolution. Now, the proposition which is before us is simply this: Shall we go back to the proposition as originally proposed by the Senate, or shall we stand by the proposition proposed by the House, because of the fact that we are now irretrievably lost? We are past the point of amendment or injecting both propositions, and we have to accept one or the other. Now which is it better to do? Is it better to look after those who since the war have moved in from the outside, having originally done nothing to uphold the honor of this great Commonwealth, but of some other State where perhaps they may be looked after by their legislative bodies; or is it better for us to look after those who enlisted from this State, and whose names should be upon the honor roll of this State? That is the proposition which we are up against now. It is one or the other. Which shall it be? I maintain that we should insist upon our amendment, and refuse to concur in the action of the Senate, and a conference committee should be appointed to work it out and report.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I just merely want to reiterate what the gentleman from Allegheny has said. If we insist upon our position it will result in a conference committee and no doubt the result of that conference committee will bring about what all of us wish.

On the question,

Will the House adhere to its amendments?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has non-concurred in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the resolution from the Senate, as follows, viz:

COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE THE SERVICE IN THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Whereas, There has recently been considerable discussion in the newspapers and elsewhere regarding the number, duties, efficiency and salaries of the officers, clerks and employes of the Senate, House of Representatives and the several departments, boards and commissions connected with the State government; and

Whereas, It is of the greatest importance that the Senators and Members of the present General Assembly should be informed as to the necessity for, also the qualifications, number and salaries of said officers, clerks and employes, so that if any changes are found necessary they may be authorized during the present session of the Legislature; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That a commission consisting of four members of the present Senate, one of whom shall be a Democrat, be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and five members of the present House of Representatives, two of whom shall be Democrats, be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, to investigate as to the necessity for, efficiency, number and salaries of the officers, clerks and employes of the Senate and House of Representatives and to make report thereof, and, if necessary, to recommend, not later than March 12, 1913, to the present General Assembly such a bill or bills as may be requisite to improve the service and remedy any defects existing under the present laws.

Such commission shall have full power to administer oaths and to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of all books and papers; to issue all necessary processes, and to exercise all the powers belonging to a joint committee of the Legislature. Such commission shall elect from its number a chairman, andthe Chief Clerk of the Senate shall assign one of the regularly elected Clerks to Committees to said Commission as its clerk.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House adhere to its amendment.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, that the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

Mr. McALEER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to call up resolution No. 21 at this time for the purpose of amendment.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent for the consideration of the resolution at this time? The Chair hears no objection and consent is granted.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

REQUESTING STATEMENT FROM CHARITABLE INSTITUTION.

Resolved, That every institution which received an appropriation of State funds for charitable purposes from the session of one thousand nine hundred and eleven, and which is again applying for an appropriation from this House shall furnish to this body, before March first, a list of all monies paid out for salaries or other remuneration in excess of seventy-five dollars per month or nine hundred dollars per year, giving name of person to whom paid, amount paid and character of services rendered, And be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this report be furnished to each member.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. McALEER. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend by substituting the words March 15, 1913 for March first, also amend by adding

And Be It Further Resolved That a committee of three be appointed by the speaker which Committee shall be empowered to demand that the information be furnished accompanied by proper affidavit.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

Mr. McALEER. Mr. Speaker, I move the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. JOHN H. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to and at 12:50 P. M. the House adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock.

upon issue framed by the Court of Common Pleas the damages shall then be ascertained as in similar cases subject to an appeal to the Superior or Supreme courts as the case may be The said court of quarter sessions may in its discretion appoint a competent stenographer to keep a faithful record of all proceedings before the viewers and to furnish a full copy of his notes to be attached to and form a part of the record And the said stenographer shall be allowed the same compensation as that paid in their resepctive county to court stenographers and each viewer shall be allowed the sum of two dollars and fifty cents for each day necessarily employed which together with the compensation allowed the said stenographer shall be taxed as part of the costs of the proceeding and be paid as hereinafter provided Immediately upon agreement reached or upon completion of any court proceedings and acceptance of the appraisement or verdict by the Commissioner the damages so determined or awarded shall be paid by the Commonwealth together with the costs and expense of the proceedings in condemnation and the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof shall become a State highway or part thereof free from tolls Provided That if the amount of damages as finally awarded shall be deemed excessive by the State Highway Commissioner he may refuse to accept the appraisement or verdict and may then omit said turnpike or toll-road or part thereof from the aforesaid route of State highway and all court costs and costs of jury proceedings shall thereupon be paid by the State Highway Department and by necessary divergence therefrom he may select and adopt the next best and most suitable and conveneient route or road in order to connect up and complete a continuous State highway and thereafter such diverged route or road shall be taken and remain and be as much a part of the State highways of the Commonwealth as though otherwise particularly described in this act Provided further That at any time during the proceedings in condemnation after the filing of the original petition of the State Highway Commissioner the said State Highway Commissioner with the consent and approval of the Governor may after ten days' written otice to the owner or owners of said turnpike toll-road or highway present to the said court of quarter sessions of the proper county a declaration of his intention to immediately enter upon and take the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof and to pay or cause to be paid to the said owner or owners such amount of damages as shall be assessed in the manner provided for by this act and all costs and expenses of the said proceedings which declaration shall contain certificate of the State Highway Commissioner that sufficient funds to pay all possible damages costs and expenses of said proceedings have been appropriated by the Legislature and are available for this specific purpose and upon presentation of said declaration the said court shall mark the same filed of record in said proceedings whereupon the funds in the hands of the State Highway Commissioner or in the State Treasury and specifically appropriated to the use of the State Highway Commissioner shall be pledged and deemed as security for all damages done or suffered or which shall accure by reason of the taking of said turnpike toll road or part thereof and the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof shall immediately become a State Highway or part thereof free from tolls and the same may then be improved and maintained by the State Highway Commissioner in the manner provided by this act and upon completion of the proceedings in condemnation the State Highway Commissioner shall accept the appraisement and verdict and the damages so determined or awarded shall be paid by the Commonwealth together with the costs and expenses and in case the said damages and costs and expenses are not paid within thirty days from final adjudication and judgment thereon the owner or owners of said turnpike toll-road or highway may enforce the payment of the same by writ of mandamus which shall be issued by the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which the seat of government is or may be located and shall be proceeded in as provided by law And provided further That where any existing turnpike or toll-roads or parts thereof owned by turnpike companies or private corporations shall be or form any part of any State highway hereinbefore designated described or defined the same are not hereby immediately taken over for improvement or repair but the purchase thereof shall be deferred by the State Highway Commissioner and the same shall remain and be operated and controlled by the owners thereof as heretofore until such time as the work of improvement of all other State highways and parts or portions thereof shall have been completed And provided further If in the judgment of the State Highway Commissioner local or special conditions of any of said turnpikes or toll-roads or any part or parts thereof are such as tend to interfere with or inconvenience travel thereon and shall sooner require the purchase improvement and control thereof by the State then upon the approval of the Governor such turnpike or turnpikes toll-road or toll-roads or part or parts thereof so affected by such local or special conditions shall be taken over in accordance with the provisions of this act

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

BILL INTRODUCED.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to read a bill in place at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SNYDER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 407, entitled:

An Act amending sections 11, 12 and 13 of an Act of Assembly, entitled "An act relating to county rates and levies and township rates and levies," approved April 15th, 1834, and amended by an act, entitled "An act amending sections 11, 12 and 13 of an Act of Assembly, entitled 'An act relating to county rates and levies and township rates and levies,' approved April 15th, 1834," approved the 8th day of May, A. D. 1901.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SNYDER from the Committee on Judiciary Special, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 215, entitled:

An Act to authorize any borough now incorporated or that may hereafter be incorporated, to purchase electricity from any corporation, individual partnership, or any persons manufacturing electricity for commercial purposes, and for the use of the inhabitants of said borough, and for said purpose to erect apparatus, and to pass ordinances regulating the same, and making valid the acts of any borough which has heretofore received the sanction of said borough or boroughs, or incurred any indebtedness thereby, in accordance with the provisions of this act.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows and agreed to.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1913.

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That when the Senate adjourns this week it shall reconvene on Monday evening, February 24, at nine o'clock, and when the House adjourns this week it shall reconvene the same date at eight o'clock; also when the Senate adjourns next week it shall reconvene not later than Monday evening, March 10, at nine o'clock, and when the House adjourns next week it shall reconvene on Wednesday evening, March 5 at eight o'clock.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE INSISTS ON AMENDMENTS TO CONCURRENT RESOLUTION APPOINTING COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE AS TO THE NECESSITY FOR EFFICIENCY, NUMBER AND SALARIES OF THE OFFICERS, CLERKS AND EMPLOYES OF THE SENATE, HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, AND THE SEVERAL DEPARTMENTS, BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS CONNECTED WITH THE STATE GOVERNMENT RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS.

He also laid before the Senate communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House of Representatives insists on the amendments made by the House of Representatives and nonconcurred in by the Senate to the following resolution:

In the Senate, February 21, 1913.

Whereas, There has recently been considerable discussion in the newspapers and elsewhere regarding the number, duties, efficiency and salaries of the officers, clerks and employes of the Senate, House of Representatives and the several departments, boards and commissions connected with the State government; and

Whereas, It is of the greatest importance that the Senators and Members of the present General Assembly should be informed as to the necessity for, also the qualifications, number and salaries of said officers, clerks and employes, so that if any charges are found necessary there may be authorized during the present session of the Legislature; therefore,

Be it resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That a commission consisting of four members of the present Senate, one of whom shall be a Democrat, be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate, and five members of the present House of Reperesentatives, one of whom shall be a Democrat, be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Reperesentatives, to investigate as to the necessity for, efficiency, number and salaries of the officers, clerks and employes of the Senate, House of Representatives and the several departments, boards and commissions connected with the State government, and to make report thereof and, if necessary, to recommend not later than April 1, 1913, to the present General Assembly such a bill or bills as may be requisite to improve the service and remedy any defects existing under the present laws.

Such a commission shall have full power to administer oaths and to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of all books and papers; to issue all necessary processes, and to exercise all the powers belonging to a joint committee of the Legislature. Such commission shall elect from its number a chairman, and shall have power to select not more than one clerk and one stenographer the salaries of whom, as well as any other expenses of said commission, shall be provided for in the General Appropriation Bill of 1913.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I move that the Senate insists on its nonconcurrence in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the resolution just read and that a committee of conference be appointed to confer with a similar committee of the House, (if the House shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said resolution.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That Messrs. Crow, Kurtz and Sones be said committee on the part of the Senate, and that the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE INSISTS ON AMENDMENTS TO CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE COMMISSION OF THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG TO PROVIDE FOR ADDITIONAL GUESTS OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA RETURN WITH AMENDMENT.

He also laid before the Senate communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House of Representatives insists on the amendments made by the House of Representatives and nonconcurred in by the Senate to the following resolution:

In the Senate, February 4, 1913.

Whereas, Certain acts and resolution passed by the several General Assemblies and approved by their Excellencies Governors Stuart and Tener creating a commission and clothing it with administrative powers, said commission being known as The Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission.

Whereas, Limitations have been placed upon the former soldiers of the Civil war who should be invited as guests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania during July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th by including only those who participated in the Battle of Gettysburg and who enlisted and served therein prior to July 4th, 1863.

Whereas, The National Government will provide sanitary tenting quarters and rations for the old soldiers of the Civil War who will be present during the aforesaid period.

Whereas, The exercises upon July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th, upon the Battlefield of Gettysburg will probably be the most impressive ceremony the world has ever known.

Therefore Be it Resolved, (if the House concur) That the Commission of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg be respectively and earnestly requested to broaden the scope of the provisions made for the attendance as guests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania upon that historical occasion so as to include all Union soldiers, sailors and marines of the Civil War now living in Pennsylvania, also such men who served in Pennsylvania commands known as Emergency Troops, also all soldiers who served in the Confederate Army now living in Pennsylvania as citizens of the Commonwealth A copy of this resolution when approved to be forwarded to the President of the Commission for consideration and action.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE.

Mr. SHEATZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate insists on its nonconcurrence in the amendment made by the House of Representatives to the resolution just read and that a committee of conference be appointed to confer with a similar committee of the House, (if the House shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said resolution.

Mr. HOKE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That Messrs. Sheatz, Alexander and Jarrett be said committee on the part of the Senate, and that the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE.

He also laid before the Senate bills of the House of Representatives for concurrence as follows:

House Bill No. 39 (Senate Bill No. 408), entitled:

An Act regulating the use of bottles and other utensils for milk or cream and providing a penalty for violation of this act

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

House Bill No. 454 (Senate Bill No. 409), entitled:

An Act providing for the amendment or alteration of the charters of corporations having toll bridges across any rivers or streams in this Commonwealth whose travel by horses wagons et cetera has been diverted or taken away by the erection of free public bridges so that it may not be obligatory upon said companies to maintain their bridges or such travel

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

BILL SIGNED.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct the title was publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 73, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the trustees of the Homeopathic State Hospital for the Insane to cover deficiency in maintenance and equipment of said hospital

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

BILL INTRODUCED.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to read a bill in place at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 410, entitled:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, February 19th, 1913.

The House met at ten o'clock.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. J. E. Wright, offered the following prayer:

O God, with this new day, we come to Thee with renewal of our purposes for fidelity, conscientiousness and earnest endeavor in the work which is assigned us. There are great questions submitted to us with every session of this Assembly, questions affecting in many ways the material, intelligence and moral needs of great numbers of people. It is a great dignity and honor that is thrust upon us and a great responsibility to consider these questions in behalf of the people. Let us so regard it. Let us not be careless or indifferent, but let us be serious and thoughtful, earnestly endeavoring above all else to know the truth, for it is only as we know the truth that we shall be made free from all narrowness and free from prejudice and bigotry, and free from any other thing which may in any way hinder an intelligent judgment. Wilt Thou, Our Father, enlighten us with Thy Spirit and quicken us by Thy Grace and so stimulate us that we may in all ways and in all things honor God and serve the people, and Thy name shall have the praise of it for evermore. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Kitts, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journad approved.

APPOINTMENTS BY SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to announce to the House that upon Resolution No. 21 requesting statement from charitable institutions, introduced by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McAleer, and adopted yesterday, which required the Chair to appoint a Committee of three members of the House, the Chair appoints the following members: The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McAleer, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Carter, and the gentleman from Venango, Mr. Glenn.

Also upon Resolution No. 10 investigation of persons holding more than one position, introduced by the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Geiser and adopted Monday evening, requiring the Chair to appoint a committee of five, two of whom shall be Democrats, the Chair appoints the following members: the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Geiser, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney, the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. Walton, the gentleman from Warren, Mr. DeFrees, and the gentleman from Columbia, Mr. Charles A. Shaffer.

RESOLUTION.

AMENDING RULE NO. 37.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer at this time a resolution from the Committee on Rules.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the resolution as follows:

Resolved, That Rule 37 be amended by adding thereto the following sentence: "Such a bill shall not be printed and placed upon the files on the desks of the members until it has been placed on the calendar," so that said rule shall read as follows:

"The recommendation by a committee that a bill be negatived shall not affect its consideration by the House, but the words "Negative Recommendation" shall be printed conspicuously on a line above the title of the bill, but such bill shall not be placed upon the calendar except by a vote of sixty members; but if such motion be negatived once it shall not be renewed. Such a bill shall not be printed and placed upon the files on the desks of the members until it has been placed on the calendar."

F. C. EHRHART,
Chairman.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the adoption of the resolution?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say one word in the way of explanation to the House. The only purpose in this is to cut out some unnecessary printing, and allow some things that are necessary to be finished. Heretofore all bills which have been reported out from a Committee with either an affirmative or a negative recommendation have been placed upon the light calendar, which is unnecessary. All members know, that under the rule, bills which are either negatively or affirmatively reported by the Committee appear on the pink calendar, so the printing of the bill is unnecessary unless by a vote of the House the bill is placed on the calendar notwithstanding the negative report, when it will be necessary to print the bill. It is to cut out the unnecessary printing that this amendment is offered.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the adoption of the Resolution?

It was agreed to.

RESOLUTION FIXING TIME LIMIT FOR INTRODUCING BILLS.

Mr. GEORGE A. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to offer a resolution from the Committee on Rules.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The resolution was then read by the clerk as follows:

Resolved, That March 17, 1913, be and the same is hereby fixed as the last day for the introduction of bills in the House.

F. C. EHRHARDT,
Chairman.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the adoption of the resolution?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of the House to the fact that some members of the House are probably in the same position that I am. The law requires that any bill to repeal a law must be advertised for thirty days previous to the introduction of the bill. Probably there are other members in the same situation, and I think that the introduction of bills of that character should not be barred out. I would like to have this resolution amended so as to permit bills of that character to still be introduced. It will not be an increase of legislation, but will wipe out some of the legislation now on the statute books.

Mr. NORTH. With reference to the remark of the gentleman from Delaware County, thirty days are required to advertise a repeal of local law. My understanding of the matter is that it must be thirty days prior to the beginning of the legislature.

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the gentleman from Delaware, for only last week while I was at home some of my constituents called my attention to the special law concerning Erie County which they had taken steps to have repealed, and they had made arrangements for the proper advertisement. I am in favor of amending the resolution so that some exceptions may be made relative to the repealing of special laws.

The SPEAKER. The Chair offers the following amendment to the resolution which will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Resolved, That March the 17th, 1913, by and the same is hereby fixed as the last day for the introduction of bills in the House, except local bills requiring advertisement.

The amendment was then agreed to.

The resolution as amended was then adopted.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE.

Mr. RONEY asked and obtained leave of absense for Mr. Walsh for the remainder of the week.

The SPEAKER asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. De Frees for the remainder of the week.

Mr. BLELOCH asked and obtained leave of absence for himself for the remainder of the week.

Mr. J. H. WILSON asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. Peachey for the remainder of the week.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. RUNK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. RUNK. In the Legislative Journal, page 295, House Bill 454, I am recorded as having voted Nay, when I certainly ought to be recorded as having voted Yea.

The SPEAKER. The correction will be noted in the Journal of the House.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a resolution.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The resolution was read as follows:

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it shall reconvene on Monday evening, February twenty-fourth, at nine o'clock, and when the House adpourns this week it shall reconvene on the same date, at eight o'clock; also, when the Senate adjourns next week it shall reconvene not later than Monday evening, March tenth, at nine o'clock, and when the House adjourns next week it shall reconvene on Wednesday evening, March fifth, at eight o'clock.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I presume that the purpose of this resolution is apparent to all the members of the House. It is the form which we have taken to request that this House permit us to attend the inauguration of the next President of the United States. It provides for adjournment to Wednesday of the following week instead of to Monday as is the custom of the House. I trust the gentlemen of the House will accord to us this opportunity to be absent from the House without missing any of the entertaining deliberations thereof.

Mr. HORACE B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, under the resolution this House would only lose two days session, at any rate, during that time. We can work on our committees here. I hope every member of this House, whatever his party, will accede to the resolution offered by the Democrats, and give them a chance to see their President inaugurated on March 4th.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

It was unanimously agreed to.

Ordered, that the Clerk transmit the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up resolution No. 20.

STANDING COMMITTEES SHALL GIVE NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE OF HEARINGS.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The resolution was twice read as follows:

Resolved, That all standing committees shall notify the sponsor or introducers of matters referred to them of the time and place the same will be considered before the respective committees take action thereof.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. R. J BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say that I think, for the purpose of assisting the committees in transacting their business that this resolution should be amended before the same is passed. There is no necessity for the committee calling for the sponsor of a bill if the committee approves of the bill. Under this resolution the bill cannot be sent out without the presence of the sponsor.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman is offering an amendment after he has seconded my motion to adopt the resolution.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware was understood by the Chair to second the motion so that the motion may be put before the House.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. I will withdraw my second if the gentleman from Philadelphia desires.

The SPEAKER. The motion has been put and the resolution is before the House.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I think the resolution should be amended to read "the same will be considered before the respective committees negative the bill." That certainly would be all the gentlemen desire. I think I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia who introduced this resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Bleloch permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask would it be satisfactory to him to accept this amendment, and if not, for what reason.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, the action of any committee on any measure is very frequently hastily drawn, and when once that action or the sentiment is expressed with the committee it is hard to secure a reversal of that opinion. Therefore, in my judgment, it is necessary that the sponsor or an advocate of any measure should be heard on this proposition before the committee attempt to take any action whatsoever. Therefore I trust that the gentleman from Delaware will not insist in his introducing his amendment at this time, or at any other time.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment to the resolution.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read as follows:

Amend the fourth line by striking out the words "Take action thereof" and inserting the words "negative said matter or bill"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution as amended?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 132, as follows:

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act providing for the better management of the jails or county prisons in the several counties of this Commonwealth having over one hundred and fifty thousand and less than two hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants each by creating in such counties a board to be known by the name and style of Inspectors of the Jail or County Prison with authority to appoint a warden of such prison and by vesting in said board and the officers appointed by it the safe-keeping discipline and employment of prisoners and the government and management of said jails or county prisons. Approved the twenty-seventh day of April Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That "An Act providing for the better management of the jails or county prisons in the several counties of this Commonwealth having over one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants and less than two hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants each by creating in such counties a board to be known by the name and style of Inspectors of the jail or county prison with the authority to appoint a warden of such prison and by vesting in said board and the officers appointed by it the safe-keeping discipline and employment of prisoners and the government and management of said jails or county prisons approved the twenty-seventh day of April Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine," which reads as follows:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the person now holding the following offices and their successors in all counties in this Commonwealth containing over one hundred and fifty thousand and less than two hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants shall compose a board to be known by the name and style of Inspectors of the jail or county prison to wit: The judges of the court of quarter sessions the district attorney the sheriff the controller and commissioners of each of said counties in which board and the officers appointed by it the safe-keeping discipline and employment of prisoners and the government and management of said institution shall be exclusively vested and that the present responsibility of the sheriff of each of said counties in regard to the safe-keeping of the prisoners shall cease and determine on their committal to said prison and such sheriff shall no longer be furnished a residence in said institution.

Section 2. That within thirty days after this act shall become effective the above named board shall meet and organize by the election of a president and secretary A majority of the members of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business and all actions of said board must be by the approval of a majority of all the members of said board The board shall meet monthly or oftener if required and keep regular minutes of their proceedings in a book to be filed with the financial records of each of said counties and shall make such rules and regulations for the government and management of the prison and the safe-keeping discipline and employment of the prisoners as may be deemed necessary The board shall appoint a warden of the prison who shall reside in the building The warden subject to the approval of the board may appoint such deputy or deputies assistant or assistants keeper or keepers as may be required in taking care of the prison the number and salary of the same to be fixed by said board of inspectors.

Section 3. That all the expenditures required for the support and maintenance of prisoners the repairs and improvement of said prison shall be paid from the county treasury by warrants drawn in the mode now prescribed by law on the regular appropriation for the purpose but no warrant shall be certified by the controller for any expense connected with the prison unless on vouchers approved by a majority of said board and endorsed by the president and secretary thereof and all contracts involving an expenditure of over one hundred dollars shall be publicly advertised in the newspapers authorized to do the county advertising and be given to the lowest and best bidder.

Section 4. That the warden at the time of his appointment shall give bond with good and sufficient security to be fixed and approved by the board of inspectors for the faithful performance of his duty and may at any time be removed by said board for misconduct or inefficiency All deputies assistants or keepers shall also give bond if required by said board and may at any time be suspended by the warden or removed by the said board.

Section 5. Provided that in all counties to which this act applies where the sheriff is now the acting warden or keeper of the county jail or prison and has his residence therein this act shall not take effect until the expiration of the term of office of the sheriff now so acting as jail or prison warden or keeper.

Section 6. This bill shall not be construed to repeal any special laws relating to the management of jails or county prisons in the counties affected by this act be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same. That the persons now holding the following offices and their successors in all counties in this Commonwealth containing over one hundred and fifty thousand and less than three hundred and twenty-five thousand inhabitants shall compose a board to be known by the name and style of inspectors of the jail or county prison to wit: The judges of the court of quarter sessions the sheriff the controller and the commissioners of each of said counties in which board and the officers appointed by it the safe-keeping discipline and employment of prisoners and the government and management of said institution shall be exclusively vested and that the present responsibility of the sheriff of each of said counties in regard to the safe-keeping of the prisoners shall cease and determine on their committal to said prison and such sheriff shall no longer be furnished a residence in said institution.

Section 2. That within thirty days after this act shall become effective the above named board shall meet and organize by the election of a president and secretary A majority of the members of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business and all actions of said board must be by the approval of a majority of all the members of said board The board shall meet monthly or oftener if required and keep regular minutes of their proceedings in a book to be filed with the financial records of each of said counties and shall make such rules and regulations for the government and management of the prison and the safe-keeping discipline and employment of the prisoners as may be deemed necessary The board shall appoint a warden of the prison who shall reside in the building The warden subject to the approval of the board may appoint such deputy or deputies assistant or assistants keeper or keepers as may be required in taking care of the prison the number and salary of the same to be fixed by said board of inspectors.

Section 3. That all the expenditures required for the support and maintenance of prisoners the repairs and improvement of said prison shall be paid from the county treasury by warrants drawn in the mode now prescribed by law on the regular appropriation for the purpose but no warrant shall be certified by the controller for any expense connected with the prison unless on vouchers approved by a majority of said board and endorsed by the president and secretary thereof and all contracts involving an expenditure of over one hundred dollars shall be publicly advertised in the newspapers authorized to do the county advertising and be given to the lowest and best bidder.

Section 4. That the warden at the time of his appointment shall give bond with good and sufficient security to be fixed and approved by the board of inspectors for the faithful performance of his duty and may at any time be removed by said board for misconduct or inefficiency All deputies assistants or keepers shall also give bond if required by said board and may at any time be suspended by the warden or removed by the said board. Provided, That in all counties in which this act applies where the Sheriff is now acting warden or keeper of the county jail or prison and has his residence therein This act shall not take effect until the expiration of the term of office of the sheriff now so acting as jail or prison warden or keeper.

Section 5. This bill shall not be construed to repeal any special laws relating to the management of jails or county prisons in the counties affected by this act.

Section 6. That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act or any part thereof are hereby repealed.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, I have been asked by a number of gentlemen to explain this bill. This bill merely changes the population, places Lackawanna County back where she was before the census of 1910, giving our county a prison bill. We are now working under the Sheriff's act, and as this bill affects a few other counties, I wish to state to their Representatives that this bill merely changes the population and increases it to 325,000.

Mr. MANNION. Mr. Speaker, I presume it is only right to stand by my amendment. The former board existing previous to the introduction of this bill by my friend Davis comprised nine members, the three judges, district attorney, three county commissioners, the controller and the sheriff. If the bill should have passed under conditions that existed previous to the approval of the amendment the board would comprise simply four members, the controller, the two Republican members of the board of county commissioners, and the one Democratic member of the board of county commissioners. Now we take it as an injustice to the people of our county to pass a bill on such conditions without accepting the amendments that were offered. Now, as I understand the amendments have been incorporated in the bill I trust it will pass as amended.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 587, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act of March thirtieth one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws twenty-eight) entitled "An Act to provide for the payment by the proper county of witnesses committed and held in default of bail to appear and testify on behalf of the Commonwealth."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, just one brief word of explanation as to this bill. The Act of 1911, providing for the payment by the proper county of persons committed as witnesses to appear at the trial of the case in behalf of the Commonwealth, omitted to include the word "coroner", and it happens that the coroner, in the large majority of cases, is the one who holds the men desired by the Commonwealth as witnesses. I have added to the act of 1911, simply the word "coroner" and I hope the bill will receive the support of the members.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER.

The Speaker announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both houses of the General Assembly, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL NO. 73.

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of the Homeopathic State Hospital for the Insane to cover deficiency in maintenance and equipment of said hospiital

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER in the presence of the House signed the same.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 143, entitled:

An Act to amend section eighteen of an act approved the twenty-eighth day of April one thousand eight hundred ninety-nine entitled "An act to provide for the classification of the townships of the Commonwealth with respect to their population into two classes and to prescribe the form of government for township of each class

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. I would like to say to the House that there are some doubts as to whether a township treasurer can succeed himself where he is filling the unexpired term. This bill is introduced simply for the purpose of clarifying that proposition, which is indefinite in the old act.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 276, entitled:

An Act regulating the deposit of county funds.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, while I am in sympathy with the purposes of this bill, I am not clear in regard to certain features, and in order that I may be set right I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Venango.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Venango permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WHITMAN. I will.

Mr. WILLIAMS. I would like to ask the gentleman what provision is made for designating the county depositories when two or more banks make the same bid?

Mr. WHITMAN. They have the authority to reject any or all bids.

Mr. WILLIAMS. It is true that they have that authority but suppose that the two banks again would make the same bid?

Mr. WHITMAN. I think they would have the option of designating which bank they would desire.

Mr. WILLIAMS. The bill does not say so. There is another feature that I should like to have explained. Who is to determine the actual amount necessary to meet the current expenses of the county?

Mr. WHITMAN. The county commissioners. They are the men who expend the money.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. WILLIAMS. I think that the bill is defective in these two features, and with the consent of the gentleman from Venango,—I would not care to do it without his consent,—I move that the bill be referred back to the committee for amendment to cure these two defects.

Mr. WHITMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HESS. I would call the attention of the House to also of the members of the committee to another feature of the bill that I think is defective inasmuch as it weakens the security that the county receives for the county funds. In the last section, I notice that it makes a provision that the county treasurer shall not be held responsible or liable because of any insolvency of any of the banks in which the county funds are deposited. I take it that that would mean that the treasurer, or the treasurer's bond would not be held responsible, or liable. It certainly weakens the security of the county and I think that it should be amended in that particular.

Mr. HORACE B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I see no reason why the county treasurer should not be held responsible for funds entrusted to his care.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point or order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SHERN. My point of order is that there is nothing before the House except the motion to recommit.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's point of order is well taken.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 245, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Board of Censors of moving pictures.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House, I think perhaps I can save a little time by saying just a few words on this bill. At the last session of the Legislature an act was passed creating a board of censors for moving picture films, stereoptican views, etc. and making a provision for the appointment for a chief censor and assistant censor at the wage, as I recall it, of $1500.00 for the chief, and $1200.00 for the assistant censor. Inadvertantly there was no item included in the general appropriation bill for the payment of this, and by omitting that the department was never put in force for the reason that there was no funds out of which to pay them. This appropriation is asked for as suggested in the message of the Governor in order to make this department effective. Some $7,500.00 will carry the department for all two years, and the department will be a revenue maker.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 98, as follows:

An Act amending section thirty of an act entitled "An act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections" approved the tenth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three as amended by the Act of Assembly approved the twenty-ninth day of April Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and three by providing punishment for certain offenses committed in regard to violating the secrecy of voting and in regard to giving or receiving assistance in marking ballots

"Section 30 A voter who shall allow his ballot to be seen by any person with the apparent intention of letting it be known how he is about to vote or shall cast or attempt to cast any other than the official ballot which has been given him by the proper election officer or shall falsely declare to a judge of election that by reason of any disability he is unable to mark his ballot and on that account desires assistance in marking it or shall willfully violate any other provision of this act or any person who shall interfere with any voter when inside said enclosed space or when marking his ballot or who shall endeavor to induce any voter before depositing his ballot to show how he marks or has marked his ballot or any helper who shall attempt to influence the vote of the voter whom he is assisting or who shall mark a ballot in any other way than that requested by the voter whom he is assisting or who shall disclose to any one the contents of any ballot which has been marked with his help except when required so to do in any legal proceedings shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars or to undergo an imprisonment for not more than three months or both at the discretion of the court" be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 30 An voter who shall cast or attempt to cast any other than the official ballot which has been given him by the proper election officer or who without having made the affidavit provided by law that he is physically unable to mark his ballot shall permit another to accompany him into the voting compartment or permit another person to mark his ballot for him or who shall mark his ballot while another is present in the compartment with him or who shall make a false affidavit that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot and any person who shall go into the voting compartment with another while voting or be present therein while another is voting or who shall mark the ballot of another except as provided by law or who shall interfere with any voter inside said enclosed space or when marking his ballot or any helper who shall attempt to influence the vote of the voter whom he is assisting or who shall mark a ballot in any other way than that requested by the voter whom he is assisting shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars and to undergo imprisonment for a period of not less than three months and not exceeding one year Any voter who shall allow his ballot to be seen by any person with the apparent intention of letting it be shown how he is about to vote or shall willfully violate any other provision of this act for the violation of which no penalty is specifically provided or any person who shall endeavor to induce any voter before depositing his ballot to show how he marks or has marked his ballot or any helper who shall disclose to any ballot which has been marked with his help except when required so to do in any legal proceedings shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or to undergo an imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year or both in the discretion of the Court

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman who is the sponsor of this bill to explain it to the House.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. This bill relates to an amendment of section thirty of the act of June 10, 1893, as amended by the act of the twenty-ninth of April, 1903. It provides for the punishment of offenses regarding the voting and assistance in marking ballots. It sets forth the offences on the part of the voter in the violation of any election laws with reference to secrecy in voting. It increases the penalty as was stated by myself on the discussion of the bill last week with relation to the offenses of the election laws. It increases the penalty, and in the judgment of the Legislative Committee and the Committee on Elections, who reported this bill out affirmatively, the offenses and punishments in harmony. In all of these bills there necessarily will be in the minds of the members some difference of opinion as to whether or not the penalties should be for more or fewer months. This bill undertakes to make the punishment fit the offense, and naturally there will be some difficulty as to whether or not the particular offense is sufficiently punished by the penalty described here. It also describes a number of offenses as contained in the original section. I think this will explain without reading the entire bill at this time. Of all the bills relating to election laws introduced by the Republican Legislative Committee and Executive Committee in this House, the members of this House, have shown particular interest in this one, and much interest has been manifested by the members of this House on all bills prepared by them.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, it strikes me that the explanation made by the gentleman from Schuylkill is not quite complete. It is rather unfortunate that this bill comes up at this time before the House, insofar as it relies for one of its important factors on House Bill 130, which is on page 6 of today's calendar and is not yet reached. The gentleman from Schuylkill might have informed the House that the change in this bill from the old law, in its most important factor, is the change of the disability. The amendment as prepared by him reads that "by reason of physical disability." The old act provided that by reason of any disability, and the House is placed in this position, both as to this bill and the bills that have already been passed: that if bill 130 is not passed by this House and this act now under consideration is, we will have any number of arrests throughout the State of Pennsylvania, and we will be called upon to go to the Supreme Court to ge an interpretation of what is meant by "physical disability." Now, remember gentlemen of the House, the old law or act applies to any disability. The act under consideration as amended provides for physical disability. Now, it is true that if bill 130 becomes a law that we will then understand what is meant by physical disability but the act under consideration does not explain what is meant by that term, and it may have to be interpreted by the Courts. We will have a constant grinding and it is a pity that the bill comes up at this time. Bill 130 should undoubtedly come up before the House first.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I would suggest to the gentleman from Schuylkill that he permit the bill to be postponed for further consideration, until after the other bill is reached. If bill 130 is passed then we can call up this bill, but if bill 130 is defeated, then this bill should be dropped.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia has spoken about the danger he looks forward to with reference to getting into the Supreme Court. The definition of crimes and penalties need not concern him, because if bill 130 should fail of passage these other bills would simply pass and go over to the Senate.

His position is correct with reference to the fact that I overlooked calling attention to the change in the disability. I am perfectly satisfied to have this bill postponed until Bill No. 130 is disposed of, although in order that I may not lose a day I would like to call up 130 out of order, and have Bill No. 98 retain its place if it can be called up again today.

The SPEAKER. A bill may be called up on the same day on which it has been postponed.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speakerfi then I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 456, as follows:

An Act directing the Legislative Reference Bureau to prepare a compilation or digest of the existing general laws of this Commonwealth fixing the powers and duties of the Bureau therein fixing the compensation of the assistant director and making an appropriation therefor.

Whereas, For almost one hundred years there has been no official compilation or digest of the laws of this Commonwealth and

Whereas, Through all these years each successive session of the General Assembly has added voluminously to the general statute law, and

Whereas, Owing to ill-considered and hasty legislation the laws of our Commonwealth are in a state of comparative chaos and are a disgrace to a modern civilized state, and

Whereas, It will be of the highest value to every citizen of this Commonwealth to have our laws simplified coordinated, classified, harmonized and digested under suitable headings therefore

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the Legislative Reference Bureau is hereby directed to examine the entire general statute law of this Commonwealth and to ascertain as nearly as may be what laws and parts of laws have been repealed or which have become obsolete and cause to be prepared a compilation of the existing general laws arranged by chapters and sections under suitable topical headings. It shall be also the duty of the Bureau to cause to be prepared an additional compilation wherein the existing general laws shall be simplified, condensed, harmonized, clarified and compiled by chapters and sections under suitable topical headings.

Section 2. The Bureau is authorized to employ such experts learned in the law or otherwise such clerical and stenographical and other help as the Bureau shall deem necessary in carrying out the provisions of this act. The Bureau shall render a report of such work as has been done to the General Assembly at the session of one thousand nine hundred and fifteen

Section 3. The printing and binding deemed necessary by the Director in the proper performance of the duties herein imposed shall be done by the State Printer upon the order of the Superintendent of Public Printing and Binding upon a requisition of the Director of the Bureau.

Section 4. The compilation provided for in this act shall be under the special direction of the assistant director of the Legislative Reference Bureau learned in the law who shall receive in addition to his regular salary the sum of one thousand dollars a year for the two years of nineteen hundred thirteen and nineteen hundred fourteen.

Section 5. To carry out the purposes of this act the sum of thirty thousand ($30,000) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 529, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to cover the deficiency incurred in the care treatment and maintenance of the indigent insane of the Commonwealth during the period of four years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and nine and ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SAVACOOL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Jefferson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Jefferson permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SAVACOOL. Mr. Speaker, I desire soome explanation of this bill, as I notice the deficiency is for four years from 1909 to 1913.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. the only explanation that I can give is that there was not money enough appropriated two years to cover the deficiency.

Mr. SAVACOOL. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it an appropriation of something over $500,000 has been made in the session of 1911, to cover the deficiency. Is this not a fact?

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I know nothing about that particular matter. My attention, and the attention of the Appropriation Committee was called to the fact that there was a deficiency and the matter was under the jurisdiction of the State. It was explained to our Committee that it was necessary to have this amount to meet the deficiency and the departments who have charge of these matters assured me and our Committee that it would require that amount to cover the deficiency, and they suggested that we appropriate at this time sufficient to cover the period designated in the bill.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Jefferson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Jefferson permit himself to be interrogated further.

Mr. NORTH. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know as to whether or not the gentleman can furnish a list of the deficiencies demanded by the respective institutions asking for this money, so that we might know in which institutions the deficiencies have occurred.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, at this time I cannot. Possibly we have the data in the Committee room below, but as to that I am not certain.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman as to whether or not in presenting this request to the Appropriation Committee it was presented in an itemized form showing what each institution demanded or required?

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I think it was, but I am not certain.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, it strikes me that it is only fair to this House that it should know which of the institutions are demanding and needing this amount of money, and in the light of the very meager information we have on the subject I would move that this bill be postponed until that information can be secured for us.

Mr. SAVACOOL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 530, as follows:

An Act to amend section sixty-eight of an act approved the fourteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four entitled "An act relative to the organization of the courts of justice"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section sixty-eight of an act approved the fourteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four entitled "An act relative to the organization of the courts of justice" which reads as follows

"Section 68 The judges of the several courts of record of this Commonwealth shall respectively have power to admit a competent number of persons of an honest disposition and learned in the law to practice as attorneys in their respective courts" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 68 The judges of the several courts of record of this Commonwealth shall respectively have power to admit a competent number of persons of an honest disposition and learned in the law to practice as attorneys in their respective courts in the law to practice as attorneys in their respective courts No such person shall be so admitted on and after the first day of July Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen until he or she shall have been admitted to practice as attorney in the Supreme Court of this Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GEORGE A. BALDWIN. Mr. Speatker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Section 1, line 18, by striking out the word "July" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "October."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendment as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 366, entitled:

An Act authorizing the appointment of a Commission to inquire into the subject of creating a public pension for dependent mothers; defining its powers and duties and making an appropriation for the expenses therefor.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finaly?

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House, this bill has been presented in lieu of several Mothers' Pension bils in this House, and it seems to be in the mind of the Committee that a Commission should be appointed to take this matter up and investigate during the next two years, and report to the next Legislature. I feel that legislation should be passed at this session. There is no necessity, in my opinion, for going into any investigation in this matter any further than what every member of this House now knows. The present statutes give the judges of the court of Common Pleas in the juvenile court the right to give support to destitute children by placing them in the Neighboring Houses, but it does not give them the right so that they can give any aid for keeping them in their own mother's home. The idea of the Mothers Pension bill was for the purpose of giving county or State aid so that destitute children could be raised in their mother's home instead of being compelled to be sent to some orphans asylum, or to some Neighboring Home. Now, I think that this House can well undertake the passing or defeating of one of these Mothers Pension bills, rather than wait for two years for an investigation by the commission, and probably they would not tell us a whole lot more than we know at the present time. Gentlemen, I would ask that this bill be defeated or postponed for the present until some of the Mothers Pension bills before this House are brought into this House. If this bill is passed you prevent the passage of any Mothers Pension bill at this session.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, I regret that I must take issue with the opinion of my friend from Philadelphia. I want to say by way of introduction that I feel just kindly to legislation of this sort as he does. The bill, as you will observe, merely provides for a commission, I think of not less than five nor more than nine to be appointed by the Governor for the purpose of carefully studying and investigating all the proposed schemes. You gentlemen know we have in the House not less than three and possibly five separate bills of this kind. The gentleman from Philadelphia has one and a very good one; I have the honor to have one, Mr. Peiper has one and Senator Sheatz has one and yesterday I had the pleasure of introducing another, which I think makes five. You can see that with five different bills there must be quite a difference of opinion. Besides when this matter was before the Judiciary General Committee for open hearing there seems to have developed a very grave difference of opinion among the charity workers and many people in the eastern and western ends of the State. Now the Judiciary General Committee, which is in charge of all the bills, has, in its wisdom and after careful consideration and after carefully listening to all the arguments proposed, deemed it wise in their judgment to hold up all these bills, and I may say that judgment was quite proper. I also want to call the attention of the members of the House to the fact that the act of 1907, which my friend referred to, and under which aid of this sort was to be given was considered in an opinion by Judge Kinsey of Philadelphia, in which opinion he stated that he considered legislation of this sort very meritorious but is very sorry that the strict letter of the law will not permit the application of the remedies sought for. I may say, to remedy the short coming of the law as laid down in that act, I have introduced a small amendment to the act of 1907 which amendment which will permit for experimental purposes the enforcement of the act giving aid to any worthy mother while the commission is sitting. The matter is a very important one, and one not to be hastily considered and rushed through. It ought to be carefully considered. It ought to be carefully weighed before we write it upon our statutes. I am satisfied the bill that I have, the bill of my friend McClintock, that of Mr. Piper and that of Senator Sheetz, while they are all well in themselves, are not as carefully drawn as they would be if six months' or a year's time or longer had been devoted in carefully studying and investigating the subject. In other states they are enacting similar legislation. I believe, Indiana has refused to enact while Mississippi has enacted it.

It seems to me it would be the part of wisdom for this House to be thoroughly informed by a commission such as this bill provides for which would actually study and ascertain all the facts; and because it is a matter of great importance it should not be passed over too hastily; and lightly, and I therefore ask the gentleman of the House to vote for this bill in order that a Commission may be provided for and formed which shall report back to the House after mature and careful study.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I heartily agree with both the gentlemen who have spoken on this bill, but I would not want to see this bill pass with the impression that it would prevent any legislation along the line of getting a bill to put in operation what is suggested by the mothers pension fund. To my mind this question does not need any careful investigation. It seems to me it is very plain as to what it means. We have in our county already established through our directors of the poor practically what this bill proposes to do throughout the State. We are doing it now with out county directors of the poor. My opinion is that there will not be a particle of trouble for the members of the committee to act upon the plan and get it into operation as soon as possible, because I am satisfied myself that there is no more laudable purpose than to help the mother to make a good home for the children, and give them that home training which no institution in the world can give them. I do not believe there is anything at all difficult about getting this into operation if the legislature believes a commission should be appointed to investigated this matter, and it may throw some light upon the subject that will be beneficial to the Legislature of 1915. While I am not at all opposed to it, under no circumstances, in my judgment, should this noble work be delayed, and there is no person I think has suggested that there will be legislation of this character that will be a waste of public money. The directors of the poor handle that proposition in our county. In the State, if there is any department of our government absolutely clear of suspicion of any suggestion that the public money for help of this character has been wasted I have not heard of it from any source, and there is absolutely no danger of passing legislation of this character. I believe it is a matter of vital importance to any person who gives it consideration, and I hope the bill will pass.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, some six months ago there was an agitation for a Mothers Pension in the State of Pennsylvania where it originated. The result of that agitation was the means of having presented to this House of Representatives three different bills in the interest of destitute children in this State. Until last week there appeared to be no great opposition to the Mothers Pension Bill whereby destitute children could be protected. At a public hearing here in this House a number of persons, if I am quoting right, were here representing charitable institutions who felt inclined to believe that the time had come when a commission should be appointed to investigate and find out whether or not the poor destitute children of the State needed any assistance. The only excuse they had was that they had not time to consider the measure that was brought out and that appeared on them so suddenly. After six months of advertising so suddenly and they knowing that they had experimented for a number of years, yet they had been experienced in the line of working with and taking care of destitute children in the state and then they come along to this meeting, and had a public hearing and asked that a commission be appointed by the Governor to investigate the conditions in this state with reference to destitute children. Think of it, after so many years experience taking care of destitute children then they will come here at this time and ask the destitute children of the State to wait two years more until we can get any kind of remuneration from the State. I don't feel inclined to support this bill. I feel rather inclined to be in favor of seeing it defeated. We can get the experience without a commission being appointed. Let us put a bill through giving the destitute children an appropriation from this State for any two fiscal years, we have not received enough experience in this line. Now, if we have not had enough experience directly with mothers pensions then it is time to appoint a commission and try some other remedy to try and help these destitute children. I will ask you gentlemen of the House to vote down this bill today and let the Committee on Judiciary General report out one of the bills that they have in their possession with reference to Mothers pensions. I am not desirous that my bill shall be brought out; it does not make any difference to me which one of those bills are reported to this House, but I do ask the House to vote down this bill today and request that the Committee on Judiciary General bring out and report one of our mothers pension bills and that will give us practical experience.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I hope it is understood that I want to do all I can to advocate the measures following this one, but whether this investigation will be a benefit or not is for the House to decide. It will probably help some and probably give some information to the House and following that it will be of some benefit. It cannot do any harm but it was with the distinct understanding that it shall not in any way be considered as interfering with the passage of a mothers pension bill.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker and gentleman of the House, I will ask you to pardon me for taking up the time of the House the second time, but there must be a misunderstanding between my colleagues who have just spoken and myself. I also can state as honestly and as conscientiously as any one possibly can, that the passage of this bill shall in no wise interfere in any way with the other worthy bills now in committee, but the gentleman seems to forget that the Judiciary General Committee which is composed of some very reputable lawyers have not, down to the present time, reported those bills out, notwithstanding that I have been doing everything within my honorable means to try to get the bills out. The gentlemen of the Committee, in their wisdom, feel that they ought to be held for the present. I have no complaint to make or find no fault with the Committee. The passage of this bill will simply be an aid or an assistance to the other bills now pending, and if we succeed in getting in all the other bills or getting them passed out from the Committee I shall take pleasure in advocating my own, or the others next week. My friend from Delaware County has declared that in his county they are already doing something of that kind and if they are doing something of that kind the law does not permit, because that very question came up in Philadelphia last week, and Judge Kinzey held that the law of 1903 was not applicable to such cases. The amendment I have will make the act proper and will legalize the practice existing in the county of Delaware, which practice we cannot have in Allegheny or Philadelphia Counties, so it is but fair to pass this bill upon my promise as a gentleman that it shall in no way interfere with all the other bills, and it shall be my pleasure to advocate everyone of them.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, I move that we postpone further consideration of this bill for the present.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 130, as follows:

An Act amending section twenty-six of an act entitled "An act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections" approved the tenth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three by providing for secrecy in voting for rendering assistace to voters unable to mark their ballots by reason of physical disability defining the term physical disability and imposing certain duties upon electon officers and clerks

Secton 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section twenty six of an act entitled "An act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections" approved the tenth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three which reads as follows

"Section 2 If any voter declares to the judge of election that by reason of any disability he desires assistance in the preparation of his ballot he shall be permitted by the judge of election to select a qualified voter of the election district to aid him in the preparation of his ballot such preparation being made in the voting compartment" be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 26 It is the intent of this act that secrecy in voting shall be preserved and no person other than the voter shall be present in the voting compartment while a voter is marking his ballot or shall mark his ballot for him or accompany him into the voting compartment upon any pretext whatever except under the following conditions

If a voter by reason of physical disability is unable to mark his ballot he may be accompanied into the voting compartment by such election officer or clerk as the said voter may select who shall mark his ballot for him in accordance with his directions and who shall not disclose how he marked said ballot under any circumstances except when required to do so in a judicial proceeding The term "physical disability" shall be construed to mean disability arising from blindness or such a degree of blindness as will prevent the voter from distinguishing the names printed upon the ballot or the loss of both hands or such total inability to use both hands as to incapacitate the voter from making a mark or such physical condition as to make it impossible for him to enter the voting compartment without assistance The term "physical disability" shall not be construed to mean illiteracy or inability to understand the ballot It shall be the duty of the judge of election to decide whether or not such physical disability exists and according to such decision to grant or refuse to grant a voter the right to have assistance If in the opinion of the judge of election the voter shall be entitled to receive assistance in marking his ballot he shall before receiving such assistance be required by the judge of election to make affidavit in the following form "I (name of voter) do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I am unable to mark my ballot without assistance because" and after the word "because" shall be left a blank in which shall be written the specific disability which must be a physical disability within the meaning of the act The judge of election shall reduce said oath to writing and shall together with the inspectors of election certify the same and shall return it together with other papers to such office as is by law prescribed for the return of such other papers The fact that a voter has received assistance and the name of the election officer or clerk who assisted him shall be noted against his name in the voting check list and the ballot check list.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I rather anticipated that the gentleman from Schuylkill (Mr. John Robert Jones), would give us the benefit of his knowledge and advise us in regard to some of its points. I regret that he didn't take the opportunity and I would request at this time that he do so.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I want to explain this measure as fully as I am able to. I expected attack to wait upon and I was waiting to see the nature of the attack and get some knowledge of the character of it in order that I might explain this measure as fully as possible. This is what is known as the voters assistance clause. Its history in the last session was one of great interest in this that it came out of Committe with a negative recommendation and then like many measures of a like character was born upon the House before it was throttled. It amends Section 26 of an act approved the 10th day of June 1893. Now, I will ask the attention of the members of the House to the old law. Section 26 in that Act, reads as follows:

"Section 26. If any voter declares to the judge of election that by reason of any disability he desires assistance in the preparation of his ballot he shall be permitted by the judge of election to select a qualified voter of the election district to aid him in the preparation of his ballot such preparation being made in the voting compartment."

I will now read Section 26, being the proposed amendment as it is embodied here in Bill No. 130, to Section 26 of the other act. It reads as follows, and I wish to read it in full, so there can be no misunderstanding of its terms.

Section 26. It is the intent of this act that secrecy in voting shall be preserved and no person other than the voter shall be present in the voting compartment while a voter is marking his ballot or shall mark his ballot for him or accompany him into the voting compartment upon any pretext whatever except under the following conditions:

If a voter by reason of physical disability is unable to mark his ballot he may be accompanied into the voting compartment by such election officer or clerk as the said voter may select who shall mark his ballot for him in accordance with his directions and who shall not disclose how he marked said ballot under any circumstances except when required to do so in a judicial proceedings. The term "physical disability" shall be construed to mean disability arising from blindness or such a degree of blindness as will prevent the voter from distinguishing the names printed upon the ballot or the loss of both hands or such total inability to use both hands as to incapacitate the voter from making a mark or such physical condition as to make it impossible for him to enter the voting compartment without assistance. The term "physical disability" shall not be construed to mean illiteracy or inability to understand the ballot. It shall be the duty of the judge of election to decide whether or not such physical disability exists and according to such decision to grant or refuse to grant a voter the right to have assistance. If in the opinion of the judge of election the voter shall be entitled to receive assistance in marking his ballot he shall before receiving such assistance be required by the judge of election to make affidavit in the following form. "I (name of voter) do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I am unable to mark my ballot without assistance because" and after the word "because" shall be left a blank in which shall be written the specific disability which must be a physical disability within the meaning of the act. The judge of election shall reduce said oath to writing and shall together with the inspectors of election certify the same and shall return it together with other papers to such office as is by law prescribed for the return of such other papers. The fact that a voter has received assistance and the name of the election officer or clerk who assisted him shall be noted against his name in the voting check list and the ballot check list.

Now, then, Mr. Speaker, under the old law as was decided in the Beaver County election report 227, the court declared the voter the sole judge of his own ability and he was not obliged to state its nature. In his declaration that he desired assistance in the preparation of his ballot and that he should not be met and overthrown by any proof in regard to it. I contend that that law should be changed. That it is prolific of much evil by reason of assistance to voters by those who are unscrupulous enough to dispose of their votes and sell them and that has grown into a practice which has deduced great evil. We propose to make the disability a real disability, namely, that the man is unable to mark his ballot with his hands, when he is without hands, blind, or blind to such a degree of blindness that it makes it impossible to distinguish the names upon the ballot; a physical disability, as he cannot go into any compartment apparently without the assistance of some person; such a thing as paralysis, inability to walk. Furthermore inability to understand the ballot is not a physicial disability for the reason that it is possible to prepare for a voter a sample ballot which he can take with him into the booth which is simple and which has been explained to him beforehand, and he can take with him this sample ballot and from it he can mark his real ballot and his vote. It does not disenfranchise any voter to do this, so that if a voter sees he is without any disability, if he is unable to mark his ballot for any reason, on account of being without hands, it is apparent, of course, that he needs assistance, but it limits the assistance to one who is a member of the election board, and properly so, to my mind, for the election board officers, are sworn. They take an oath, and so far as inspectors are concerned the judge can select any one of the election officers of either the minority or majority party. Let me explain this system as it has been carried on and see whether or not the present system is an evil system. I cannot quote figures from other counties, and when I state this, and give figures from one county it is not that I mean any reflection upon the particular town or city in which this assistance was given. I have here what was given to me, a statemtnt of a canvass made in the city of Philadelphia, covering 833 canvassed divisions in the gubernatorial election of 1910, and there were 40,016 voters assisted. Under the old law, which has been declared by the courts to be whosoever wanted assistance, and whether he wanted it or not, or needed it or not, no election officer had the right to refuse it. In a total of 833 canvassed divisions 40,016 voters were assisted. These are statistics prepared by the Committee of Seventy in Philadelphia. I read here the reference to a system that in a certain district they had one hundred and ninety votes, and ninety-three persons were assisted. You see to what extent this has been carried on, and there should be some limitation to this question of assistance. Now, in addition the bill provides that the voter who wants assistance, and comes in and makes his request to the election board from the fact, as I have already said, that he has no hands or no arms, is apparent, and as a matter of course, he receives assistance. Before he does so he must make an affidavit giving the reason for the demand for assistance. That must be certified to by the judge of election and both inspectors, for the reason that possible being without hands it is impossible for him to write, and, therefore, the affidavit could not be signed by him. Now, being certified to by these election officers, the fact that the voter receives assistance is marked or a record made of it, and the name of the person who assisted him, and all this record is returned, and an authorized and complete record is kept of the persons who assisted, and who received assistance. That is the principal involved and these are the contents of this bill. It is simply a question of whether or not you think that the ballot and vote should be secret and should be preserved, and that no man should have assistance who is not entitled to it.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. John Robert Jones, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to ask the gentleman to explain to this House in the event of this bill passing whether or not it would prevent a voter from voting if he was unable to read.

MR. JOHN ROBERT JONES: Mr. Speaker, I have already explained that illiteracy does not constitute physical disability within the meaning of this section. It does not constitute physical disability under the provisions of this act, nor does it permit a person to call for assistance in the marking of ballots. It is not intended by this act to disfranchise anyone, and if I thought that the measure would so act, I would not advocate its passage. But with the sample ballot, as it is now in existence, a man may take it and have it explained to him. Being in exactly the same form as the regular ballot he can make his mark in accordance with the mark that is made on the sample ballot. If in the elections, the Board of Election should permit a man to ask for assistance for the reason that he has stated that he does not understand the ballot, you are opening the doors to every kind of fraud, and gives the man an opportunity of asking for assistance when he really understands the ballot, and understands it sufficiently to mark the ballot intelligently. That is the purpose of this proposition to correct that evil.

Mr. SPEISER: Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I know of no subject on earth that has given so much attention as the question of election laws. The election laws have become so voluminous that men who are well trained in it are at a loss to understand just what is the present election law in Pennsylvania. It seems to have been the mania of certain people in this Commonwealth to continually agitate this question and try to have measures passed and did have measures passed for the purification of the ballot laws. I dare say that the introduction of the bill comes by reason of some such mania, with all due respect to my friend from Schuylkill.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. I would like to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SPEISER. If the Speaker pleases, I will have to decline at this time. I understand the information he desires to impart is that it was as a result of decision of the Republican Executive Committee, but even a collective body of men can be swayed by the same sentiment. Gentlemen of the House, let me say to you. I doubt very much whether there is an evil existing on this question of assistance in marking ballots. I made that statement in all seriousness. You gentlemen seem to question that seriousness, but I am going to try to convince you of it. I do not know about your districts, but I would not have laughed at that statement had it been made by any other member on the floor of this House, because I know that in the districts where I live, that condition does not bother us, and I deny the statement, Mr. Speaker, that that assistance is called for in the section where I live for any other reason than it is honestly done because the voter is incapaciated for marking the ballot intelligently, and is not called for because of any fraudulent desire on the part of the voter. It is unfortunate if that does not apply in the same respect to other districts, but my quarrel is not with you as individuals but with the proposition that is now before the House and presented in this bill. Statements have been made here by the gentleman from Schuylkill and statistics have been piled up, figures that I cannot comprehend. He speaks of the inspection of 833 divisions in the City of Philadelphia, and I am of the opinion that they made this inspection for the purpose of its political effect. I cannot understand why they inspected that 833 divisions and not the whole city of Philadelphia? The money probably ran out. And what evidence have we as to the truthfulness of these figures? What evidence of the existence of such condition of affairs. If there is a grievance and if by the decisions in Beaver County a change is demanded to be made by the legislative body, why should we go to the other extreme. The changes proposed here are far more dangerous than the present evil itself, if it does exist. Every man on the floor of this House knows that there are quite a number of people who cannot intelligently mark a ballot, and some of them can read and write, too. We all are acquainted with voters in our immediate neighborhood who cannot mark a ballot intelligently for one reason or another. I do not believe that in my neighborhood we have any reason to make the ballot any more pure or to eliminate fraud. I do not believe there is a man in the House to-day who means anything but the best for the elections in the State of Pennsylvania, and this is quite a jump from the present laws to the provisions introduced in this bill. In this bill it is provided that no one can ask for assistance unless physically disabled. To be physically disabled, under this act, one would have to be blind, or so nearly blind that you might as well be, or without arms or legs. It is a pity they didn't remove the other parts of the body and make sure of it. I live in a district in Philadelphia where unfortunately the great proportion of the population consists of those who came from abroad. I, myself, am the progeny, although American born, of foreign parents. If I would sit here to-day and permit this bill to go to a vote without discussion, I would prove a traitor to the entire population of my district. That district is a peaceful district, it is a home loving district, and a district in which the majority of people have been law abiding, the most law abiding people on God's green earth. We have never had any complaint in that section, and it is unfortunate if there should be any complaint in the other wards of Philadelphia. It is unfortunate but never the less it is true that we have just a little less money and just a little bit less education than some of the other districts of the city, but in our attention to our duties as citizens I venture to say that on election day though the weather may be severe and rainy and stormy the people in my district go to the polls and cast their ballot. It may be unfortunate but many of these people need assistance in the matter of marking the ballot, the complex ballot as it is to-day. When a man is given the right of franchise, there should be no act such as this passed to take it away from. There is nothing in the Constitution of the United States which provides that any man to be a citizen of these great States must be literate. If he has the right of franchise, is he not entitled to exercise that right as intelligently and properly as he can. It is no crime that a man cannot read or write. If it were, I am afraid that a great many people of the State of Pennsylvania would be incarcerated, for I have been informed that to-day there are at least three hundred and fifty thousand people in the State of Pennsylvania who are illiterate, who have not had the same opportunity of attending schools and colleges as some of the more fortunate in this State. Now, take the man who has the right to vote but who cannot read and write. The only way that he may know of matters is by discussion of it among his neighbors or in the store or on the corners. Even if he cannot read or write, I venture to say that he knows as much about conditions, probably as those who can, and why should he not have assistance when it comes to the question of marking the ballot. Are we to assume that it is with fraudulent intent that a man should ask for assistance because he cannot read or write. If under the law of a country the man is given a right to vote, and he cannot read or write, although he understands what he wants to do, why should I be kept from going into the booth with him and give him that assistance that is necessary? I would be satisfied with this bill that has been introduced if the sponsor of it will put a provision in the act allowing the election officers to accompany him, and have the right to give him that assistance in the booth. But if you prevent me from going in and helping him mark that ballot, you have taken his vote away. As I understand conditions in Philadelphia, we have some forty thousand people there who would be affected by this proposed change of the election laws. Do you not think that you increase the dangers under this act? I presume this act is only directed against those men who voted fraudulently. If they are in the habit of voting fraudulently, there is no act of the Legislature that will correct that evil, for the reason that they will obtain the end desired in some other way. They will not listen to this law any more than other laws heretofore passed. We have in this State laws which to my mind sufficiently cover the case. We have not been given a single instance of any such grievances as are here complained of. It is true we have a great many people who are not able to mark their ballots intelligently, but who are honest and would be kept away from the polls under the provisions of this act unless they should be blind, armless or legless. And there is nobody of those who are willing to so maim themselves in order that they might vote. I hope that the members of this House will vote down this proposition and allow these people to have assistance that under the circumstances is necessary.

Mr. REESE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I will try to explain some reasons for this bill being introduced. About five years ago his Honor, Judge Brumm, of Schuylkill, undertook to clean up the ballot box stuffers of Schuylkill County, and did it very successfully. We succeeded in landing seventeen in jail and some of them are still there. In this matter of fraudulent voting, I will tell you how it is worked. In our county it is not uncommon for the politicians to buy not a single vote but in bulk of from three to five hundred votes. The ballots are delivered probably on Saturday before the election and are taken to the different saloons and cigar stores and other places and there marked. The price is put up and they must deliver. In order that the promises made may be fulfilled and that they might get the money contracted for, these voters ask for assistance. It is not an uncommon thing to find one man going into the booth with as high as from sixty to seventy voters. In Schuylkill County we have quite a number of illiterate foreigners and it is harder for him to understand the ballot than for any of the rest. Outside of that class the average voter does not require assistance. As I stated, five years ago we undertook and accomplished the cleaning up of fraudulent voting. We found this condition. The man was handed his ballot and two ballots were placed together when he got his ballot going into the booth. This he received from the election board. When he came out of the booth and placed his ballot in the box he in reality voted three times. In that county in two precincts with a registry list of 1,400 we found some five hundred fraudulent votes. If this act were passed it would give us a clean ballot. In our county before we tried these cases, it became necessary to delay the cases for eight months because we found that the jury wheel had been packed on us, and it was only after months of work and canvassing the county for good men that we were placed in a position to try these two cases. There is no bill that could be passed of more importance than the bill as presented by my colleague from Schuylkill. Gentlemen of the House give us an honest ballot and vote for this bill.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I have been sitting here day after day listening to the gentlemen on the other side of the House tell us how this bill and that bill had its inception in the minds of the Republican Legislative Committee. It has come to the time when I very much dislike to go on the other side of the House because I am overcome with lonsomeness, because there is so many things there that you have borrowed from us. It makes me homesick.

Now, gentlemen this has been a proposition for which the Democratic party of this State has contended for years, and in the platfrom of that party this last season, they declared for just such a law limiting the assistance clause and the absolute incapability, and this bill will carry into effect just the contention of that platfrom. It is indeed gratifying to us to know that the Republican Legislative Committee have accepted and taken over and have joined with us at this time in an effort to secure this great reform which is so much needed, if we are to preserve the sanctity of our election. We are glad that for one session of the legislature at least all parties as parties have agreed upon a program as embodied in this bill, and I cannot comprehend how any person is here as a representative of any of the great parties, whose membership is represented in this House, can at this time, in the face of the avowed purpose of those parties, oppose this bill to which we are all committed; and it strikes me that this bill and that this disability clause should be enacted by this House by a unanimous vote, unless it is the desire and the purpose of the membership to repudiate the parties which they are representing in this hall; and I hope that the vote will be so near unanimous that the ballot box stuffer will have a warning that his day is done in this State.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I feel that this subject has been very well covered, and yet I feel that it is due myself and due my constituency, that I put on record the reasons why I propose to take the course I am about to take in voting against this measure. I say, gentlemen, that I have not the same suspicion of the illiterate citizens that our friends seem to have. I do not believe that because a man is unable to read or write he is necessarily amenable to corruption. I do not believe for one moment that the ballot box stuffers, the man who will willfully violate the election laws, the man who is at heart the basest criminal we can conceive of and who is guilty of treason, comes from this class which is going to be directly injured and deprived of their right to vote by this law. The gentleman from Schuylkill has told us about the ballot box stuffers in his county, and has spoken of the method which is employed. I was under the impression that there was a law against the distribution of ballots the day before, and I was also under the impression that there was a penalty imposed upon anyone who would give out the ballots in that way. Under this law is it not just as easy to hand out the ballots the day before and have them marked up? There is no argument in that. No man in this House stands for cleaner elections than I do. I would to God that every man who votes without any sincere motive back of his action would be deprived of his ballot, but are we going to help it by these acts? We are going to take from the men who greatly appreciate it, their franchise. I come from a district in Philadelphia, which is one of the heaviest Italian districts in the city of Philadelphia. It has been my pleasure—and I use that word because I mean it—it has been my honor to know these people, and to get close down in their hearts, and gentlemen I say to you there is not a man in this House, there is not a man in any one of your constituency who appreciates his civic rights like the Italian. He comes here to earn his living and for liberty, and to have a voice in the government. His mind is made up. He determines what he shall do and what he shall not do at election day. I think that the Italian who is amenable to corruption is the exceptional man, and any one who knows him well will agree with me. What is going to be the result of this? Our friends say it is not going to have the effect of disfranchising any one as they will still have the sample ballot. How is the illiterate man or the partially illiterate man, the man who is able to read and write, but is not able to read and write the English language, how is he going to intelligently mark a ballot such as we had in Philadelphia at our last election, where it was necessary to make seventeen marks. We have no illiteracy test in our law, and until we have I am opposed to doing by indirect legislation what should be done by direct legislation. If we want an illiteracy test, then let us put it in the law; if we do not want it, then do not let us beat around the bush and try to deprive these men of their rights.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, this amendment is known as the "prohibition of assistance to voters." The provisions is as follows:

If a voter by reason of physical disability is unable to mark his ballot he may be accompanied into the voting compartment by the Judge of the Election who shall mark his ballot for him in accordance with his directions", etc. It further prescribed that "physical disability" shall be construed to mean disability arising from blindness or such a degree of blindness as will prevent the voter from distinguishing the names printed upon the ballot, or the loss of both hands, or such total inability to use both hands as to incapacitate as to make it impossible for him to enter the voting compartment without assistance. And further it is prescribed that "physical disability" shall not be construed to mean illiteracy or inability to understand the ballot. The responsibility of deciding whether or not the voter is disabled according to the restrictions above enumerated rests with the Election Judge, and upon him is burdened the responsibility. It is offered to this House as legislation after years of agitation for the correction of an evil. It not only prevents the assistance to those not needing such aid, but it goes to the extent of at least limiting assistance to those who need it. Much can be said on both sides of the question of assistance. The uneducated party man undoubtedly has the right to register his vote correctly in favor of the candidates of such party. He has more, namely, the right to repose confidence in the leaders of his party and benefit by their assistance in guiding him to correctly register his party preference. This right on the part of the elector is protected him by the present condition of the law which allows an elector to be accompanied by a party man whom he selects, usually his party division leader, to aid him in the marking of his ballot. But, on the other hand, the voter of sufficient intelligence to comprehend the ballot has no right to solicit or have assistance thrust upon him, either for the purpose of disclosing to his party friends the way he cast his ballot or as a cloak to a fraud. The abuse of the privilege granted by the law to the uninformed elector has brought about the present proposed legislation. The means of assistance is an evil that has cloaked the coersion of the division leader and the fraud of the briber and the bribe-taker. The mind of the public is now aroused to strike down this evil, and in striking it strikes a blow that not only does away wth the fraud but carries with it a hardship to a small proportion of our electors. The temper of the people has been manifest in these last few years by the public demand that fraud in political parties must cease. This proposed legislation is the first real test of this body's intention as to the demand of the people. There can be much complaint that this proposed legislation is drastic and far-reaching. There will be complaints from the political parties that the enactment of this legislation into law will disfranchise the uneducated voter; will prevent him from expressing his voice in governmental affairs and will cause the casting of many useless ballots. But this complaint is of small moment when it is compared with the great good that will be done in the long step toward the prevention of fraud in elections and the giving to the people a free expression by their ballot. The party man who fears that he will lose the prestage of his party vote by being deprived of the right of assistance proclaims his own weakness. If the voter is intelligent enough to comprehend the ballot, and if of him the party leader complains he is deprived of the right to assist, then he merely complains of being deprived of a subtle, coersive influence by him over his voter and at the same time voices his weakness as a leader. If he complains that his uninformed voter is deprived of the right of assistance, that complaint can be met by giving to the uneducated voter a marked sample ballot from which the voter can mark his official ballot In many cases this may end in the throwing out of the ballot because it has been improperly marked, or it may be an insufficient ballot, not voting for all the candidates, which would give it but part of its full worth. This is a condition that will have to be met by the industrious party division leaders who will soon learn of the voter who has destroyed by his ballot and after a few elections these improperly cast ballots will be reduced to a minimum. But what does it do to offset this drawback as far as the illiterate voter is concerned? It prevents the party leaders from going in with that voter, it prevents him from using coersion, it prevents him from either forcing a bribe or of having a bribe solicited, it does much towards correcting the evil of corrupt party politics.

This is but one of the reforms that the great Republican Party must meet. To my mind, as a party man, instead of this legislation being destructive of party force, it is legislation that will strengthen our party.

My position on the question of this legislation and kindred legislation has not been fully understood. I do not step from my position as a Republican, I do not alter my position as being a party man. As a Republican I urge this reform. In 1906 when the public called out for the enactment of a personal registration law, many in our party thought that we were destroyed by this legislation, but we found that not only did it do away with much fraud that had been a burden upon our shoulders, but was a law that we as a party would fain have removed from the statute books. When in the same year there was enacted the present efficient civil-service laws of the cities of the first class we as a party felt that the patronage upon which our power subsisted was cut off and we would gradually sink into an inefficient, powerless, organization. But we found that the enactment of this law also lifted a great burden from the shoulders of the party. It took away from us the great horde of office-seekers, it relieved us of the great army of office-holders who were but drones when the sum was shining, helpless and useless to us, and s... when battle was upon us became an organized fighting force against us upon whom they had depended for their sustenance. The party city leader found that his real strength came from the support of his ward leader, and his ward leader found his strength rested in the division leader. The division leader found that the great majority of the office-holders who had received the patronage that was supposed to be the strength and sinew of the party was but a helpless, draining burden, useless in peace and a menace in war. The division leader is a division leader because hs is naturally a leader of men. If he gets his position from any other source, then he rests on a weak foundation. He must get his strength from his popularity among his neighbors, neither patronage or fraud will long sustain him in his power. This is the lesson taught us by the laws of 1906. Where would the Republican Party be to-day in the great city of Philadelphia if it were not for the efficiency of this same Civil-Service Act of 1906? What would be the power of the Republican Party if the present reform administration could turn a horde of hungry office-holders and office-seekers upon us?

The same condition confronts us now. We must face the legislation that prevents the division leader from going into the booth and marking his neighbor's ballot. No more, we have now reached the position of the people's demands that me must eliminate from our elections, fraud. If we are content to do this, then there is no question in the advisability of the enactment of this legislation. Is there any question that we should eliminate fraud from our party movements? There is nothing that saps the vitality and undermines the foundation of a party organization as fraud. It will give an artificial growth and a temporary strength, but the growth is but artificial and the strength is but temporary. Fraud is the plague spot of a political army; fraud is the weak point of the battle line that cannot resist attack. It is used by the short-sighted, unscrupulous division, ward or city leader in the time of peace. In the security of no antagonist he can lull himself by its means in a false position of strength; but when the opponent appears, when the eye of the public is upon him, when the light of publicity has been spread around him, his fraud is helpless and he is left in the nakedness of his weak position to sink into defeat. The division leader who on election day wins his election by intruding into the privacy of the voting compartment and forces his personality upon an indulgent voter and directs the marking of his ballot, or the division leader who by the use of money induces the voter to allow him to go into the voting compartment to mark the ballot depends upon a weak staff to be taken from him upon the appearance of an opponent who merely needs to raise his voice of protest then the leader who has not won the confidence of his voters is left helpless. There is no cowardice like the cowardice of the crook.

Why should we hesitate as a great party in a great Republican State to enact this law which will aid us in winning back our people? Why should we in the great State of Pennsylvania cater to a few thousand active party men when we can win the confidence of the vast majority of nearly eight million of her people? Why should we in the City of Philadelphia cater to the party leaders of a little over a thousand election divisions when we can win the confidence of the vast majority of more than a million and a half of people?

Pennsylvania is a Republican State. She has in her mountains and valleys stored away untold wealth of coal and ore. She has in her great breadth of farm lands the crops of many millions. She has her factories with their output of vast wealth, and all the wealth of her soil and all the wealth beneath her surface and the industries that have grown up within her borders are the result of the kindly, nourishing care of the protective policies of the Republican Party. Pennsylvania wants to be a Republican State. Pennsylvania has ever been a Republican State. The people of Pennsylvania have been demanding of her party reforms for the people. A deaf ear has been turned by our party to those demands. We have received our compensation for our indifference. We were defeated last election with the overwhelming majority of one hundred and seventy-five thousand votes. An organized, disciplined political organization was driven in its very stronghold to defeat by an unorganized, almost unnamed party. But this defeat was not the spontaneous uprising of a people following a popular idol as we have been luring ourselves into believing, it was the steady rise of the anger of the people, starting with a mild protest against the actions and the policies of our party leaders and rising from the mild protest to the fury of a storm or anger and crushing down upon us the years of pent feeling bred by the indifference of ourselves to the requests, the protests and later the demands of a people.

In 1908 this State of Pennsylvania gave to the Republican nominee for President a majority over his opponent of nearly three hunderd thousand. The 1909 session of the Legislature ignored the demands of the people for the reforms. At the fall election the people protested, not against the Republican Candidate but against the leaders of the party who had ignored the great loyal army of Republican voters. The result was that the party came to the county line of Philadelphia, defeated, and it was the 91,000 majority of Philadelphia County that saved the ticket. In 1910 the present Governor of Pennsylvania was selected by the leaders of the Republican Party without taking the public into their confidence or conferences. The result was that the Republican candidate for Governor came to the county line of Philadelphia, a defeated candidate, to Market Street of Philadelphia, a defeated candidate, and it was but the majority of the southern section of Philadelphia that gave to our present Governor his thirty thousand majority. The 1911 session of the Legislature was again heedless of the people's demands. The utilities bill was defeated, election reform legislation, this amendment now under discussion, was refused entrance upon the floor of the House. The uprising of the people after that session was not alone confined to the districts outside of Philadelphia where the party had depended for her majority when in distress, but in the borders of that very stronghold of Republicanism the protest of the people became so positive that at the fall election for Mayor the Republican Party was overthrown and ended in the election of the present reform mayor of Philadelphia.

We are now defeated in our state and in our principal city. The Republican Party at its last convention pledged the people the reforms they had so long and persistently demanded. This is one of the first of those pledges. If we fail to keep faith with the people we as a party are destroyed. This session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania will either destroy the Republican Party or will restore her back to her original glory. The following of the foolish, narrow leadership of any of our leaders to defeat is not true Republicanism. Those of us who pride ourselves in our party must take it upon ourselves to refuse to follow the officers of our army, if their course is directed by their own selfiish ends. If we do not listen now during this session to the call of our people who have left the ranks of our party because we were deaf to their demands and who now seek to come again within our lines, we have lost our last chance. Our refusal will end in the selection of a Governor of this Commonwealth of another than the Republican Party, and it will end in the selection of another to wear the toga of the highest legislative hall of the American Legislature for Pennsylvania, who claims other than the Republican as his party.

Gentlemen of the House, we are pledged by our platform to vote for this amendment. The life of our party demands our keeping faith; more than that ,our very political existence requires that we shall be true to our constituents.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I suppose what has happened so many years in the past will probably happen again to-day. The proposition of proper and safe or practical election laws cannot be considered until the House is driven into a sort of political hysteria. To my mind there was nothing about this bill that called for the remarks that have been made here by some of my friends, and especially my friend from Philadelphia, different from any other bill. We can launch out into this question of government and corruption on almost any proposition that comes before the House. I have noticed that those who have preceded me here are what I would call young men. I am speaking of a sort of right that has been obtained by having thirty-five years of practical experience in Pennsylvania politics. I have taken an active part in what we call politics or what we call public affairs, for about thirty-five years. I have not yet, since 1893, seen a proposition offered here from the so-called ballot reformers that has not been adopted by this House. In 1895, and especially in 1893, when the Baker ballot law was presented to this Legislature, these Legislative Halls rang with speeches similar to those that my friend from Philadelphia has just given us an exampel of—what I call political hysteria. There is no necessity for getting wrought up over this matter. What we want to do is to treat it in cold blood, and view it from a political standpoint. So far as the Republicans who stand for Republicism, there is no necessity for any of them to apologize. If there are men who have called themselves Republicans and who have done the things that my friend from Schuylkill speaks of, they do not deserve the name of any political party that I know of now. The complaints that we hear of to-day are the acts of individuals. I have heard from Schuylkill county where the conditions appear to have been dammable. Why is it that they are in evidence in Schuylkill county when they do not exist anywhere else, except possibly in a few parts of the State of Pennsylvania. I do not suppose there are ten members on the floor of this House that will admit that under their observation any great political corruption has existed. I want to say that in the little bailiwick that I come from, in the thirty-five years of working under all the different election laws, conditions have not changed. You can pass all the statutes in Christendom and if you do not put in that election board three honest men, all the statutes that you can place upon the statute books of this State or any other government that has ever existed will not protect the ballot box. To my mind, and I do not want to be hard on anybody, but if there is any community in which such a condition exists as has been mentioned by my friend from Schuylkill county, it is almost preposterous. I cannot understand it. It could not exist in my section of my county for one moment. Why, not one single voting man could get in there that the active men of my district do not know whether he deserves to get in or not. I took part in elections when we had the old vest pocket ticket. You had no trouble at that time to get a man to come to vote. There was no trouble to sit down and talk over the candidates from the top to the bottom of the ticket, and after others had explained to me just what the abilities of the different candidates were, if I did not know them, I would mark my ticket for my candidates at that primary election. In the general election, of course, we generally voted a straight ticket. Under the present primary laws I doubt if there is really one man in twenty who knows anything of the qualifications of the men who appear before him for the various county offices. A man is compelled to ask his friend about them and then he is compelled to go in and vote accordingly. Since 1883 there have been bills upon our statutes trying to correct these evils, and each and every instance as far back as 1895, when I heard my good old friend, John Fow, who was the leader on the Democratic side of the House, in those day, pleading for certain propositions, and he told the House that it was absolutely a question of correction for the future, and annually and semi-annually men have come to this House and have offered a panacea to cure all ills in election; and yet it appears that each House in succession gives out oratory tending to give the public the impression that corruption has grown worse and worse.

And, now Mr. Speaker, here is a bill, simply all that is to it that is involved in the question is whether I should have assistance, provided I am physically able to mark my ballot. Why, my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott, and I mention his name, although I know it is not parliamentary, but he is from Philadelphia, and it is a big town or a large village, and he is trying to make us feel that all of the ills that have befallen on his party is to be solved by one proposition. He declares: "don't allow anybody to have assistance who may come in to vote and all the ills and all the corruption of politics will be obviated." Why, gentlemen, that is nonsense. I know as every one of you who have had the same experience I have had, that as fast as you place upon the statute books propositions that are calculated to interfere and thwart the wishes of the office-seeker (and any man who knows how to thwart the efforts of an office seeker, has discovered something that nobody else has yet discovered). They will learn under that act how to get their friends in and will get them in as under any other law, absolutely and without a doubt. What will you do by the adoption of this act? You say that it is proper and right to bar a man who hasn't given public questions any consideration, who probably, as is the case in most instances, don't know a single candidate, then are you going to prevent him from having assistance? Are you going to prevent the man who can't read or write absolutely from voting. If you are in favor of that you want to consider well whether or not you are going to do anything that will be beneficial. I am against this proposition, or I would not have gotten on the floor to talk to others and I am going to vote against this proposition. Back of this great election proposition there is a question that is a problem, which will have to be assumed by a younger generation. When we had the old simpleness of ballot, a simple ballot, there was no trouble to get people to come to the polls and vote. In the thirty-five years that I have taken part in politics, gradually from year to year I find it more difficult to persuade my neighbors to come out and vote. I wish to tell members of the Democratic party and members of the Republican party, or of the Progressive party, as I do in my county, if I meet them on the road I say to them are you going to the election tomorrow, and they will say to me "Well, I don't know that I will, I wouldn't vote for your side any way." Then I say, "that doesn't make any difference, you ought to come down and register your opinion and exercise your right of franchise for which rivers of blood have been shed, and millions of widows and orphans have been made to secure that which you ignore. Tomorrow you will growl about conditions." Then they sometimes say, "I guess I will come down but I don't know exactly how to mark that ballot." I say, just mark up in one corner a single cross, if you wish to vote for your party." "It is a great big sheet of paper", he will say, "and I don't know how to vote on it." I have seen this complicated condition of the election laws and the election blanks and complicated ballot constantly working in the opposite direction from that which is wanted and that which is intended.

We want men to vote, and we want men to have a single ballot and have nothing put in the way of their voting. We cannot do it with the election laws which have been accumulated on our statutes. There is not a man here who has observed conditions who don't know but that what I say is absolutely true, and I am going to give you a concrete illustration of what occurred in my own district. I have a district just as intelligent as any other in this State.

Mr. REESE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Delaware permit me to interrogate him?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit the gentleman from Schuylkill to interrogate him?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REESE. Mr. Speaker, are not the political conditions in Delaware County so rotten that the jury wheels have stopped?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN: Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, perhaps the gentleman would like to draw me into that discussion but I am going to disappoint him if that is his aim. The jury will not have anything to do with the eltction laws. If he would like to discuss that question at some other time, I would very willingly give him the opportunity, but I can answer him in this way, that if the political conditions in his county are one-tenth as bad as he has ilustrated, then they are a hundred times worse than they evere have been in Delaware County. What I would like to see and what every man in this House would like to see is somebody who understands something about this proposition of making election laws, and have him take a hand at the improvement of them. The difficulty has been this that the public mind has been given the impression that a man who takes an active part in public affairs would not honestly endeavor to correct the laws that exist under the present system. If they attempt to say anything, then the reply is, "Why, of course." It appears to the average public mind that he has a selfish motive. Aside from that he is treated and considered as honest and to be trusted. He must say he belongs to a committee of seventy or a committee of seven, or a committee of two, but he must be a committee. That must be the first requisite and he must be somebody that has never had anything to do with the proposition. How contrary that is to practical life? Suppose I would suggest sending for a shoemaker or for five shoemakers to come up and look at a sick horse and I asked them, "Do you know what is the matter with this horse and what can you do for him," and if they knew nothing about a horse, how foolish that would be. Suppose you found me at a blacksmith shop with my watch—and asked the blacksmith to look at it and tell me what is the matter with it. How foolish that would be! Yet it is an absolute fact, and you all know it, that the people who drew up and presented to the legislature these laws for the governing of our elections have not in a single instance shown anything worthy of the subject, although I guess there might be three men i nthe committee of seventy that know how to make an election law that is practical. They get but one particular object in front of them and they don't see the relative effect of it and this is the way the elections laws have been amended in the State of Pennsylvania. I want to say here that netiher the Democratic party nor the Republican Party nor the Progressive Party, nor the Prohibition Party has had much of a hand in making an election law. The election laws have been presented to this Legislature by men with no experience. Somebody comes up and drives the House into political hysteria and every one is afraid to vote on his judgment, because he knows that this is supposed to be a reform in the ballot. He sees that the statement will go out that this fellow stood by the ballot-box stuffers. Every man here knows that it is true. They are impractical election laws. If there ever was a law placed upon the statute books in the State of Pennsylvania I cannot say anything so far as the election laws is concerned except that it is damnable. You know what has been done in this State and yet it was done under the plea of reform legislation. Why, the men that did it had the right heart and the right spirit. I am not critising the spirit. These men were trying to do what they believed to be right, but they were impractical. But the evil grew up and went forward, and if there is any statute now that should be swept off of the statute books of Pennsylvania it is those relating to the election laws. I say that the political bosses in Pennsylvania never did so much trading and bargaining or so much violating of the election laws as was done in the last campaign in the State of Pennsylvania. And you all know it, I want to see an election law that is constructed along practical lines and I want to see men who know something about this subject and take the matter up and frame such a law. I want to see you where you will be in a position to see good work. For the last twenty years the Legislatiure has been wrought up over some question, whether or not you will stand for some proposition relating to an election law but that someone says that you are voting for a bill for ballot-box stuffers. I would stake my life on it that there is not a man here that does not want good government and want practical men to do the job. That's what we want. We want practical men to do the job. We do not want men who are not practical because otherwise it would be botched as it has been botched during the last twenty-five years. It has cost the State since 1890 I thing fully twenty million dollars and to my mind there has not been a practical act come out of all that has been done, because it weakened our election laws every time something has been added.

Mr. HOBBS: Mr. Speaker,

THE SPEAKER: The gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Hobbs.

Mr. HOBBS: Mr. Speaker, I don't intend to make a political speech at this time. It is not my purpose to get into this subject. I want to give a very few positive examples which have come to my notice in Lackawanna County. The proposition is of importance and it is not a question as to the Republican Party nor the Democratic Party nor any other political party. It is a question of what was to be for the good of all the people in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania regardless of any political party. I want to recite, for instance, a case which came to my notice some time ago. In the first place I will state that I live in a smaller town than some of those gentlemen who have spoken and that our town is not as big as the City of Brotherly Love.

Perhaps, I cannot recite so great an example, but this one came to my particular notice. The man was just as capable as any man in this House. He explained that he could not and did not understand the ballot, therefore, he asked for assistance. In another instance, there was a man who was under the influence of drink; he was intoxicated. He was challanged. They said to him "You dare not vote." He said "Yes, I dare vote." There was a dollar ventured that he dare not. The fellow said I will take the bet the money was put up and put in a third party's hands. He went in and proved that he could mark the ballot, as requested by having assistance, and he got his dollar. In other words, it was a matter of bribery paying this man one dollar for his vote. That is the way he delivered his goods to the party he wanted.

In the year 1908 in one precinct in Lackawanna County one man a saloon keeper, belonging to one political party, went to the booth with thirty-five other men, who were, every one of them, under the influence of drink, and he helped them to mark their ballots. They were all of the other political party. Therefore, this man who went into the booth with these men voted thirty-six times. The other men did not vote at all because this man did it for them. What was the result? The result was that the gentleman who belonged to the political party that assisted the others had the consolation of seeing the man elected or counted in for the office of representative; if the thirty-five men had voted for the ticket of the party to which they belonged the candidate of that party could have been elected, and would have served a term in the House of Representatives. I want to say to you gntlemen, and while I am not grieving over the matter, that your humble servant was the victim of that deal.

Mr. GEARY. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. Letzkus, Humes, McAleer, Neel, Ulerich, Dickinson, Williams, Fahey, Spangler, Schuck, Ely, Stone, Mather, Hemminger, Ira E. Shaffer, McKay, George A. Baldwin, Swift, Brownlee, Brosius, Whitman, Showalter, Newton and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question.

On the question,

Shall the main question be put?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken,

Whereupon the Speaker requested a verification of the roll upon the completion of which thet vote was announced as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, so long as we have the present form of ballot in the Commonwealth, a ballot which, when the most intelligent voter must admit is difficult to understand and to vote as he wishes, I feel that it is unjust and practically a disfranchisement to withdraw assistance from those who are illiterate or who honestly cannot understand the ballot. I am aware that there are many voters who in local affairs wish to vote for the man rather than for the party, and this is a tendency which I greet with approval. In municipal elections especially it is the duty of the voter, to my mind, to vote for the man rather that the party and it is my observation and contention that even though a man may be illiterate or unable to understand the ballot he nevertheless may have and usually does have the ability to recognize and appreciate a man and to be a perfectly competent judge of the character, the views and the ability of one who is offering himself as a candidate. An illiterate may be an unusually keen judge of the candidate as a man and still be unable to recognize the name of that candidate in print. Such a voter cannot have assistance under the proposed act as I understand it, yet I contend that such a voter is an intelligent voter. His illiteracy has sharpened his other senses: his infirmity makes him all the more cautious and he is just as competent, and perhaps more so, to pass upon the character and qualifications of a candidate upon the ballot, as is the most educated and cultured voter. If such a voter cannot have pointed out to him the name of a man for whom he wishes to vote, such a voter is really disfranchised and this is an injustice. I want pure elections if possible, but we will not hasten that day by disfranchising the honest voter who cannot read.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, my reasons for voting No on House Bill No. 130, file folio 503, amending Section 26 of an act approved the tenth day of June, 1893, refusing the right of assistance to a voter except he swear or affirm that he is physically disabled is: that there are among my constituents a considerable number of Germans who cannot read the English language and who would be intimidated and many of them disfranchised by the enforcement of this bill if it becomes a law.

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, my reasons for voting against Bill No. 130 are that: this bill is un-American, unworthy of the United States and her people. If it is presented or argued for as a Democratic measure, I repudiate it as not Democratic, unpatriotic and inspired by Anti alien bigotry.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I vote "Nay" on House Bill No. 130, file folio 503, for the following reasons:

1st. I believe the provisions of the existing law are more American than those proposed in this bill.

2nd. This bill will disfranchise thousands of American citizens, both native born and naturalized.

3rd. It places in the hands of the judge of election the power and authority to decide and determine whether or not such physical disability as provided for in the bill exists. This power and authority in the hands of an unfair and unscrupulous judge of election I consider a most dangerous one.

4th. I believe that any lawful voter who has interest sufficient to wish to participate in any election and who "declares to the judge of election that by reason of any disability he desires assistance in the preparation of his ballot" should be assisted in the form and manner now provided by law, and allowed to vote.

5th. I believe these proposed changes are unfair, unjust and un-American—a backward step—and not in harmony with our constitutional rights and liberties.

SENATE MESSAGES.

SENATE CONCURS IN RESOLUTION.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows, viz:

In the House of Representatives

Resolved (if the Senate concur) that when the Senate adjourns this week it shall reconvene on Monday evening, February twenty-fourth, at nine o'clock and when the House adjourns this week, it shall reconvene on the same date, at eight o'clock; also when the Senate adjourns next week, it shall reconvene not later than Monday evening, March tenth, at nine o'clock, and when the House adjourns next week it shall reconvene on Wednesday evening, March fifth at eight o'clock.

SENATE NON-CONCURS IN AMENDMENT.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate insists on its non-concurrence in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to Senate Resolution as follows:

Whereas, Certain acts and resolutions passed by several General Assemblies and approved by their Excellencies Governors Stuart and Tener, creating a commission and clothing it with administrative powers, said commission being known as The Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission.

Whereas, Limitations have been placed upon the former soldiers of the Civil war who should be invited as guests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania during July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th, by including only those who participated in the Battle of Gettysburg and who enlisted and served therein prior to July 4th, 1863.

Whereas, The National Government will provide sanitary tenting quarters and rations for the old soldiers of the Civil War who will be present during the aforesaid period.

Whereas, The exercises upon July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th, upon the Battlefield of Gettysburg will probably be the most impressive ceremony the world has ever known; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House concur) That the Commission of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg be respectfully and earnestly requested to broaden the scope of the provisions made for the attendance as guests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania upon that historical occasion so as to include all Union soldiers, sailors and marines of the Civil War who enlisted from Pennsylvania, also such men who served in Pennsylvania commands known as Emergency Troops, also all soldiers who served in the Confederate Army now living in Pennsylvania as citizens of this Commonwealth. A copy of this resolution, when approved, to be forwarded to the President of the Commission for consideration and action.

And has appointed Messrs. Sheatz, Alexander and Jarrett a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (if the House of Representatives shall appoint such committee) on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

On motion of Mr. Allen.

The House insisted upon its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate.

Ordered, That Messrs. Allen, Wiltbank and Humes be a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (already appointed) in relation to the differences existing between the two Houses on said resolution.

And that the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE NON-CONCURS IN AMENDMENT.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate insists on its non-concurrence in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to Senate Resolution as follows:

Whereas, There has recently been considerable discussion in the newspapers and elsewhere regarding the numbr, duties efficiency and salaries of the officers, clerks and employes of the Senate, House of Representatives and the several departments, boards and commissions connected with the State government; and

Whereas, It is of the greatest importance that the Senators and Members of the present General Assembly should be informed as to the necessity for, also the qualifications, number and salaries of said officers, clerks and employes, so that if any changes are found necessary they may be authorized during the present session of the Legislature; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That a commission consisting of four members of the present Senate, one of whom shall be a Democrat, be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and five members of the present House of Representatives, two of whom shall be Democrats, be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, to investigate as to the necessity for, efficiency, number and salaries of the officers, clerks and employes of the Senate and House of Representatives and to make report thereof, and, if necessary, to recommend, not later than March 12, 1913, to the present General Assembly such a bill or bills as may be requisite to improve the service and remedy any defects existing under the present laws.

Such commission shall have full power to administer oaths and to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of all books and papers; to issue all necessary processes, and to exercise all the powers belonging to a joint committee of the Legislature. Such commission shall elect from its number a chairman, and

The Chief Clerk of the Senate shall assign one of the regularly elected Clerks to committees to said Commissions as its clerk.

And has appointed Messrs. Crow, Kurty and Jones to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (if the House of Representatives shall appoint such committee) on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

On motion of Mr. John R. K. Scott.

The House insisted upon the amendments non-concurred in by the Senate.

Ordered, That Messrs. Shern, George A. Baldwin and Flynn be a committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (already appointed) in relation to the differences existing between the two Houses on said resolution.

And that the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RESOLUTION.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent of the House at this time to offer a resolution.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The resolution was then read by the Clerk as follows:

FOR SPECIAL ORDER FOR HOUSE BILL NO. 306.

Whereas House Bill No. 306, File Folio 283, being an act to further regulate the granting of licenses for the sale of liquors, was introduced into this House on February 4, 1913, after at least two years of study and consideration, and

Whereas, the said bill as prepared and introduced was thoroughly considered and unanimously reported by the Law and Order Committee on February 13, 1913, since which time it was regularly printed and prepared as other bills and was duly filed and passed first reading in regular order, and has remained upon the calendar for second reading on the Legislative days of February 18th and February 19th, 1913, and no action has been taken by the sponsor of said bill, or any other person in his behalf, and

Whereas, said bill is one of a series of bills known as "Liquor Bills' which is being held back, as in former sessions, because of inaction, which conduct interferes with the proper consideration of other bills highly necessary to carry into effect all party pledges, and which conduct interferes with and defeats the intentions of this Legislation and the will of the people;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That said bill be made a special order and placed on the calendar for second reading immediately after the reading of the Journal on Monday, February 24, 1913, unless the same is called up by the sponsor thereof, or some person in his behalf, in the meantime.

On the question,

Will the House give unanimous consent to the adoption of the resolution?

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objections.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, in view of the objection, I desire at this time to withdraw the resolution, and offer a motion.

The SPEAKER. The motion will be read by the Clerk.

The motion was then read by the Clerk as follows:

SPECIAL ORDER FOR HOUSE BILL NO. 306.

It is moved that House Bill number 306 file folio number 283 entitled An act to further regulate the granting of licenses for the sale of vinous, spiritous, malt or brewed liquors or admixture thereof by permitting the electors of any county in this Commonwealth residing outside of the city or borough containing a population of ten thousand or upward and by permitting the electors of any city or borough containing a population of ten thousand or upward to determine by an election whether the granting of licenses for such sale should be prohibited.

Be made a special order and placed upon the calendar for second reading immediately after the reading of the journal on Monday evening, February 24, 1913, unless called up for second reading by the sponsor thereof or some person in his behalf in the meantime.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the adoption of the motion?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I do not care to be the technical objector to matters properly before this House for consideration, but every one of you knows, who know anything of parliamentary practice that this motion is a very discourteous, improper and unparliamentary motion to make at this time. This bill, as stated in the original resolution offered a few moments ago has only been on the second reading calendar for two days. It was given to me by a certin society interested in certain legislation, and after having been introduced and reported out of committee, and placed upon the calendar, a constitutional question arises. I did not call this bill up yesterday, nor today, simply for the purpose of giving myself and my associates time to examine into this question, and for certain antagonistic interests now to start in to try to force matters is not only unparliamentary, but discourteous, and the House ought not to stand for it for one instant. I therefore raise this point of order that this motion, being in the nature of a resolution, is out of order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the motion, being a mere motion, is in order.

Mr. ROCKWELL. In view of the Speaker's ruling on this question, I wish to say this; that I desire to consult with the interests that handed me his bill, and since this consitutional quesion has been raised, I would like to look into the law with them, after which I will call this bill up and see that it takes its regular course. It has only been on this calendar for two days, and the practice of this Legislature has been, from time oimmemorial, as far as I am able to find out, to allow a bill on second reading to rest under the absolute control and custody of the sponsor of the bill and it is considered a matter of great discourtesy for any member to call that bill out of the possession of the sponsor or during his absence. I wish to state that I had expected to call this bill up before this and now do expect to call it up not later than Tuesday morning, but I do object to having it handled in this matter, which is contrary to all practices of the House, and I ask every member of this House with a feeling of fair play to vote the motion down, and let the interests that have this bill in charge have the chance to control it.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I hope the members will vote this motion down. I have been a member of the House since 1903, with the exception of 1907. I am going to vote against the bill, and vote against all anti-liquor legislation, but I believed that we should be courteous to the members of the House who have bills under consideration. I believe that if you vote for a motion of this kind, that you will make a martyr of a man having in charge this legislation. It really isn't according to parliamentary practice in this House, and I trust that this motion will be voted down, unless the gentleman who made the motion will withdraw it.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I sincerely regret the view the gentlemen have taken on this motion, and the attitude taken by the sponsor. I must say there is no gentleman in the House for whom I entertain a higher regard, no gentleman in whose integrity I have more faith than the gentleman from Tioga, the very able Chairman of the Judiciary General Committee. I must also say that I did not introduce the motion through any disrespect of the gentleman who introduced the bill and who has charge of its progress through the House. I offered the motion in perfectly good faith, because, as has been said by that man of old, I have no way by which to guide my footsteps except through ample experience, and I ask you to remember what has always been the attitude of legislation of this sort and the people who are responsible for its presence in this House. This sort of legislation has never been put through in the ordinary and usual way. It rather savors of the schemes and the connivance of those who are not members of the House, but who take an interest in the legislation. All that I ask of the gentlemen of the House is to have this bill considered on second reading as soon as possible because it is clogging and will continue to clog the different matters of legislation which this House ought to be considering and engaged in. With relation to legislation of this kind, I have a great deal of respect for the people who look upon it as a moral and not a political issue. I ask that this bill be considered in due course, and hope that the members will put this motion through so that we may know when this bill will be up for consideration. Do you gentlemen realize that matters of importance are yet to be considered? The prompt consideration of this bill will enable every member here to better look after the interests of his people. Now, there is nothing insincere in the motion in view of past experience, and in view of the fact that at least two years have been given to the preparation of this bill. It has been on the calendar for two days without having been called up, and if its consideration is fixed at the time suggested in the motion, every gentleman of the House will have proper time to make up his mind. I simply ask for what? I merely ask that this bill take its proper course upon the calendar, and that the friends of the liquor interests, or those opposed to it, may have their proper day in court. I do not want to take snap judgment. There is nothing discourteous intended, and as I said before, I sincerely regret that the gentleman from Tioga should have considered my attitude in such a light. I trust that the members of this House will pass this motion so that we may know definitely just when this issue is going to be decided.

Mr. FLYNN: Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I wish to deny the statement of the gentleman from Philadelphia that there is anything discourteous in this motion. I, for one, am heartily in favor of the motion. Yesterday, I asked the author of the bill when it would be called up on second reading, and I got no satisfactory reply from him. He has said now that it will possibly be called up on Tuesday next. We have no assurance of that other than it may possibly be Tuesday, and more probably it will not be Tuesday, but at any rate just when he pleases, and in the meantime, as the gentleman from Allegheny has said, there are a great many people who are interested in this legislation. There are a great many whose interests will be adversely affected should this bill become a law. They are so much interested that they have been coming here in large numbers to have final action taken. Are we to have them running down here and back home again without anything definitely as to when this matter is to be brought forward? I say that this is fair notice to the gentleman from Tioga that his bill is to be placed on second reading for Monday night. In the meantime he has the intervening time to prepare for such action. Is there anything unfair or discourteous in that? I deny absolutely that there is anything discourteous in the action proposed by the gentleman from Allegheny. It is fair, it is more than fair, and I tell you that if the other side of this question had the votes in this House to take advantage of those who are opposed to this amendment I am very sure that they would not be as courteous as the gentleman from Allegheny has been with them.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny evidently did not understand me when he started that I would not agree to call this bill up not later than Tuesday morning, and I am willing to amend this motion that the bill shall be called up at the Tuesday morning session for second reading and for final passage on Wednesday.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the gentleman from Tioga says that he will positively call it up on Tuesday morning?

Mr. ROCKWELL. I will call it up tomorrow morning after I have satisfied myself on this constitutional question, or I will give the postive assurance that I will call it up not later than Tuesday.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will set a definite time I will withdraw my motion.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I move to amend the motion so that we fix this bill for special order for Tuesday morning for second reading, and for final passage on Wednesday morning.

Mr. STEIN. I will accept the amendment.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will please put his amendment in writing so that the Clerk will get it correctly. The gentleman from Tioga has put his motion in writing and it will be read by the Clerk.

The moton was read by the Clerk as follows:

Moved that House Bill 306, file fioli 383, entitled

An Act to further regulate the granting of licenses for the sale of vinous spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixture thereof by permitting the electors of any county in this Commonwealth residing outside of a city or borough containing a population of ten thousand or upward and by permitting the electors of any city or borough containing a population of ten thousand or upward to determine by an election whether the granting of licenses for such sale therein shall be prohibited be made a special order and placed upon the calendar for second reading on Tuesday February 25th at 11:00 A. M. and for third reading and final passage on Wednesday, February 26th 1913 at 11:00 A. M.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion as amended?

It was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I move to reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 635, entitled:

An Act to exempt certain buildings from the provisions relating to fire towers and outside fire escapes of the following acts of Assembly the act approved the eleventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine entitled "An act to provide for the better security of life and limb in cases fire in hotels and other buildings" as amended by an act approved the third day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to provide for the better security of life and limb in cases of fire in hotels and other buildings approved eleventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" and as further amended by an act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven entitled "An act to amend section one of an act approved the third day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five entitled 'An act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for the better security of life and limb in cases of fire in hotels and other buildings' " approved the eleventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine extending the provisions thereof to buildings used in while or in part for offices not of fire proof construction" also the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act amending section one of article three of an act entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class in this Commonwealth" approved the first day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five regulating the construction maintenance and inspection of buildings approved the eighth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three regulating the construction alteration and ventilation of tenement houses and providing for the safety of the inhabitants thereof and providing penalties for the violation of the same" also the act approved the twenty-fifth day of April one thousand nine hundred three entitled an act to further regulate the construction maintenance and inspection of buildings and party walls in cities of the first class file folio 467, was directed to be transcribed for third reading.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed second reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following amendment for the purpose of correcting a typographical error.

The amendment was read by the clerk as follows:

Amend Section 1, line 7, by striking out the word "on" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "and."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the Section as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read the second time and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to ask unanimous consent to call up House Bill No. 529, file folio, 439, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to cover the deficiency incurred in the care treatment and maintenance of the indigent insane of the Commonwealth during the period of four years begining June first one thousand nine hundred and nine and ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen

This was the bill which was postponed earlier in today's session and I desire to offer an amendment to the title.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent for the consideration of the bill at this time? The Chair hears no objection and consent is granted.

The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend the title by striking out in line 3, the word "four" and insert in lieu thereof the word "two;" also in line 4 by striking out the word "nine" and interesting in lieu therefore the word "eleven."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendment as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to and (at 2:30 P. M.) the House adjourned until tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1913 — 120th of the General Assembly

VOL. 2. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1913. No. 20.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THURSDAY, February 20th, 1913.

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. John Elliott Wright, offered the following prayer:

O God, we thank Thee for Thy great goodness to us in the gift of Thy son, to be our example and Teacher, our Model and Guide, our Saviour and Lord. We thank Thee for the purity of His life for the beauty of His character for the excellence of His teachings and for the perpetuated influence of His ministry and work. We recognize Him as the great inspiration of the Christian ages, whom to reverence and love, to worship and follow is to approve ourselves to God and to grow each day in wisdom and virtue. We thank Thee for the Word, which tells us of Him, for its beautiful simplicity, for the matchless eloquence of its language and thought. May we reverence this word and try to order our lives by its principles and precepts and may we reverence especially the incarnate word, who is the Way and the Truth and the life and whom to know aright is life eternal. We commend us now to Thee and to the kindly keeping of Thy providence and grace, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when on motion of Mr. Brosius, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. James A. Dunn.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of personal privilege.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. There has been a report from the Committee on Law and Order with a negative recommendation of House Bill No. 783.

The SPEAKER. Was that bill presented by the gentleman from Philadelphia?

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. The resolution passed yesterday, by this House, amended by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Richard J. Baldwin, was to the effect that the sponsor of all bills should be notified by the Chairman of the Committee to appear before that committee for a hearing before it reported a bill to the House with a negative recommendation. I see by this morning's paper, that printed an account about this bill, that it was reported to the House with a negative recommendation. That is unfair and I rise to a point of personal privilege on that question. I would like to say further in regard to this case, that I met the Chairman of the Law and Order Committee and I find from him that he didn't think the bill had been reported, but notwithstanding, that it was all in the press throughout the entire State. This bill had been reported to the House, with the negative recommendation. I made inquiry about the bill and nobody knew anything about it, whether it had been reported, and I think it is unfair. We are not all attorneys and in all fairness to the members of this House and the honesty and fairness that is expected from every man in this House, we ought to have that courtesy shown to us, when a Committee has a bill presented to the House with a negative recommendation, that they give the sponsor of a bill a fair and honest hearing, before they report to this House with a negative recommendation.

The SPEAKER. I would suggest to the gentleman, that when we reach the order of business of "Motions to Recommit," that a motion be made by the gentleman to recommit his bill to the Committee on Law.

Mr. MOULTHROP. Mr. Speaker, I think that the gentleman from Philadelphia is mistaken about the bill being negatived. The bill is in the Committee to the best of my knowledge, and will be given a hearing. He says it is reported in the newspapers. I don't know anything about that, as I didn't get a newspaper in which it has appeared.

The SPEAKER. The bill is on the desk of the Clerk with a negative recommendation. Will the gentleman from Elk (Mr. Flynn) agree to its being recommitted to the Committee on Law and Order?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I am satisfied to have the bill recommitted. When the bill was reported out yesterday, with a negative recommendation, it was given to me with the understanding that I was to see the author of the bill and tell him that the bill had been reported out negatively. I arrived rather late this morning and just handed the bill up hurriedly and failed to see the author of the bill.

Mr. SPEAKER. Everybody understands that there is no wrong intent on the part of the gentleman from Elk.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. MOULTHROP. Mr. Speaker, I move this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Law and Order, for further consideration.

Mr. FLYNN. I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL RE-REFERRED.

Mr. McALLISTER returned from the Committee on Labor and Industry, House Bill No. 398, entitled:

An Act to require the reporting by physicians to the State Registrar of Vital Statistics of certain occupational diseases and making a violation of its provisions a misdemeanor and providing penalties for violations thereof.

With recommendation that the same be referred to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

The SPEAKER. This bill is now re-referred to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House bill No. 529, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to cover the deficiency incurred in the care treatment and maintenance of the indigent insane of the Commonwealth during the period of two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and eleven and ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of four hundred and seventy thousand dollars ($470,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to pay for the deficit incurred in the care treatment and maintenance of the indigent insane in the Commonwealth during the two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and eleven and ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen

Section 68 The judges of the several courts of record of this Commonwealth shall respectively have power to admit a competent number of persons of an honest disposition and learned in the law to practice as attorneys in their respective courts No such person shall be so admitted on and after the first day of October Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen until he or she shall have been admitted to practice as attorney in the Supreme Court of this Commonwealth

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, an explanation is due to the members of the House relative to this bill. It was held up yesterday for the reason that the title and the bill did not correspond. The bill was amended in committee, but as you understand, the title could not be amended there. It was through my neglect that when the bill was called up on second reading, it was not amended at that time.

The question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. WHITMAN. Mr. Glenn, the sponsor of this bill, was called home last night and asked that the action on it be postponed until he could be here. I, therefore, move you, Mr. Speaker, that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Sepaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up House Bill No. 98, File Folio 493, on page three of today's calendar, Bil on Final Passage Postponed for the Present. This bill is a companion bill to bill No. 130, which was passed yesterday, and had been postponed at the request of several of the members until House Bill No. 130, which covered the voters' assistance act, be up for final consideration by the House. It is absolutely necessary that this bill, and its provisions, should pass in order to complete the provisions as contained in House Bill No. 130.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 98, entitled:

An Act amending Section thirty of an act entitled "An Act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections" approved the tenth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three as amended by the Act of Assembly approved the twenty-ninth day of April Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and three by providing punishment for certain offenses committed in regard to violating the secrecy of voting and in regard to giving or receiving assistance in marking ballots.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 552 (Senate Bill No. 4), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Quarantine Board to cover maintenance for the last quarter of the current fiscal year.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GEORGE A. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for one week.

Mr. SWIFT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Did I understand the gentleman from Beaver to say that he desired the consideration of the bill to be postponed for the present.

Mr. GEORGE A. BALDWIN. Yes, sir.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. If you will permit me, I will explain this bill since the gentleman desires its postponment. The House knows that in the Eastern end of the State, there is what is known as a quarantine station, at which the medical authorities examine all ships coming into the port of Philadelphia, and every year we provide that institution with a certain sum of money. The last appropriation, when it was made, was divided up into particular items. The result of that was that there was a mistake made in placing in some of the items more money than was necessary and in others not a sufficient amount. This bill calls for four thousand dollars. The institution, or rather the Board, will turn back into the State Treasury, thirty-six hundred dollars of that money, but it will require that amount to pay the salaries of the officials of that institution and the other expenses. This bill really carries only the additional appropriation of four hundred dollars. It is what is known as a deficiency bill, It is simply to correct the mistake that was made by the Appropriation Committee in dividing up the appropriation.

Mr. GEORGE A. BALDWIN. I have no particular objection to the merits of the bill. Here is my point. I understand that the Senate Committee on Elections has given out the ultimatum that no bills of the House are to be considered until March twenty-fifth, or afterwards. If the Senate is going to pursue those dilatory tactics on bills of the House, the question is, what are we going to do about it? There have been a large number of election bills before the House representing the pledges of all parties, and if the Senate Committee on Elections will not consider these bills until March twenty-fifth, we are liable to be here all summer. I think here and now is the time and place to say to the Senate that such tactics will not be tolerated by the members of the House, I would, therefore, have the further consideration of this bill postponed until some understanding can be reached with the Senate in the matter of the taking up of these bills. There are a number of their bills on the calendar and I do not think that we should sit supinely here and allow them to dictate everything that goes on.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. I hope that the gentleman will withdraw his objection, There was a mistake made in sending this bill to Senator Sproul, instead of to myself where it should have been sent originally, but it was done with a view of expediting matters. This is a Senate Bill, and go in ahead of my bill. It is merely a deficiency bill,—and yet it isn't a deficiency bill, but it is a bill introduced to correct a mistake of the Appropriation Committee that was inadvertently made four years ago. It relaly properly should have been a House bill. While I did not introduce it, it should have been in my charge.

Mr. GEORGE A. BALDWIN. In view of the statement of the gentleman from Delaware, I will withdraw my motion.

The question recurring,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

Miller,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

Mr. BIGGER. Mr. President. I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 86, file folio 185 on page 6 of today's calendar, Bills on Third Reading Postponed for the Present.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 86, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and two of an act entitled "An act making it unlawful to trespass upon land posted as private property and providing the penalty therefor" approved the fourteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and five

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BIGGER. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, will the trespass notice that you have here with reference to private lanes or private roads affect the agricultural country, farms where they have private lanes?

Mr. BIGGER. Mr. Speaker, it is not the intention that it should.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. BIGGER. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Allegheny be willing to eliminate from this bill that part or insert words in the bill that it will not affect private roads.

Mr. BIGGER. Mr. Speaker, I would answer the gentleman that this is a bill presented by the State Federation of Labor, and that particular phase of it was submitted to a subcommittee and the subcommittee amended it so that it will not apply to private lanes, and they refuse to eliminate the word "firm," as they believe that the provisions of this amendment would eliminate the farming and agricultural lands.

Mr. LENKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BIGGER. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LENKER. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman to say that this bill has been prepared by the State Federation of Labor?

Mr. BIGGER. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. PIPER. I arise at this time, Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, to ask for the earnest support of every member of this House of this bill. This is a bill that should pass. We have had at times men trying to reach public highways, trying to reach their churches, trying to reach their schools, but they were compelled to go a round-about way to get to these public highways, and to their schools and to their churches, owing to the fact that to trespass on certain roads they would have been arrested. The bill has been modified at the suggestion of a number of members of this House, and I believe is now in a form that would be acceptable to all the members of the House if they will read the bill real close. I would ask that each and every member of the House here today give their earnest support to the passage of this bill.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker. As a member of that subcommittee I would ask the House at this time to accept tha bill as it appears.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. G. A. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. SWIFT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 551, (Senate bill No. 3), entitled:

An Act validating certain election of counties, cities, boroughs, townships, school districts and other incorporated districts held pursuant to the provisions of an act approved the twentieth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and seventy-four, entitled "An Act to regulate the manner of increasing the indebtedness of municipalities to provide for the redemption of the same and to impose penalties for the illegal increase thereof and the amendments thereto and validating bonds issued or authorized to be issued in pursuance of such elections.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, this bill originates from conditions in Delaware County, and I find a number of members in the House do not fully understand the bill, and there is considerable opposition to it, which I think arises out of this misunderstanding. I therefore move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of further explanation and examination.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 588, entitled:

An Act to amend section seven of an act of March thirty-first one thousand eight hundred and sixty (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and twenty-seven) entitled "An Act to consolidate, revise and amend the laws of this Commonwealth relating to penal proceedings and pleadings."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, line 41 by inserting after the second word "with the approval of the district attorney by;" amend line 42 by striking out the words "with the approval of the district attorney."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 635, as follows:

An Act to exempt certain buildings from the provisions relating to fire towers and outside fire escapes of the following acts of Assembly the act approved the eleventh day of June one thousand eight hundred seventy-nine entitled "An act to provide for the better security of life and limb in cases of fire in hotels and other buildings" as amended by an act approved the third day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-five entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to provide for the better security of life and limb in cases of fire in hotels and other buildings" approved eleventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine and as further amended by an act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven entitled "An act to amend section one of an act approved the third day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five entitled 'An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to provide for the better security of life and limb in cases of fire in hotels and other buildings' approved the eleventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine extending the provisions thereof to buildings used in whole or in part for offices not of fire proof construction" also the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand eight hundred ninety-five entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act amending section one of article three of an act entitled 'An act for the better government of cities of the first class in this Commonwealth approved the first day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five regulating the construction maintenance and inspection of buildings' approved the eighth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three regulating the construction alteration and ventilation of tenement houses and providing for the safety of the inhabitants thereof and providing penalties for the violation of the same" also the act approved the twenty-fifth day of April one thousand nine hundred three entitled "An act to further regulate the construction maintenance and inspection of buildings and party walls in cities of the first class"

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 163, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 279, as follows:

An Act authorizing the State Treasurer to endorse over to the Ladies' Memorial Association of the City of Petersburg Virginia all checks drafts or warrants for interest accruing on a bond bought from the City of Petersburg Virginia by the Battlefield Commission of the Third Division Ninth Corps Army of the Potomac said interest being by contract made on file in the Auditor General's Department due to said Ladies Memorial Association.

Whereas, The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by an act approved June thirteenth one thousand nine hundred and seven provided for the erection of a monument near Petersburg Virginia to commemorate the services of the Pennsylvania soldiers who constituted the Third Division of the Ninth Corps of the Army of the Potomac and authorized the appointment of a Commission to be known as the Battlefield Commission of the Third Division Ninth Corps Army of the Potomac and

Whereas by an act approved April twenty-second one thousand nine hundred and nine said Battlefield Commission was authorized to provide for a suitable permanent fence around a piece of ground purchased as a site for said monument and also to provide for the care of said monument fence and site and

Whereas, Pursuant to the authority vested in it said Battlefield Commission on February seventh one thousand nine hundred and ten entered into an agreement with the Ladies Memorial Association of the City of Petersburg Virginia which contract was approved by and is on file in the Auditor General's Department in which agreement said Battlefield Commission undertook to purchase a one thousand dollar bond of the City of Petersburg the income from which bond should be payable to said Ladies Memorial Association and should be used by it to provide for the care of said monument fence and site and

Whereas, Pursuant to said agreement said Battlefield Commission on the first day of April one thousand nine hundred and ten purchased from the City of Petersburg bond number four of the denomination of one thousand dollars of the City of Petersburg payable forty years after date and known as "S Street Paving Sewer and Water Main Four Per Centum Gold Bond" and caused said bond to be registered in the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the coupons of the same having been by a misunderstanding detached leaving the interest payable to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania instead of to the said Ladies Memorial Association now therefore

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the State Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and he is hereby authorized and directed to endorse to the Ladies Memorial Association of the City of Petersburg all checks for interest accrued and which will accrue on said bond and said State Treasurer is further directed upon the maturity of said bond to collect the principal amount of said bond and to cover the amount thereof into the State Treasury to be held there until an investment for the same purpose for which said money is now used shall be ordered by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

HOUSE APPOINTS CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House insists upon the amendments made by the House of Representatives and non-concurred in by the Senate to the following resolution:

In the Senate, February 21, 1913.

Whereas, There has recently been considerable discussion in the newspapers and elsewhere regarding the number, duties, efficiency and salaries of the officers clerks and employes of the Senate House of Repersentatives and the several department boards and commissions connected with the State government; and

Whereas, It is of the greatest importance that the Senators and Members of the present General Assembly should be informed as to the necessity for also the qualifications number and salaries of said officers clerks and employes so that if any charges are found necessary there may be authorized during the present session of the Legislature; therefore,

Be it resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That a commission consisting of four members of the present Senate one of whom shall be a democrat be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and five members of the present House of Representatives one of whom shall be a democrat be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives to investigate as to the necessity for efficiency number and salaries of the officers clerks and employes of the Senate House of Representatives and the several departments boards and commissioners connected with the State government and to make report thereof and if necessary to recommend not later than April 1, 1913, to the present General Assembly such a bill or bills as may be requisite to improve the service and remedy any defects existing under the present laws.

Such a commission shall have full power to administer oaths and to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of all books and papers; to issue all necessary processes and to exercise all the powers belonging to a joint committee of the Legislature. Such commission shall elect from its number a chairman, and shall have power to select not more than one clerk and one stenographer the salaries of whom as well as any other expenses of said commission, shall be provided for in the General Appropriation Bill of 1913.

And has appointed Messrs. Shern, G. A. Baldwin and Flynn as a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (already appointed) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said resolution.

HOUSE APPOINTS CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House insists upon the amendments made by the House of Representatives and non-concurred in by the Senate to the following resolution:

In the Senate, February 4, 1913.

Whereas, Certain acts and resolution passed by the several General Assemblies and approved by their Excellencies Governors Stuart and Tener creating a commission and clothing it with administrative powers, said commission being known as The Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission.

Whereas, Limitations have been placed upon the former soldiers of the Civil War who should be invited as guests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania during July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th by including only those who participated in the Battle of Gettysburg and who enlisted and served therein prior to July 4th, 1863.

Whereas, The National Government will provide sanitary tenting quarters and rations for the old soldiers of the Civil War who will be present during the aforesaid period.

Whereas, The exercises upon July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th, upon the Battlefield of Gettysburg will probably be the most impressive ceremony the world has ever known.

Therefore Be it Resolved, (if the House concur) That the Commission of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg be respectively and earnestly requested to broaden the scope of the provisions made for the attendance as guests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania upon that historical occasion so as to include all Union soldiers, sailors and marines of the Civil War now living in Pennsylvania, also such men who served in Pennsylvania commands known as Emergency Troops, also all soldiers who served in the Confederate Army now living in Pennsylvania as citizens of the Commonwealth A copy of this resolution when approved to be forwarded to the President of the Commission for consideration and action.

And has appointed Messrs. Allen, Wiltbank and Humes as a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (already appointed) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said resolution.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. John Elliott Wright, offered the following prayer:

O God, by Thy kindly providence, we are again in our places, standing face to face with the work which awaits us. We thank Thee for the appeal which this work makes to our minds, our hearts and our consciences; that it stimulates our thinking; that it quickens our energies; that it calls for the endeavor of the best that is in us. May we never forget the altruistic nature of this legislative work—that it is not for ourselves but for that large constituency which we represent; the men and the women and the children of this great Commonwealth. May we cultivate the qualities which will best condition us for effective work. May we have that beautiful unselfishness, that sincere honesty of purpose, that brotherly kindness and charity which will not merely emphasize the dignity of our work but give zest and pleasure and satisfaction to it. May we remember not merely the people but that God who is over the people and have that true attitude towards all the questions submitted to us, and especially the great moral questions, and all this we ask in the name of Him who has taught us to say:

Our Father who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors; and lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil, for Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of the proceedings of February 20th, 1913.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the proceedings of February 20th, 1913, when on motion of Mr. Wiltbank, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

PRINTING OF RESOLUTIONS.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is pleased to state to the members of the House that arrangements have been made by which resolutions now pending or hereafter to be printed will be printed on paper of the size of bills, and will be put in the House files with a file folio number, and will be referred to by notation on the daily calendar.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS.

Mr. BENSON: Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a resolution, and ask the unanimous consent of the House to have it considered at this time.

The SPEAKER: The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The resolution was then read by the Clerk as follows:

Whereas large expenditures for many purposes are being contemplated and in many instances made necessary by unusual conditions and

Whereas it becomes necessary for the members of this body to ascertain as nearly as may be arrived at the entire contemplated expenditures for the next two years in order to keep the appropriations within the revenues now therefore be it

Resolved That the heads of all State Departments who require appropriations to be made are directed to make as near as possible an itemized statement of the needs of their departments and cause the same to be reported to House within ten days for the information of its members be it further

Resolved That the Auditor General is hereby directed to report to the House within ten days from this date a complete statement of the revenues of the State available for the next two years

On the question,

Will the House agree to the adoption of the resolution?

Mr. NORTH: Mr. Speaker, I move that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. SASSAMAN: Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BENSON: Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I do not wish to take up the time of the House, but I feel that I ought to say a word upon this important resolution. I do not think this resolution should be referred to the Rules Committee. I think this resolution ought to be adopted by this House. Every member of this House is entitled to know just how much money these various departments are asking for. I do not think for a moment that we ought to try to bury this resolution by sending it to the Rules Committee. The people of the State of Pennsylvania are watching this Legislature and I believe that we should adopt this resolution and should not refer it to the Rules Committee, and I would ask every member on the floor of this House to vote the motion of the gentleman down, and on the motion, inasmuch as I consider it important, I call for the yeas and nays.

Mr. NORTH: Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER: The gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. North.

Mr. NORTH: I want to say just one word by way of explanation. It is hardly necessary to make an explanation to, I would say, nine-tenths of the members of this House, for this reason, that the information called for in the resolution of the gentleman from McKean, we are getting just as fast as the heads of the departments can do so at the present time. The information he calls for has been placed in the hands of the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee with the exception of two or three departments. I made a personal call on these departments this morning and notified them that their budget must be in our hands in time so that we could make up the general appropriations bill, which will be introduced some day this week—not later than Thursday, and for that reason I think it is unnecessary, and I think it is uncalled for, as I have stated, for the reason that all this information will be published and spread upon the members' desks as early as the rule of the House provides for.

Mr. BENSON: Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER: The gentleman from McKean, Mr. Benson.

Mr. BENSON: Mr. Speaker, as a member of the last session I know of no rule whereby departments of this State are supposed to lay upon our desks the requirements of their departments, or the appropriations they are asking for, and I cannot myself understand what objection the gentleman from Jefferson can have against this resolution. I can see no reason why the members of this House should not have the information I am asking for, and I insist upon the yeas and nays upon the amendemnt of the gentleman from Jefferson.

Mr. NORTH: Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER: The gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. North.

Mr. NORTH: It is no fault of mine that the gentleman does not know what he is asking for, and as I stated before, if there is any information that he is asking for, it is now in a state of preparation and will be presented. I have no objections and I want the members of the House to understand that I am not opposing the resolution. I am merely making the statement in order to save valuable time for the House.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

A division was called for, eighty-eight voting in the affirmative and sixty-three in the negative.

And the motion was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. GEARY: Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriation.

It was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. RONEY: Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER: The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney.

Mr. RONEY: Mr. Speaker, would it be in order to submit a motion for the re-consideration of a bill which failed on final passage?

The SPEAKER: A motion would be in order at this time.

Mr. RONEY: Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a motion.

Mr. SPEAKER: The motion will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the motion as follows:

Moved that the vote by which House Bill No. 354, entitled,

An Act for the protection of the public health by prohibiting the use fo finger bowls unless such finger bowls are thoroughly cleansed after each individual use and providing a penalty for violation thereof which was defeated on third reading, on Monday, February 17th, 1913, be re-considered.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER: I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RICHARDS: Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER: The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Richards.

Mr. RICHARDS: Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House, this bill is known better by the name of the "Finger Bowl Bill" than it is by the number of the bill. "Finger Bowl" or some other name is one to convey the idea of a freak bill. This bill has more virtue in it than it would seem on first thought. I know that it should not be necessary for this body to enact into a law a measure compelling the proprietors of the public eating houses to serve the people of this Commonwealth with clean finger-bowls. Experience has taught us that it is necessary to do this at this time. This bill has been given serious consideration by those who are most heartily interested in the preservation of health. All the people of this State, the members of this House know why this bill was given to the honorable gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Runk, to present. It was referred to the Committee on Health and Sanitation and after a very serious consideration by that Committee, it was reported back to this House with an affirmative recommendation and by a unanimous vote of that Committee. In my opinion it is just as necessary for the protection of our health and possibly our lives that we should be served with clean finger-bowls as it is that we should be served with clean cups or forks or spoons, if you please.

I believe, Mr. Speaker, that if the members of this House would give this bill serious consideration, the consideration that it deserves, I feel sure that they would vote to support this motion. I am very much in favor of this bill for this reason:—We will suppose that some person who is unfortunate enough to be afflicted with tuberculosis, if you please, should dip their fingers into a bowl and then cleanse their lip with this water and that water immediately becomes infected with the germs and you and I are liable to be inoculated with these germs and more especially if there is an abrasion of the skin on the fingers or lip. There are other contagious diseases that I might mention that in my opinion is even more serious and as dangerous as tuberculosis, that we are liable to contract by using finger-bowls that have not been properly cleaned and I ask the members of this House to give it the consideration that is due it. It does not carry any appropriation with it. It has been stated by some mmebers of this House that the bill itself does not carry with it the provision for its enactment, but I have learned through that worthy gentleman, Dr. Dixon, that the State Board of Health wishes to get the present law to have the right to make rules governing such cases as this, and they are only too anxious that this shall become a law and they want the opportunity to enforce it so that we may protect some one from the hideous diseases and horrible deaths, perhaps. I ask the members of this House to vote for this measure.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE MESSAGE.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented extracts from the Journal of the House of Representatives which were laid upon the table.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BUCKMAN, from the Committee on Public Roads and Highways, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 386, entitled:

An Act providing for county organizations and annual meetings of supervisors of townships of the second class, and fixing the compensation and expenses to be paid by the proper townships.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, my question of personal privilege is in relation to the confirmation of Mr. Bigelow last night.

Mr. President, last evening I was recorded as voting against the confirmation of Mr. Bigelow. It was my intention when I came to Harrisburg this week to cast a vote in the affirmative. When I came into the Senate chamber last evening I was accosted by one of the Senators—I was late, however, getting in—and he asked me as to how I was going to vote on the confirmation of Mr. Bigelow. I told him that I thought that I would vote in the affirmative, but I said in all fairness to the men that we have been aligning with here, the men that we have taken this matter up with, and the men that have been the leaders of the opposition of which we were a part, I thought it no more than fair to those men that we should meet them in a committee room or elsewhere and that we should tell them there what our contentions were on this confirmation. I thought it was no more than fair that I should meet those men. I had told them what I was going to do, that I was going to consider it for a week and was going to investigate, and I thought it no more than fair that I should meet them like a man and tell them I was going to vote for Mr. Bigelow. I want it understood that there is not one iota of politics mixed up with me in this. I wanted it understood when I came here to favor Mr. Bigelow that it was because I felt convinced within myself from the investigation that I have made that he has made as good a State officer as we have had. I want to say that my investigation has proved that he is the man that we should have as Commissioner of Highways in this State. I come from a district that is largely insurgent. I was elected on a straight Republican ticket, but I am not down here to further any political ends at all. I am not down here to throw coals on the head of anybody. I am not down here making this statement in order to win political favor; I am not seeking it, do not want it. I have certain measures introduced in this Senate and they are introduced on their merits. There are certain things I will ask and they have merit. If you do not see the merits, if the other Senators do not see the merits in them, they do not need to vote for them, and they can vote against the other things that I ask. From my investigation at the outstart I was convinced that I would not support Mr. Bigelow, and the things that came to me were things that caused me to investigate, such as the letting of contracts. It came to my ears that up in my county on a contract the difference between the highest bidder and the lowest bidder was several thousand dollars and the contract was given to the highest bidder. I have investigated that and found out it was a malicious lie. I have found out the people who told me that were mistaken. I am here to award efficiency. I think Mr. Bigelow and the men under him have been efficient and for that reason I am here to put the stamp of approval on what he has done, and the vote that was cast by me last night was not cast by me as a vote of disapproval of what he has done, but it was a vote that I was standing by my friends until I informed them as to what I intended to do as to this confirmation. I served notice on the friends of Mr. Bigelow last night that if it comes up tonight I will not vote for Mr. Bigelow, but if it comes up tomorrow I will, and tomorrow I will serve notice on my friends that I am going to leave them. And Mr. President, I am conscientious in the stand I have made. As I said before, it is not with political gain in mind that I make these remarks. I make them because I am conscientiously convinced that Mr. Bigelow is the proper man we should have at the head of this department.

Resolved, That we ask the passage of (1) a law forbidding the sale of liquor in clubs; (2) a local law, and (3) the submission to a vote of the people of Pennsylvania, of a prohibitory amendment to the State Constitution.

FREDERIC A. GOULD, Pastor, Ch.

F. S. SOUTHWORTH, Sec.

New Brighton, Pa.
Feb. 16, 1913.

RESIGNATION OF ASSASTANT CUSTODIAN OF THE WASHROOM.

He also laid before the Senate communication which was read as follows:

Philadelphia, Penna.,
February 25, 1913.

Hon. John M. Reynolds, President of the Senate.

My dear Sir:—I hereby tender my resignation as Assistant Custodian of the Wash Room of the Senate to take effect Feb. 28, 1913.

Very respectively yours,
DAVID LARE.

ASSISTANT CUSTODIAN OF THE WASHROOM.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CROW offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, February 25th, 1913.

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Rev. A. E. Fletcher offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we worship Thee as the only true and living God, the Giver of every good and perfect gift. We thank Thee for this day, with its privileges and responsibilities. We thank Thee for the gift of life, and for life's unsullied page, on which introductory words for the day have already been written Grant O God, that with a due sense of our individual responsibilities we shall go on to its completion; and, as the evening shadows gather, and Memory shall make her retrospect and review, may there be no accusing conscience, but rather a peaceful sense of satisfaction that under God, with the light we have and out of a clear conception of righteous duty, we did the best we knew for our fellows and our God, to this end command Thy blessing and benediction to rest upon us that by us and through us Thou shalt come into possession of Thine own.

We ask with the forgiveness of sin, in the name of the Lord Christ. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of the proceedings of February 24th, 1913.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the proceedings of February 24th, 1913, when on motion of Mr. Leslie, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 657, entitled:

An Act to repeal an act entitled "A supplement to the act entitled 'An act for preventing clandestine marriages'" approved the fourteenth day of February Anno Domini one thousand seven hundred thirty

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. S. B. Scott.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, at the last session of the Legislature, a bill referring to divorces passed so quietly and easily that very few members realized until it was fairly ventilated in the newspapers that they had voted for any such bill. Now, here comes a bill on the subject of marriage. There is absolutely nothing in the bill itself to tell you what it means; it simply repeals the section of some old act. It would be a piece of great unwisdom to vote on such an important bill in such a blind way. I notice that the sponsor of the bill is not here. For that reason, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed.

Mr. RICHARDS. I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 470, entitled:

An Act authorizing the trustees of the Cottage State Hospital located in Connellsville Pennsylvania to dedicate to public use a certain triangular piece of land upon which shall be opened a public street immediately adjoining property of the institution

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 658, entitled:

An Act to repeal an act entitled "An Act for the prevention of clandestine marriages."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. S. B SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, for the same reasons given for the postponement of a bill just postponed, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. BROSIUS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 574, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven, entitled "An Act providing for the election of commissioners of townships of the first class of this Commonwealth and the filling of vacancies in the office of township treasurer and township commissioner in said townships," and repealing the second section of the act.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 582, entitled:

A supplement to an act entitled "An Act to provide for the better government of cities of the first class in this Commonwealth,' approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, creating a department of wharves, docks and ferries for the improvement, regulation and supervision of the construction, extension, alteration, maintenance and use of wharves, piers, bulkheads, docks, slips, basins, ferries, harbors and harbor structures in cities of the first class, and providing for the making and enforcement of rules and regulations and fixing certain penalties for violation thereof and providing for the acquisition of property by said cities by purchase and by condemnation for certain purposes, approved the eighth day of June, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and seven.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides that the department of wharves, docks and ferries in Philadelphia shall insist upon wharf owners having berthing spaces for renting to vessels not owned by themselves. Taking out a license from the said department provides that when said application for license is made, a fee of ten dollars be paid to the said department, which fee shall be applied by the director of wharves, docks and ferries in the making of a survey for the purpose of ascertaining the mean low depth of water in such dock. It so happens in Philadelphia, particularly in the northern section of the city, where because of the scarcity of municipal piers vessel owners are obliged to take what they can get. A schooner drawing eight feet of water will run in at flood tide, to a pier high up the river and when the tide ebbs to find that it is about on dry land. This bill provides that after such survey as to water depth a placard shall be posted at the end of the pier, stating the depth of the water of such dock at low tide and then the vessel owners, knowing the draught of its vessel can see for himself whether he will have adequate dock space on any particular pier.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

An amendment to an act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An Act to provide for the better government of cities of the first class in this Commonwealth,' approved the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five creating a department of wharves, docks and ferries (for the improvement, regulation and supervision of the construction, extension, alteration, maintenance and use of wharves, piers, bulkheads, docks, slips, basins, ferries, harbors and harbor structures in cities of the first class and providing for the making and enforcement of rules and regulations, and fixing certain penalties for violation thereof and providing for the acquisition of property by said cities by purchase and by condemnation for certain purposes) approved the eighth day of June, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and seven as amended by an act entitled "An Act to amend the fifteenth section of an act approved the eighth day of June, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and seven, entitled 'A supplement to an act entitled 'An Act to provide for the better government of cities of the first class in this Commonwealth,' approved the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, creating a department of wharves, docks and ferries (for the improvement, regulation and supervision of the construction, extension, alteration, maintenance and use of wharves, piers, bulkheads, docks, slips, basins, ferries, harbors and harbor structures in cities of the first class and) providing for the making and enforcement of rules and regulations and fixing certain penalties for violation thereof, and providing for the acquisition of property by said cities by purchase and by condemnation for certain purposes,' by fixing the number of the jury at three," approved the twenty-seventh day of April, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House, this is a bill which is very necessary in order that the department of wharves, docks and ferries in Philadelphia, under the direction of city councils, shall have full power in the development of the water front in Philadelphia. The Act of 1907, which was an amendment to the Act of 1885, known as the Bullitt Bill, had been intended to give sufficient power to the department of wharves, docks and ferries and, of course, under the direction of councils, failed to give such full and complete power as is now shown to be necessary for the proper development of the water front of Philadelphia. It so happens that a small pier unused for years, with one small single railroad track, has been construed to be a railroad terminal and exempt from the Eminent Domain authority of councils. This of course, has strangled developments along the water front.

This bill now provides that such condition obstructing Philadelphia's progress shall no longer be tolerated. As the Chief Executive of Philadelphia well said here before this House a week or two ago, "Philadelphia is about equally distant from the sea as is Hamburg, and Philadelphia should be a city on a par with Hamburg, but how different is our commercial standing?"

I take it, therefore, that in the development of Philadelphia the man from Erie and the man from Allegheny feels an interest akin to my own in the promotion of the interests of Philadelphia. It should appeal to us all because Philadelphia's progress is the progress of Pennsylvania. I, therefore, take it that the unanimous vote of this House will be given to this bill in order that the continental seaports of Europe may appear to have a rival in the southeastern corner of this State, in our city of Philadelphia, that is but ninety miles from the sea and that she may have a water front sufficient to ask the shipping interests of the world to her port.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House bill No. 210, entitled:

An Act to amend title and sections three and four and five and six and nine and eleven of an act entitled "An act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its minor branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation and suspension of licenses given by said bureau and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. HEMMINGER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House bill No. 575, entitled:

An Act to prohibit the letting of prison labor by contract to regulate the employment of prisoners in all State and county prisons and reformatories regulating the disposition of the products of prison labor and providing penalty for its violation

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, it appears that in section six, line eleven, there is a typographical error. After the word "any" the word "manner" is left out, and I therefore ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Section 6, line 11, after the word "any" insert the word "manner."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendment as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and considera tion of House bill No. 352, entitled:

An Act to amend sections three and four of an act approved the eighth day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three entitled "An act relating to husband and wife enlarging her capacity to acquire and dispose of property to sue and be sued and to make last will and enabiling them to sue and testify against each other in certain cases" by providing that they may sue each other and testify against each other in certain cases

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I ask the sponsor of this bill to explain the purpose of it.

Mr. ALWORTH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the purpose of this bill, as amending the act of 1893, is simply to extend the reciprocal rights of husband and wife to sue each other in actions for divorce, or any actions concerning their separate property. It simply extends the reciprocal rights of husband and wife in relation to these two actions, and that is all it does.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House bill No. 547, as follows:

A Joint Resolution requiring the construction of an adequate fish way in the dam constructed across the Susquehanna River by the McCall's Ferry Power Company now the Pennsylvania Water and Power Company at McCall's Ferry providing how and when and by whom such fish way shall be constructed and providing penalties for failure to comply with the terms of this resolution

Whereas The McCall's Ferry Power Company now know as Pennsylvania Water Power Company has heretofore erected a dam across the River Susquehanna at McCall's Ferry and

Whereas In the decree of court authorizing the construction of said dam the construction and maintenance thereof was subject to the making and maintaining by said company of adequate provision for the passage of fish and

Whereas The said company in wanton and flagrant violation and disregard of said decree has hitherto refused and neglected to comply therewith and has willfully refused and neglected to make adequate provision for the passage of fish as aforesaid and

Whereas Inasmuch as said company has acted in flagrant contempt of the laws of this Commonwealth and of said decree the powers and privileges vested in said company should be revoked and the company made to realize that it cannot with impunity act in willful disregard of the rights of the citizens of Pennsylvania therefore

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the fish Commissioner is hereby authorized to examine the dam erected across the Susquehanna River at McCall's Ferry by the McCall's Ferry Power Company now the Pennsylvania Water and Power Company and to ascertain whether said Company has complied with the decree of the court of common pleas of Dauphin County made on to wit the fourteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred and seven as of record at number four hundred sixty-two Commonwealth docket one thousand nine hundred six and to ascertain whether adequate provision has been made for the passage of fish If the fish Commissioner shall ascertain that adequate provision for the passage of fish has not been made he shall in writing notify the said company to began within one week and complete within six weeks from the date of such notice the construction of a fish way that will hereafter secure adequate provision for the passage of fish up and down said river If said company shall not after the expiration of one week from service of said notice on any official of the company begin such work and prosecute it continuously to completion within the said limit of time and in accordance with plans heretofore or hereafter prepared by the Fish Commissioner then said Fish Commissioner is hereby authorized to cause said work to be done in accordance with said plans and at the cost of the said company If the work be done by the Fish Commissioner he is hereby authorized to collect in the name of this Commonwealth the cost thereof with a penalty of fifty per centum additional to be collected as debts of like amount are now by law collected The surplus after payment for said work shall be paid into the treasury of this Commonwealth Furthemore if the said company shall not begin said work as aforesaid the Fish Commissioner shall lay the matter before the Attorney General who shall forthwith by quo warranto proceed to have the powers and privileges heretofore vested in said company revoked

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the purpose of this bill is simply to compel the McCalls Ferry Power Company now the Pennsylvania Water and Power Company at McCalls Ferry to construct an adequate fishway through the McCalls Ferry Dam, an act which the law compels them to do. In 1906 during the time when this dam was in the course of construction, the State of Pennsylvania, through its Attorney-General, filed a bill in equity calling upon this Company to construct an adequate fishway through this great dam, and also to make provisions for the construction of locks in the event that the Susquehanna River should become navigable. In the bill filed by the Attorney-General, the said Attorney-General recites as follows: "That the erection of the dam as aforesaid, in the manner aforesaid, without provision for the passage of fish is in violation of the statutes of the Commonwealth and destructive of a natural food which belongs to the people and which the Commonwealth by many statutes has sought to protect. After the bill was filed, the case came up for hearing before the Court of Dauphin County and the following decree was handed down:

January 14, 1907, the above entitled cause was heard upon bill and answer, was argued by counsel and has been fully considered by the court.

The Commonwealth, by her Attorney General, has submitted the form of decree she desires entered and counsel for defendants have been fully heard theron. The same upon full consideration and argument, commending itself to the court, is adopted and the decree in the said form is now made and ordered to be entered as follows:

"And now, this 14th day of Jan. 1907, the above cause having come on to be heard upon bill and answer and having been argued by counsel, it is ordered and decreed that the right of the defendant, The McCall Ferry Power Company, to continue the construction of a dam now in course of erection on the Susquehanna River and to maintain said dam after the same shall have been constructed, shall be subject to its making and maintaining adequate provision for the passage of fish, and further shall be subject to the condition that said defendant corporation, its successors and assigns, whenever the navigation of said Susquehanna River shall hereafter be improved either under State or Federal requirement in such way and manner as will secure by the additional construction of a proper lock, or locks, a continuous navigation of said River between Columbia nad Havre de Grace, such lock or locks necessary to make said navigation continuous shall be erected without delay by the defendant corporation and its assigns, as its and their own expense, and the physical condition of said lock shall be maintained in good order thereafter.

"It is further ordered and decreed that the McCall Ferry Power Company be and is hereby enjoined from the further maintenance of said dam after such time as, said navigation of said River having been made otherwise continuous, said Company shall fail within a reasonable time to erect and construct, at its expense said lock."

By the Court,
(Signed) George Kunkel, P. J.
(Signed) Thomas H. Capp, P. L. J.

In other words, in 1907, the McCalls Ferry and Power Company were compelled by a decree of the Court of Equity of Dauphin County to construct an adequate fishway so that the fish would pass up and down this river. From the year 1771, when the State of Pennsylvania was a province, the Susquehanna River was declared to be a public highway, and it has been maintained as a public highway in all the statutes from 1771 down to the present day. Now, since 1907, when this decree of the Dauphin County Court sustained that long line of decisions and that long line of cases compelled the direct passage of fish up and down this river, there has not been a single thing done by the McCalls Ferry Power Company except the farcial erection of a fishway, and no fish even if it had the brain of a Daniel Webster or the agility of an acrobat could get up that fishway, and the people of the State of Pennsylvania are sick and tired at the present time of the farce and delay to which this company has submitted the people. We now demand that this company and corporation construct a fishway as decreed by the Court. We now demand that this great corporation no longer defy the people of this State, and construct a fishway in order that the great number of shad that pass up and down the river in the spring of the year, be permitted to pass up and down, and that those shad interests above the McCalls Ferry Dam be reinstated in their rights and it is for that reason that we desire that this resolution should pass in order that the people be not laughed at, in order that the people have their rights, in order that a great corporation cannot take advantage of the poor man or of men who are compelled to earn their living by the sweat of their brows and by the nets in the Susquehanna River, and therefore I consider this is a very important resolution, particularly to the people who reside along the Susquehanna River and who depend upon the Susquehanna shad.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading,

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON SECOND READING.

The SPEAKER. The hour of eleven o'clock A. M. having arrived, in pursuance with the special order, the Chair lays before the House House bill No. 306, File Folio 385, Bill on Second Reading, entitled:

An Act to further regulate the granting of licenses for the sale of vinous spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixture thereof by permitting the electors of any county in this Commonwealth residing outside of a city or borough containing a population of ten thousand or upward and by permitting the electors of any city or borough containing a population of ten thousand or upward to determine by an election whether the granting of licenses for such sale therein shall be prohibited

The first and second sections of the bill were read and agreed to as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever a number of the qualified electors of any county residing outside of any city or borough containing a population of ten thousand or more equaling twenty-five per centum of the number of votes cast therein at the last preceding general election or whenever a number of the qualified electors of any city or borough containing a population of ten thousand or more equaling twenty-five per centum of the number of votes cast therein at the last preceding general election shall present a petition to the court of quarter sessions of the peace of the proper county verified by the affidavits of three of the petitioners praying for the holding of an election to determine whether the granting of licenses for the sale or furnishing of vinous spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixture thereof in said county outside of any borough or city containing ten thousand population or more or in said borough or city containing a population of ten thousand or more it shall be the duty of said court of quarter sessions of the peace to order an election to be held in the said county or borough or city in not less than thirty days nor more than forty days from the date of such order which election shall be held by the regular election officers at the usual place or places for holding elections in said county borough or city and the election shall be conducted in all respects as now provided by law and all election officers shall be governed by the directions and subject to the penalties and be compensated as now provided by law for the holding of general elections Notice of such election shall be given by the officers designated and in the manner provided by existing laws relating to county or borough or city elections in so far as same may be applicable and every such notice shall state (first) the question to be voted upon as hereinafter set forth (second) the day and place of holding said elections (third) that the polls shall be open between the hours of seven o'clock ante meridian and seven o'clock post meridian

Section 2 The ballots at any election held under the provisions of this act shall be printed distributed and furnished and in such quantities and of the form as is provided by existing laws relating to general elections Upon such ballots shall be printed the question Shall the granting of license for the sale of intoxicatig liquors be prohibited" followed by the words "Yes" and "No" with a square of sufficient size at the right of each of said words in which to give the elector an opportunity to clearly designate his choice by a cross mark (X) placed in one of the said squares

The third section was read as follows:

Section 3 Each qualified elector receiving a ballot provided for by this act in accordance with existing laws may mark in the appropriate square a cross (x) opposite the answer he desires to give and all votes cast at said election held under the provisions of this act shall be counted and declared and a complete return of the same made to the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of the peace of the proper county in accordance with existing laws relating to county city or borough election returns and the clerk shall certify to said court

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, in section three, line nine, there is a typographical or printer's error. There are two words left out after the word certify. The two words that should be inserted in there, are the words, "the results," and I therefore, offer an amendment to that effect.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was then read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section three, line nine by inserting after the word "certify," the words, "the results."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

The section as amended was then agreed to.

The fourth, fifth and sixth sections were read and agreed to as follows:

Section 4 Whenever it shall appear by the returns aforesaid that a majority of the votes cast at such election are in favor or prohibiting the granting of such licenses in the county in which said election shall have been held outside of boroughs or cities containing a population of ten thousand or more when it shall appear by the returns aforesaid that a majority of the votes cast at such election are in favor of prohibiting the granting of such license in the borough or city containing a population of ten thousand or more in which such election shall have been held it shall thereupon become unlawful for said court of quarter sessions of the peace or other authority to which may hereafter be transferred the power relating to said subject now vested in said court of quarter sessions to issue or grant any license authorizing the sale or furnishing of any vinous spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixture thereof in said county outside of cities or boroughs containing a population of ten thousand or upwards or in said borough or city containing a population of ten thousand or more at any time thereafter until at an election held as hereinafter provided a majority of the electors voting thereat shall vote against prohibiting the granting of such licenses therein

Section 5 At any time after three years from the date of an election held under the foregoing provisions of this act another such election may be ordered and held as hereinbefore provided

Section 6 This act shall not be construed to repeal any special or local laws relating to the sale or granting of licenses to sell intoxicating liquors nor shall it be construed to prevent the granting or refusal of a license under existing laws and the same as if this act had not been passed in counties boroughs or cities where the majority of the votes cast at an election held as herein before provided are against prohibiting the granting of license to sell intoxicating liquors

The title was read and agreed to as follows:

An Act to further regulate the granting of licenses for the sale of vinous spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixture thereof by permitting the electors of any county in this Commonwealth residing outside of a city or borough containing a population of ten thousand or upward and by permitting the electors of any city or borough containing a population of ten thousand or upward to determine by an election whether the granting of licenses for such sale therein shall be prohibited

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, what is this bill? that it seems to demand such extraordinary proceedings as is indicated by the practice we have had on it, and as indicated by the indications here now? It was stated by a member on the floor of this House the other day that this bill was blocking and holding back the legislation of this House. It was stated by another member that they wanted to fix it as a special order for the reason that they want to get rid of it so that their people would not have to come down here so often. I do not know who their people are. The bill is a simple thing in its provisions, if we look at it. Under the present law, the liquor business in this State is known and treated as an evil, and is so recognized by practically every citizen of this Commonwealth, and a majority of the hotel keepers themselves. There are but few of them but what would rather be in some other business. I remember an instance a few years ago of a application for a wholesale liquor license where a retail dealer was called into the court to testify as to the necessity of this wholesale place. He was asked what his business was, and he said a hotel keeper. He was asked how long he had been engaged in that business, "Too long," he said. Then we have the liquor law—a statute on our books specifying an act to control and regulate the sale of vinous, spirituous malt and brewed liquors, known as the Brooks High License Law. It provides that upon the petition of a certain number of electors of a borough, township or city ward, that the Court of Quarter Sessions shall consider that as a petition for the granting of a license. Then it provides that the citizens of that same district may remonstrate against it, and it then provides that the judge of that Court of Quarter Sessions, taking into due consideration the number and character of the petitioners for, and the remonstrances against such application shall refuse the same whenever in his opinion the license is not necessary for the accommodation of the public and the entertainment of strangers and travelers. It is alleged by both the factions opposed to the liquor business and those in favor of it that this judicial discretion, Some allege that it is abused in one way and some allege that it is abused in another way. This bill is what? It simply provides that in a county, we will say, where a county does not contain any city or borough of over ten thousand people, it simply provides that upon the petition of twenty-five per cent. of the electors of that county that they can have a special election to vote and decide whether licenses shall be granted in that county for the sale of vinous, spirituous, malt and brewed liquors, and it provides the machinery for the people themselves who have to suffer the evils of this business and bear the burden of taxation to take care of its result that they may be heard whether licenses shall be granted or not. I have no fault to find with the liquor dealers. They are in their business by right of law, and many of them are great-hearted, whole-souled fellows, and some of them are perfectly sincere in their belief that this is a proper way to control the business, but there are others that think the other way, and we feel that this proposition is only a fair, just, and reasonable one, to put this matter back to the people where they can say whether licenses shall be granted or not. I remember the other night, on the floor of this House, when the Committee on Law and Order had under consideration the Club License Bill, one of the opponents of that bill spoke very disparagingly of some of the judges of the State of Pennsylvania in their practice of controlling the liquor business, and you will remember, who were present at that argument, that they said they did not want the club to be compelled to apply to the judges of the court of Quarter Sessions, for the reason that they did not, in substance, trust the judges. The judges themselves, gentlemen, do not want this burden put upon them. The majority of them would be very glad to get rid of it, and it seems to me that that is one reason that we ought to take into consideration in our judgment as to whether we ought to vote for this bill or not. I want to say another thing, inasmuch as I have said something about the liquor business. There has been a great deal of criticism of the Anti-Saloon League. Who composes that League? My understanding is, gentlemen, that it is composed of the members of the Christian churches of the State of Pennsylvania and the United States, not all of them,—but they are people who have an honest and sincere purpose in their hearts to benefit their fellowmen. There may be cranks associated with the Anti-Saloon League, but the League as a whole is composed of men who are honestly and sincerely and earnestly endeavoring to do their work, simply to benefit their fellowmen. The other day when this bill was up, I stated something about a question of constitutionality. After a careful examination I believe that the bill is constitutional. The question was whether or not the Legislature had a right to classify the districts or units as so classified. A very fortunate suggestion was made to me by one of the gentlemen from Allegheny right along this very line, and that is this: In the School Code, which we passed in 1911, we did classify districts in this similar manner, not only in a manner similar to the classification in this bill but in a more drastic degree, that cities of one million should be cities of the first class and should not have the right to say who the school directors should be, but that the directors should be appointed by the court. We went on down the line and classified the districts down to communities of five thousand people and declared them to be districts of the fourth class. This School Code has been held by the highest court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to be constitutional. In 236 Pennsylvania Supreme Court Reports on page 33, the Chief Justice said: "The Act of 1911 establishes school districts based upon classification is recognized under the law of our State. Such classification has been supported when applied to cities, counties and townships, and we can conceive of no reason why it should not be sustained when applied to school districts." I wish to say simply that much as the oponents to this bill may argue that it is unconstitutional, and taking that as a precedent, it seems to me that there can be no question that this bill becomes a law and it were put up to the Court, it would be declared by it to be constitutional. Is the proposition reasonable. It seems to me that it is.

It is simply a question that when a certain number of electors in any district or unit present a petition to the Court of Quarter Sessions, if twenty-five per cent. of them want the matter put to a vote, the Court shall order an election, and if a majority of the electors of that unit vote against the granting of licenses, the court of Quarter Sessions shall be absolutely prohibited from granting licenses in that unit. It is simply going a step in the right direction, referring this question to the people, a step in the line of referendum which is growing and the people are demanding with a louder and louder voice than ever before, and it is simply giving the people the right to say what they want along this line. What effect would it have on the Brooks Law? If the measure be submitted to a special election in the way herein stated, it would have no effect on the Brooks Law in any shape or manner. If the matter is put to a special election so far as this proposition is concerned, then it simply comes up to a selection by the people, and if a majority of the electors in any one unit vote against the granting of licenses, the Court of Quarter Sessions is absolutely prohibited from the granting of licenses in that unit.

There seems to be a difference of opinion among the members as to what the unit shall be but after a conference meeting and going over the matter thoroughly, a majority seems to favor the unit, that is prescribed in the bill we have before us. That is the proper unit, excepting in cities or boroughs of ten thousand people or over. Let me cite a concrete example: The County of Dauphin, for instance. I am informed that the city of Harrisburg is the only city or borough in the County of Dauphin that would come under a second unit. Therefore, the whole County of Dauphin outside of the City of Harrisburg would be one unit and the people, if they thought it wise to have the machinery put in operation and would vote as a unit as a whole in the city and in the county, that would be an entire unit and they would vote the same way. In Lycoming it would be the same way. In the City of Williamsport, there would be two units in that county. There will be arguments made, of course, that the Local Option position is not a good one, in that it does not aid the purpose for which it is intended, but in line of this, I want to call your attention to the condition of the United States as a whole. Only five states in the whole United States but what have a law similar or a prohibitory law along this line, similar to a Local Option Law and probably there are a number of the members of this House who have seen a map of this proposition and those states that are enlisted on that map as "Black States" are the states of Montana, Nevada, Arizona, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. This is reasonable to suppose that all of these States—(forty-two of them) having similar laws like this on their statute books and if it were no good, do you suppose they would keep it there and not repeal it? When we advocated this bill, we didn't expect to bring a millenimum or if it becomes a law, we don't expect that it is going to wipe out all the liquor business. We do hope if this bill becomes a law that it will further regulate and restrain the business of dealing in intoxicating liquors. We have laws on our books prohibiting a man killing another human being, but does that prevent murder? We have a statute on our books preventing one man from stealing another man's property but does that prevent stealing? It does not; but it tends to regulate and punish a man if he does not obey the law. We hope if this bill becomes a law and we believe it will, that it will further regulate and restrain the liquor business. I don't believe that it is wise to take up further time in arguing this bill but I do feel that it is a little bit uncourteous the way the gentlemen are opposing this bill and the way they have treated it. The sponser of this bill demands the yeas and nays on second reading.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stein.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, I have listened with much pleasure and some satisfaction to the very logical argument by my friend from Tioga but I am sorry that I cannot agree with him in his conclusions, on either the law or the political requirements of this bill, I want to say for the information of the House that this bill is almost identical with the same kind of bill for the same purpose that was presented in the session of 1909. At that session the bill was defeated on second reading and was defeated by a very considerable majority. I use the records of the session of 1909 as a precedent for our procedure in the present case. In 1909, this bill was defeated on second reading. I feel that it is proper to the interests concerned that we carry out that precedent and defeat it in the second reading at this session of 1913. I want to say to the gentleman and all the friends who stand back of this bill that this procedure is not at all an act of discourtesy or criticism, so far as their conduct is concerned. It is an act of justice and fair play to all the interests concerned. Now, the gentleman has seen fit to go a little beyond the record, in his argument on this act and the gentleman states that the School Code which was inacted at the last session in 1911, contained a provision directly opposite from this. The gentleman says that his bill is strictly constitutional and says that because in the School Code of 1911 we classified the cities and permitted courts to appoint, instead of the people elect, therefore it is all right in this case. That argument, it seems to me, is certainly not logical and I will remind the gentleman that he is blowing hot and cold in the same draught. In the old session on that bill, it was a matter of legislation for our youths. It was on a matter that deals with every home and every family upon a matter of education that has to do with the future citizens of the land. My friend from Tioga and most all of the gentlemen of the House voted in favor of depriving the people of the State of the right to say who shall administer their school affairs. Yet to-day my friend is here asking that the people vote upon a matter which is not of political concern at all. When it comes to the election of School Directors, our friend says: "let the judges appoint. They are a better seat of power and discretion," but when it is a matter of licensing of liquor dealers, he says, "no, the judges are not of sufficient ability, let the people give us the right to say as to who shall elect and who shall not." I submit to the intelligence and fair judgment of the members of this House, that my friend's position is not at all logical. It is certainly inconsistent. He was very wrong at the last session and he is wrong at this session. My opinion is that he was wrong at both sessions. Now, the gentleman from Tioga says that he sees no harm in this bill. He says, "Why, what is wrong with allowing people of a district to vote on this question?" Gentlemen, there is considerable wrong. The wrong is merely this; not that we who oppose this bill favor drunkenness or crime or desire a violation of the law. I want to show to my good friend from Tioga, that there is no class of men in the whole State, who are more law-abiding, more in favor of the administration of law, than the men who are opposed to this legislation and because of their desire to support law and order, they don't want to see this liquor question be made a disturbing element in every political campaign. The people of the State ought to be engaged and this Legislature ought to be engaged in the consideration of what are truly political measures. God only knows there are many things in this State that need legislative correction and this House ought to be engaged in the solution of one of the greatest problems that confronts us, that is a better and more economic adjustment of the divisions of labor. We ought to be engaged in the enactment of a compensation law, public charities bill, better police regulation and a thousand and one other things for which society is really creating a demand and along which the people of Pennsylvania has a right to expect that we will engage our deliberation. Instead of that, some of the men who are favorable to this bill think that they can divert public attention that comes to this House and use it in the name of decency and morality. They say let us get up a fake election; let us draw these people into the ring of politics because from past experience, we know they are a good target for attack and we know that we can always attack them and there is now way in the land that will raise a voice in protest, for after all who cares for one saloon. He is a good fellow whom they may favor in every campaign, however. I say to you gentlemen of the House that the attitude of the liquor leagues who have absolutely no standing in this House, no more than any other private citizen and they have shown by their entire attitude that this is their little law which has not been introduced for any real sincere or earnest purpose. What would the act do if passed? I don't simply say that in every public center that the people of the town shall also be seperated from the costs of the county. I ask you gentlemen is it fair to divide a county on a purpose of that sort. Counties that contain cities and Commonwealths are founded for the purpose of carrying out the administration of the law and what is the sense of keeping counties in tact for every purpose except when it comes to a regulation in liquor traffic. I ask every gentleman in the House, don't you honestly believe, and when I say honestly, I mean honestly as a fair and impartial man, that taking your own experience in all your own community, don't you think we have a far better system of regulation under the present supervision before a Judge than you would have if you would allow this to become a disturbing element in every election.

Is there any man in this House who can say that in his town there is any saloon located in a residential section where it is not wanted? Is there any man who can say that in his neighborhood a saloon is a menace to the community and he cannot get rid of it by a remonstrance to the court? Why, gentlemen, let us be fair to the men engaged in this business. Let us be fair to the men who pay annually over two million dollars into the State Treasury, to the men who pay annually over ten million dollars into the National Treasury, to the men who pay almost a million dollars more to each of the largest cities of Pennsylvania. If there is a saloon we do not want, the judges will welcome a remonstrance with pleasure; in fact, most of the judges of this State are looking for some excuse to wipe out some undesirable saloons. All you have to do is, not to get up an election to disturb the whole community, but simply go in yourself and with your friends and have the proof and report the facts to the Court and the saloon will be jerked out of existence in five minutes. But my friends say that this is necessary because the people back of the bill claim they are doing society a great favor. They say let us eradicate this evil from our midst. I want to remind the gentlemen favoring this bill, that the ordinary lawful use of liquor is the privilege of every citizen of the land. It is a natural and inherent privilege that no organization, no society and no government can deprive that individual of, so long as he exercises that right with reasonable discretion, and does not offend upon the rights of his fellow men or of the State. Of course, the men opposing this bill do not propose to give any person the right to get drunk. If a man gets drunk, or commits a crime, I will be one of the first men to take the steps necessary to enforce the penalty provided by the law. But because a few rascally fellows and criminals may violate and abuse their privilege is no reason why the high-minded people and great mass of right living people in this State shall be deprived of their natural right to follow their own inclinations. Don't you know that society has no right to deprive us of any natural right except so far as is necessary for the preservation of the Commonwealth. You know that the average citizen has surrendered considerable of his liberty the moment he becomes a citizen of our community. I can find no right of any government to deprive him of the few remaining privileges such as taking a drink when he wants, so long as he does not offend the rights of the government or his fellow citizens. Just carry this one step further: The opposition says "It is all evil; it is all wrong." It is not inherently wrong to drink. It is only wrong because the Commonwealth says so, and the only time it becomes wrong is when the abuse takes place and the man gets drunk. It is not fair to say that of the eight million people in Pennsylvania there is not ten per cent. who are confirmed drunkards, or even average drunkards. I state to you again, and I say it and challenge contradiction from any man who favors this bill, that of the eight million people in Pennsylvania less than ten per cent. are habitual drunkards. I will go further. I say that less than five per cent., and I will go further, and if I am wrong I challenge contradiction, that less than two per cent. are habitual drunkards, and I believe, if I am right, it is probably less than one-half of one per cent. Now gentlemen what is the result? I repeat that again, that if I am wrong I challenge my friend from Tioga or any of his friends to contradict the statement, and I say that less than one-half of one per cent. of the eight million people of Pennsylvania are habitual drunkards or addicted to the use of liquor in intemperate manner. What have we? You will agree with me and it has been the law of the land and the teaching of philosophers and law makers everywhere that it is better, yea, even the good Book says that 'It is better that ninety-nine guilty men shall escape than that one innocent man shall suffer at the hands of the law." Isn't that logic? Isn't that law? Isn't that religion? It is better that ninety-nine guilty men escape than that one innocent man shall suffer. Now gentlemen bringing that down in its application to the case in hand, what have we? It is better that ninety-nine men be permitted to carry on their natural rights, than that because of one individual or isolated drunkard these ninety-nine men be deprived of their natural right. Besides you are setting a standard for very dangerous legislation. If you want to deprive a community of the use of liquor by elections I will go you one further. In my community there are many men of intelligence and standing, who claims that the use of tobacco, tea and coffee are just as injurious as liquor, and they have the facts and figures to show all the evil effects of these upon the human system, and some of their arguments are true, and as they come with moral force we respect them, but if they attempted to enforce their teachings by law we would meet them with contempt. There are men who with much force claim that the use of meat is brutalizing and that man wsa never intended to capture the lower animals and devour them as one people do another. And then there are the vegetarians and they have much reason and logic on their side and in so far as they attempt to teach us with moral argument and persuasion, we respect them, for their beliefs; but let them attempt to write such a law on the statute books and that every community shall have the right to vote on whether or not a man shall have a vegetable diet and what would you say? There is an honest difference of opinion. Isn't this just exactly the same thing? Ninety-nine out of one hundred are saying that the temperate use of liquor is all right and is not harmful, so long as you do not abuse your privilege. The individual men, who are actuated by agitators whose very job depends on the incomes of this sort of continual agitation, say that the world is going to pieces, that society is disintegrating all because there happens to be one drunk in one hundred, or one in two hundred. Therefore they say we will create an act that will disturb the entire Commonwealth; we will root out all the industries that have millions of dollars invested and give employment to thousand and thousands of men; and I wish you to remember all of the ramifications and all of the details that fit into that industry. These men say that we will disturb the whole State to get at the individual drunkards, possibly one or two hundred. Now gentlemen it seems to me that you certainly are going at the thing from the wrong end. If those high-minded men will devote one-half of the time and effort to the enforcement of the law as it now stands, if they will give their thought and attention to the solving of the far greater and more important problems that are stirring this Commonwealth to-day, I can assure them that they will be doing the Commonwealth a far better service and themselves also than by this continual agitation, which has no business in these legislative halls.

With this explanation, I think that I have taken more time with the subject than it deserves. My friend has said that there are many States that are totally dry, and as one of them, Maine, is usually cited as a State in which this works perfectly. I have here the report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for 1912 and no man can doubt it. It is printed by the Government and based upon the statistics and is the official report and, mark you, in the State of Maine, as in all others, we have this in 1912: That 2,465 illicit stills were seized and captured the year just closed, against 488 in the year past. Now, if that law is so operative and so wise and so easy of performance, how does it come that the United States Government discovers 2,400 violators of the law that the State cannot discover? The answer is simply because when you enact a law of this sort, you place a black-mailing club in the hands of the police authorities in every community, and we know, gentlemen, from our experience, that the police authorities have been guilty of blackmailing in all our large centers, and we are not going to give them any other means for further blackmailing or collecting tolls. Now let me show you further: I have here the official tables in each of the States my friends have named. In the State of Maine, usually cited as the paragon of fairness and virtue, we have in the State of Maine—now just thing of it gentlemen—there was licensed by the United States Government last year, 913 liquor dealers. Just think of it, a State that does not permit the selling of liquor, yet the federal government licensed to sell 913 retail, 11 wholesale and 493 dealers in malt and brewed liquors and 63 other dispensaries of liquor. Just think of it. Take that to thought; that means 1,600 licensed dealers. Think of it, 1,600 licensed dealers paying taxes to the Federal Government for the sale of liquor and yet the State statute says that liquor shall not be sold, in that Commonwealth. And what is more, the Federal laws provide the opportunity, and I call the attention of my friend Rockwell to this provision: That in the revised statutes 3,240 he will find that the Internal Revenue collector of every district has a list of every person who sells liquor in the district, who pays his special tax to the Government. That list is open public property and the law makes it mandatory upon the collector to furnish a copy to any person who is interested. If the church people or "God-fearing people" as my friend calls them in this Commonwealth, or the Commonwealth of Maine, will go into the Revenue Collector's office in any State that is dry, Maine or Georgia, they can get an official list of the violators of the law. Why don't they enforce it? Simply because there are some things that you cannot enforce. Because, after all, all laws depend upon the moral approval of the people rather than upon the written information of the statute. What is further, that same Federal act provides that the payment of any such tax shall not in any such way exempt the person, and I call particular attention to this because I have great faith in the ability of my friend from Tioga as a lawyer and great respect for him as a man, although I cannot share the same feeling toward his client. We have a Federal law as follows:

"The payment of any tax, imposed by the internal revenue laws for carrying on any trade or business shall not be held to exempt any person from any penalty on the same within such State, or in any manner to authorize the commencement or continuance of such trade or business contrary to the laws of such State or in a place prohibited by municipal law; nor shall the payment of any such tax be held to prohibit any State from placing a duty or tax on the same trade or business for the State or other purposes."

Don't you see that if you enact such a law you are enacting something that has been shown by years and years of experience and wisdom to be impossible of enforcement and when you get a law upon the statute books and place it in the hands of the police department to enforce and the people don't want it enforced, what have you? You have a repetition of what is now happening in New York City, and you have a repetition of what has recently occurred in San Francisco, Chicago and in all centers of population. You are simply placing the decent people in the hands of corrupt people.

I believe I can best serve my constituents, my own conscience and my own state when I vote in favor of taking away this further black-mailing scheme, taking it out of the hands of the local authorities and allowing it to rest where it is, in the safest and most honorable hands that human laws can be put, in our courts of justice.

And it is for these reasons that I ask every man in the house to vote against this bill so that we may not be disturbed by this ghost any longer.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the remarks of the gentleman who has just taken his seat seems to constitute a mere tissue or fibre. There are two main qualities underlying his whole remarks. In the first place, his idea that this subject is not a political one. That is to say, not a subject that is fit and proper for him to continually occupy himself with. This is a struggle which has been going on between society and these other agencies, which threaten the foundations of society. It is unfortunately a continuous struggle and therefore it is one which must continuously occupy the attention of those who represent society in the battle of self-preservation. We are occupied with this subject because we are obeying nature's first and fundamental law, the law of self-protection, and as long as we are confronted with the inroads of such an insidious enemy as the seductive preparation of alcohol is, so long must society, in organized form, through its lawfully elected representatives engaged in that struggle. Therefore we have the question and therefore we will continue to have it, until the question has been solved, and as long as it is important to our constituents it will be important to us, and therefore I think the suggestion that this subject ought to be shelved, gotten away from, hid under a bushel, is a suggestion which in its very nature and essence is absurd; and the only thing is to meet the question fair and square, meet it manfully, register our own conscientious opinions and then wait until the subject presents itself in some new form, requiring new action. So much for that phase of the gentleman's remarks.

The second subject which seems to me to need special attention is the strange confusion of the method of meeting the liquor evil through state-wide prohibition, and the method of local option. Now to my mind these two methods are as far apart as the poles. While it is true that they are both methods for meeting the same evil, they proceed upon radically different principals. Now if you will think for a moment, it is camparatively easy to pass laws absolutely prohibiting the sale and the unauthorized use even of certain well known and recognized poisons. For instance, we have on our statute books laws forbidding the sale of cocaine, prussic acid and other kinds of thoroughly understood and well recognized poisons. Nobody upholds the inherent and inalienable rights of a person to become a cocaine fiend. It is against the law. It is righteously against against the law and there is nobody who would make the law otherwise than it is. Now the difference between absolutely prohibiting the sale of liquor, except on medical prescription and the absolute prohibition of the sale of prussic acid, except upon proper prescription is this: That in the case of liquor, there are thousands and tens of thousands and hundreds of thousands of people who for their own use and for their own pleasure desire that they should be able to obtain liquor, without any specially onerous restrictions. Therefore we have this peculiar situation: We have a state trying to prevent what a large portion of its citizens wish to do. In other words, we have a proposition which from a governmental and political stand point is practically impossible. Government is simply the concrete expression of the will of those who are to be governed, that is, government in a free community; and when we have a very large section of a community who desire to do a thing there is no governmental force resident in the governmental machinery to prevent them from doing it. Now men have this peculiar phychology that they are perfectly willing to pass laws governing the other fellow which they are not willing to submit to themselves. It is a very peculiar psychology, but a very true trait of human nature; therefore in some states, such as Maine, we find that the legislature, urged on by an active section of the people, are perfectly willing to pass absolutely restrictive laws for the other fellow. You have probably heard of the remark attributed to a Maine legislator who said that he was in favor of prohibition but against the enforcement of it. Therefore the theory of local option comes in. It says that there are sections of the community which are seriously and actually desirous that within their own borders the sale of liquor should be prohibited, and in that governmental unit the will of the people is clear, and therefore it can be enforced. In other words we are now dealing with the question of how to enforce the will of the people when there are a great many rebellious subjectsj on that particular subject. It is largely a question of experience, not a question of abstruse and difficult theories of human rights. It is a question of practicality and the experience of the country so far has shown that in a large and heterogeneous state, where you may sometimes get a majority in favor of the prohibition of the sale of liquor, you cannot get such a unamnimity of general opinion that through the political machinery of law enforcement, the grand jury, constables, police and all the other cumbersome machinery of the law can you get a real vigorous and practical enforcement of the law. If, however, you pick out a homogeneous community where the people think alike, where the conditions are the same, then it is possible to get that homogenity of opinion; it is possible to get juries to act according to their oathes, according to the dictates of the law; therefore it does become practical to enforce the law in that particular community. For that reason when those who oppose this law cite the experience of such a state as Maine, it means that they totally fail to apprehand the theory and the philosophy of the local option principle. I look upon the local option principal as simply one phase of the eternal grapple between society and the insidious poisons which are sapping its very base. I look upon it as the most advanced, the most practical the sanest and the most reasonable stage of that particular grapple. I believe in it because I want to see the evil eliminated, and I believe this is a practical and not a theoretical way to do it.

Mr. McALLISTER: Mr. Speaker, there is no gentleman on the floor of the House who is more sincerely concerned in the moral welfare of the people of this State than I. Neither is there a member of this House who is freer to voice his honest opinions and register his vote according to the dictates of his own conscience. I am pledged to no faction, I represent no interests, and am prompted by no motive other than an honest, earnest desire to serve the best interests of all the people according to the understanding which has been given to me. I am opposed to this bill because I believe it impotent to accomplish the end aimed at. If the records of history and human experience teach anything at all it is that we cannot control the appetities of man through statutes of human government. The history and accumulated experience of all efforts directed along the lines contemplated in this bill covering a period of considerably more than half a century clearly and emphatically demonstrate that those cities, and counties and communities which have endeavored to correct the evils of intemperance through prohibitory measures have only succeeded in detracting from the moral status of the community and increasing the consumption of intoxicants. There have been very few exceptions to this rule, so few in fact, as to be merely exceptions. Therefore, in the light of past experience, and I know of no safer guide and monitor for the future than the experience of the past, I convinced that you cannot make a people either moral or temperate through legislation. The morality of a community can only be advanced by moral principles diffused through the community. I would not have any one infer than I am here as an advocate of vice or intemperance, for I am not. I believe in temperance not as a political issue but as a principle. I believe in temperance in all things, temperance in thought and in speech, as well as temperance in food and in drink. But the history of all times and of all people demonstrates the fact that you cannot compel obedience to the demands of temperance through the laws of man. You can by law define and make punishable offences infringing upon the rights and libiterties of others. The laws of the State of Pennsylvania regulating the issuance of licenses and the sale of intoxicating liquors already cover almost every legal precaution against intemperance that is possible under the Federal Constitution except the prohibition of the manufacture, and I do not believe that this extreme measure can be accomplished through legislation from now until the end of time. The specific purpose of this bill now under consideration is to afford the qualified voters of the various counties of the State an opportunity to decide for themselves whether or not it will be legal to issue licenses and to sell intoxicating liquors within their respective counties. The advocates of the measure advance as their reason for this demand that the people in every community shall have the right to decide for themselves all questions affecting the moral and social conditions surrounding them. If so, why not submit to the vote of the people of these communities the question as to whether or not they shall observe the Sabbath Day, or whether or not the people of these counties shall make their own regulations and laws affecting both the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors. Surely these are all questions affecting the morality and welfare of the people. Why not submit them all to the people? Gentlemen, with all your boasting in the superior wisdom and integrity of the people, you know, and we all know, there are many matters which cannot be safely trusted to the vote of any county or community. I am unalterably opposed to the referring of these matters to the vote of the people of any community, and you can publish that fact and carry it back to the people as fast as you can that I am not willing to submit to any community the right to decide questions of law which are deeper and of vastly more importance as affecting the character of the people of this Commonwealth than any statute ever written by man. A few days ago there was presented to this House a bill to legalize and permit the playing of baseball on Sunday. I know many communities where if the opportunity was afforded them to vote upon the question they would elect to play ball on that day, and yet I cannot believe that the people of this Commonwealth as a whole would lend their approval to decide for themselves whether it should be legal to desecrate the day appointed by Almighty God as a day of rest and worship. This bill is objectionable for the reason that it does not in effect and intent apply to all the people of the State alike. No matter what the text of the bill may actually recite and seem to imply the sponsors of this measure know as well as they know anything that the restraint sought for cannot be obtained in more than a quarter or one third of the units desigated in its text. Any law touching the morals of the people to be effective and respected should apply equally and impartially to all people alike. Gentlemen, the liquor question is absolutely and entirely a moral and social one. Morals are bound in principle and principle is a thing you cannot compromise with and one which conforms not to expediency. The man who is sincere and honest about the liquor business is voting for Statewide and nationwide prohibition. The man who is advocating local option, is carrying temperance as a side line for political purposes only. The local option advocate informs us that a man who votes the prohibition ticket is impracticable. Why- Because he says what he means and means what he says and votes that way? It is a matter of principle with him, not politics. A gentlemen who has devoted years of serious thought and effort to the cause of temperance said to me a short time ago that in his opinion a man who advocated local option as a means of promoting temperance and morality was either a hypocrit or a traitor to the cause or else was a moral coward. Gentlemen you can write me down for a fool, a fanatic, or a knave—what you will—but I believe there is but one power that can make this nation a moral and temperate people and that power eminates from Him who passed through the Garden of Gethsemane and who was crucified on Calvary.

Mr. CLAYCOMB. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, from time immemorial we have heard much about our boasted rights, and we have always spoken in thunderous tones in denfending them, and in speaking of our duties, sometimes we whisper. The liquor interests according to the gentleman from Allegheny who spoke a little while ago feel that if this bill becomes a law their natural rights will be taken from them. I want to say and quote the fact that is known to the members of this House generally as is found in Crowley V. Chritianson, 137 United States Reports, page 86, as follows: "It is undoubtedly true that it is the right of every citizen of the United States to pursue any lawful trade or business under such restrictions as are imposed upon all persons of the same age, sex and condition." There is no unalienable right for a citizen thus to sell by retail but it is a privilege given to the citizens of the United States so therefore, should the bill become a law, it is not taking away a right which is vested in the voice of the people. He further says, that should this bill become a law, that at every election there would be a disturbance and confusion. God knows and the people of Pennsylvania know that for many years in the State of Pennsylvania that its manner of conducting and operating the Brooks High License Law the liquor traffic has held sway and it has made it, therefore, a disturbing element in every election. The gentleman from Westmoreland says that no law can regulate the appetite and morals of the people. Would he strike from the statute books the law against murder, manslaughter, homicide and embezzlement? There has been no law passed by human agency that cannot be avoided by human agency, but so far as this local option law is concerned, the principle has been carried into effect to the advantage of the people of the State. Go into the State of West Virginia. In 1910 there were 748 convicts in the West Virginia Penitentiary. There are thirty-one dry counties and they are so by reason of local option, and they sent but 106 of those convicts to that penitentiary. There are twelve counties in which there was but one license under the operation of the law. Those twelve counties sent to that penitentiary 184 convicts. The eleven wet counties, so to speak, and wet by reason of the fact that the people said they wanted licenses sent the balance of those convicts to that penitentiary. Fayette County, the smallest county in the State, with but three per cent. of the population, but with more saloons than any other county in the State, sent twenty per cent. or one-fifth of all the convicts to the penitentiary, showing that where liquor reigns uncontrolled we have the criminal, we have the pauper and we have the insane. My good friend from Allegheny County speaks concerning habitual drunkenness or of those addicted to the liquor habit. Now then, I quote from the Massachusetts State Bureau of Statistics the following which is found on pages 406 and 407. "Of the adult paupers in the State of Massachusetts, 75 per cent. are addicted to the use of liquor; 40 per cent. attribute their pauperism to their own intemperate habits." The report on crime contained on pages 408 and 409 is as follows: "Of all the adult criminals 96 per cent. are addicted to the use of liquor. In 84 per cent. of all the criminals, the intemperate habits of the offender led to a condition which induced the crime. Now, Mr. Speaker is the local option law democratic? Is it in accord with the American spirit? Cardinal Gibbons about three years ago said: "I believe that the right of the people to determine by the operation of a local option law whether saloons shall or shall not be closed within their respective communities is in harmony with the American principle of self-government. Where the people do not attempt to close their saloons to decide by a vote to maintain them, I am in favor of high license and rigid restrictions, but not as a substitute for, nor in opposition to, local option." President Taft in a recent speech before Yale College about two years ago said that the legislators of the nation are solving the liquor problem through local option. He said it is working well because it is practical. Mr. Bryan has for the last seven, eight or ten years given the effort of his great life towards establishing the principle of local option. John Mitchell, known and honored throughout this Commonwealth says this: "I have given long and dep consideration to the value of local option as a up-lifting force in the community and I am convinced that it embodies the principle of true liberty." So we have about thirty-one Commonwealths in this Nation that say they want the Local Option Law. I belivce that it was in spirit and in harmony with the idea of self-government, and where it has operated and the conditions have been so controlled, it has operated to the advantage of the community. Now let me say that by reason of the people of Maine being free or practically free from intemperance, that there is more money on deposit in the savings banks per capita than in the other States, five times more than the State of Illinois and seven times more than in Ohio and Pennsylvania. Go where you will, in whatever clime, in whatever portion of this country where the principle of local option—and do we understand what local option is. I say where this principle of the option of the locality has been enforced we find some communities that do not want licenses and they say so. We have others that do want licenses and say so. Let me say that the gentleman who opposes this bill has not yet caught up. He has not seen the Day Star in the Eastern sky in all its splendor. Let me quote this from the Liquor Dealers Journal. In a recent issue it says: "Where the people voluntarily agree that they do not need saloons, there should be none." and further at the Annual Convention of the National Model License League in session in Louisville, Kentucky, adopted a series of resolution. The ninth resolution adopted read as follows: "That the National Model License League reiterates its conviction that the sale of alcoholic beverages can be properly regulated by providing that licenses shall renew themselves every year, until cancelled by a vote of the people, or by a conviction of violation of law." There we have it. The true principle of local option. So, I say, it is not a new theory, it is a theory as old as the Declaration of Independence where Jefferson wrote that "All men are created free and equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pusuit of happiness." Then he said, "That to secure these rights, Governments have been instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed." It is as old as the government itself and for us to come here again today and oppose this principle that has been permeating the nation at large and upheld as progressive and not political but has been upheld by reason of its effectiveness. then we are turning our eyes against the light. It is a call for militant men at this time and I hope will be responded to by you men. The gentleman from Westmoreland stated that those who now propose to submit the principle of local option to the people must have some ulterior motive other than the common good, and I resent the groundless and false imputation by saying that the manhood of Pennsylvania, and the Anti-Saloon League has no other ulterior movement than the common good. What good will it do the preachers and common people, thus engaged in this fight, if we should have local option and drive out the liquor interests. I ask that the manhood and the democracy of the State of Pennsylvania in the broad general sense of the word give a full vote in the support of this bill.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it is neither my intention or desire to make an effort to influence any member of this body, for or against the measure now under consideration, by the few remarks that I am about to make.

As the question before us is of considerable moment, I feel that is a duty which I owe both, to myself and the people whom I have the honor to represent, to give my reasons for assuming the attitude towards it which I do.

I therefore ask your indulgence for a short time for this purpose.

During many years a pernicious system prevailed in this Country, the legalized traffic in human flesh, efforts were made from time to time by both good men and women to bring about the abolition of this great wrong invariably without success.

At last there came a great statesman, a man of large intellect, strong personality and powerful eloquence, one who had been reared in the cradle of poverty, a man of the common people for the common people, he spread the gospel of abolition throughout the land, and by his efforts and appeals to the people the abolition of this evil became a national issue, a new political party was born, and this great statesman became its leader.

When those interested in slavery realized that the movement against this system was assuming formidable proportions they became alarmed, they made a proposal to Lincoln, that the question of slavery be submitted to a vote of the people.

Surely, said they it is but right that the people interested should decide as to whether or not they desire this system to exist amongst them.

His reply to this proposition was: Slavery is a great wrong, it is a national wrong, you can not correct a wrong by a popular vote, it must be eliminated constitutionally, a great war ensued, millions of dollars were expended, and thousands of lives were lost during this great struggle, but right prevailed and the foul blot of slavery was erased from the escutcheon of these United States forever.

So it is with the liquor evil, it is the equal of slavery, one held the body in bondage, the other enslaves both the body and the soul, it is a great wrong, it is a national wrong, and like Lincoln I hold that it cannot be corrected by a popular vote locally. it can only be accomplished by a constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture, sale and importation in this country.

Local option is abortisve because it does not correct the evil at which it is aimed.

It is selfish because we eliminate this evil from our own immediate premises, but are willing to permit it to exist and flourish upon those of our neighbors.

It is unfair and unjust because it deprives the people of one section of their property and livelyhood, only to enrich the coffers of those of another.

Prohibition applied locally has, and never will accomplish any good, it is proven a signal failure wherever it exists to-day.

The State of Maine enjoys state-wide prohibition in discussing the liquor question a few days ago with a friend of mine, now a resident of the City of Portland, he made the broad assertion that as much liquor can be secured in that city, both week days and on Sunday as though the law did not exist.

I can assure you gentlemen were you to ask me next Sunday to take one of you to a saloon or hotel for the purpose of getting a drink of liquor. I would not know where to go as the Brook's High License Law is strictly observed in this locality in that particular; under the provisions of this law, the citizens of any particular locality have the same privilege asked for in the measure now under consideration, viz.: the right of remonstrance against license to the courts "see Brooks Law." I feel gentlemen, and I speak for my colleague as well, that in opposihg this measure we violate no pre-election pledges or promises, prior to the Primary election, the Rev. Alford Kelley, Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League called upon me at my residence for the purpose of exacting from me a promise to support a local option measure in the event of my election, I assured the Rev. Gentleman at that time, that I was as much opposed to the liquor traffic as he was, but that I wanted to see it eradicated in its entirety by a constitutional amendment, that I was opposed to local option on general principals, and gave him the same reasons which I have explained here to-day, notwithstanding the plain and broad statement made to the Rev. Gentleman at that time, he caused the following circular to be distributed amongst our church people and the public at large, prior to the general election, from which I will read an extract:

For Representatives

For members of the House from the city of Harrisburg, the liquor interests named Dr. J. Edward Dickinson and Augustus Wildman. In the Second District they nominated Charles D. Row and B. K. Booser. All of these men have back of them not only the allied liquor forces of the county, but also those forces which always do team work with the liquor interests. No man with any knowledge whatever of these five men and of the forces which are back of them can have any doubt as to whose servants they will be if elected to the Legislature.

I want to say to the Reverend gentleman, if he is in the House, that when he circulated this matter, he knew he was doing something that was unchristian-like, because I had explained my position to the gentleman and stated why I was taking the position I did. Therefore, I oppose this measure.

Mr. SWIFT. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Swift.

Mr. SWIFT. Mr. Speaker, this question seems to me is a matter for consideration and it is a question for the people rather than leaving it as the Brooks Law has placed it. I think the experience of the past years has demonstrtaed this fact, that to every thinking rational being, the Courts should never be compelled to decide the question that belongs properly to the people. I claim here that the function of the Court is not to settle such a question as this. There has been no question but that the Court has been compelled to decide upon that as far as it has gone but I question wheher we should put the Court into so questionable a position as this question demands. Is it not true that every Court in this great State of ours is unquestionably today either on one side or with one class or the other? Is it not true that on the one side there is a clamoring of the people against a certain decision and a clamoring of the people for a certain decision and whatever that decision may be the Court rules on the question. I say to you that this Brooks Law forced upon the courts the decision of a question. First, that decision belonged to it; and a question that has placed it in a position where we have lowered the standards of the Court and that is where all the trouble comes from—all the questioning of the Courts —because this act or this law has put this question into its hands to settle when it rightfully belongs to the people. If it does not belong to the people, where does it belong? What does this bill seek? Simply to put it in the hands of the people themselves. I see a marvelous revelation here. I wish that every man in this House would be as progressive, voting upon this question as he was progressive when he was asking for the support of his constituency. This is a day in which we believe in the rights of the people; in the rights of the people to express themselves. This Brooks Law for twenty-eight years has robbed the people of its right. It is a strange thing to me, gentlemen, that we of this State, have lost our franchise upon the question which is most vital to every citizen, to every community in this

State of ours. Why should it be so that this is robbing the people of their rights and why is it not just as honorable and just as respectable for them to settle as any other question? Why is it that a man should be branded a hypocrite or a fool because he stands for home, church, for manhood, for righteousness, for truth, for honor and for God. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of this House, does not it inhere then this State to the limit of man's possibilities of actions for doing certain things. Why, we hear said upon the floor of this House, that we have no right to ask that this question be committed to the people; but we ask on our side that the question be submitted to the people. The people should not be robbed of their rights. My friends, let me say this: It is a principle recognized by every court and by every state and by every nation that inherent government has the right to limit individuals as to their rights and their privileges. I find here no one objecting to limiting individuals along these lines. Let me illustrate: does a man pay the penalty who has possibly put himself into a peculiar position in which he has delivered milk in which germs exist? If he has delivered that milk in a community and it is discovered, it means not how much money that man has invested in his farm, or in his stock, or in his equipment. The moment it is discovered that the milk he delivers is dealing out death, the State steps in and says "You must stop." He may say, "My life and my success depends upon the delivery and the sale of the milk. My fortune is invested here and I must conduct that business and maintain myself and my family." But Mr. Speaker, if that man has dealt out disease with that article, the State says, "Stop," and he does stop. A placard has been put upon the door of an American citizen, a man who denominates himself an American citizen. It matters not what disease is back of that placard. Usually I have the right to go in and out and no man has the right to rob me of my freedom or my citizenship and my liberties but the community in that event says to that man, what he must do and he must obey. Every school and every church and every Sabbath school and every institution, no matter what it may be, must close or stop business for a time, if they are endangering the health of the public and the man behind the door stands there and he may violate the law and go out, but my friends he is simply a violator of the law then and he may be punished. So, we might continue these illustrations innumberably and I want to make the point that it is not robbing a man of a right. My friends, my rights and liberties cease where your rights and liberties begin, and when any business, I care not what it is or any act imposes wrong upon me or upon my family and upon my home, the State has a right to step in and say to that man, "Thus far shalt thou go and no farther." Now, I repeat again that the community has the right to say this. We settle all other questions in these matters, largely with the voice of the people. The question of improvement, the question of taxation as we settle those by the voice of the people. Shall we be denied the right of the privilege of settling a question of this character? I will repeat again, that is the most vital question to every home and to every community and I want to call attention to the fact that those who oppose this bill seem to think that government exists for the making of money and for the securing of money, and for money interest and manufacturing interests. I want to say to every individual that this State and this nation is engaged in something else than the simple manufacturing business or mking of money. The first and primary question ought to be the making of manhood and the making of character. If we refuse to enact laws that guide the purposes and thought of our youth of our people, we shall be recreant to the trust that has been committed to us. My friends, there is nothing that this country needs so much as it needs more of manhood, more of character, more of honor and we cannot do better than to legislate for the making of the best manhood and womanhood and the purest and noblest manhood and womanhood. We must make pure womanhood and manhood possible and we are never in line with God Almighty until we legislate along the lines of his orders and standards.

Every man here would be recreant to his belief in Jesus Christ or His God, if he refuses to legislate along the lines where our great Creator has said, "Thou shalt and thou shalt not." This is my purpose in this act. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, to claim as an American that we as a House, shall we remain as we are or shall we return to the old world despotism? Is it American to place into the hands of one man the authority to settle this question in spite of the desire of the community to express that desire. I apprehend by the reading of the Brooks law that Mr. Brooks contemplated that the number and the character of the signers of petitions for or against should be taken into consideration and our friend from Allegheny has questioned that any Judge dared give you the expression of the people. I wish to cite him a fact that occurred in New Florence, Westmoreland County, about a year ago. Ninety-two percent of the voters of New Florence and ninety-four percent of the tax payers petitioned the Court to grant no license. That quiet little town that had been quiet for years and in spite of these petitions and in spite of that great majority, a saloon and a hotel was licensed in New Florence and is there today. That is simply a single instance. Hundreds upon hundreds of instances that are occuring over this state of ours. That is why, my friends, we are compelled to present this Local Option Bill here today. If the Courts of our land, of our State, were to take into consideration the request or petition of the people for or against there would be no reason possible for this act. It is a well satisfied fact or a well known fact that this is not the custom of the courts. It is not valid and therefore, we are compelled to present this question. Now, my friends, I submit this question. Local Option does not interfere with a man's privilege to drink any more than High license or the Brooks Law does. You have a personal right, my friends, to drink, if you so desire and the purpose of the law may not control you but what we are against is the present system. The present condition, the present saloon as it is conducted and carried on in our midst, is what we are objecting to. I say, my friends, that it is the highest function of legislation to protect the community, and I say a community that may be as large as a county, a city or a state, if you please, a community must provide by legislation against the conditions that keep men and children from poverty, sickness and death, rather than creating by license the places where such things are done. No man; no institution should have the right to conduct a business that blights human life, that makes their future hopeless and unpromising. It is a crime my friends, we believe to establish any place anywhere or a business that in any way can make a criminal or a pauper of a single individual.

And so I repeat that we must awaken to our duty as legislators, that we even have a field to look out beyond that to the mental and the moral and the spiritual conditions of the individual. I cannot understand how any man who professes to believe in American principles of popular soveriynty and popular government, I cannot understand—and I speak honestly when I say it—how it is that any man, believing in republicanism or democracy can support the old world despotism and put in the hands of one man more power than the Czar of Russia ever held.

Local option, my friends, is simply, as has been said, the referendum and it would end the saloon where a majority of voters are favorable to its end, and it would leave it where a majority are not, and I ask you in all fairness if this is not republicanism.

Now, permit me for just one moment—there was placed upon our desk a few days ago a declaration made by the Great Lincoln whom we all love and whom we all honor. We were made to think for a little time or believe that this man favored the traffic of liquor, that he was opposed to prohibition. I am sorry that when that individual, whoever he was, made that quotation he did not familiarize himself with the question that Mr. Lincoln was discussing when he made that utterance in reference to prohibition. I want to read you a declaration that great and good man made out in Springfield when standing before his people and discussing this subject. He said: "The liquor traffic is a cancer in society, eating out the vitals and threatening destruction and all attempts to regulate it will not only prove abortive, but will aggravate the evil. There must be no more attempts to regulate the cancer. It must be eradicated; not a root must be left behind, for until this is done, all classes must continue in danger of becoming victims of strong drink."

Then he closes by saying that "It is a crime to make a counterfeit dollar. It is a thousand times worse to make a counterfeit man by this awful traffic and this awful cancer which exists in our State and Nation."

What is this traffic? What does it do? What has it done, I ask you. If I shall answer those I shall be rude. Its course is one of injustice and deceit. Its service is one of oppression and slavery. Its reign is one of vice and tyranny. There is hardly a sorrow which it has not brought to manhood. There is hardly an affliction to which it has not contributed. There is hardly a crime of which it has not been proven guilty. There is one more thing, but I tremble as I say it: When left unchecked to do its work it makes a tragedy of birth and a monster of human life. I know that I shall be charged with making a mis-statement and having said too strong a thing, but my friends, an experience of mine not long since compels me to say this. In the quiet home of a widow I stood upon one side of the casket. The widowed mother stood upon the other side, looking into the face of her only son for the last time and as she looked upon that cold face for a moment she raised her eyes and looked at me and said: "Can you bring me any word of comfort, Mr. Swift?" And then she turned and looked with her face to Heaven and said: "O God! Why didn't you take him when he was a baby on my bosom, pure, true, beautiful and sweet; but now he is gone, O where, O where."

I tell you, my friends, as long as any business in this world will change the career and wreck and ruin the promise of human life we have a right to make that charge where such is the outcome that birth is a tragedy and that human life is a monster, and that so long as that condition of things shall exist, my friends, there will me reason for the consideration of this question, not only in this legislature, but every legislature in this great State. So long as mothers love their children, so long as fathers commit an unsullied name to their children to hand down to future generations, so long as homes shall exist and love and hope and peace and quiet is sought within it, so long there will be reason to fight this awful traffic, this awful evil that changes the current of childhood, that ruins manhood and destroys homes and governments.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I think it well that we come back once more to the starting point so that there will be no misunderstanding among the new members in relation to what is termed "taking advantage" in this case, or dealing in unfair methods. Our legislative practice, as all of you know, the old members at least, and all the new ones, I think do know as well, is after the introduction of a bill and its reference to a committe, it is placed on the calendar on first reading as a mere matter of form. On second reading an opportunity is given both by the sponsor of the bill and those who may be opposing the bill in some phase to correct the bill according to their ideas and views. But further than that the question then comes. Will the House agree to the bill on second reading? I feel that when you and I agree to a bill on second reading by a vote of any kind we will agree to that bill on third reading. In other words, if this bill has been placed in the form in which it has been proposed before the House for final action there are opportunities at two points to express our consideration for that bill; and the first one of those points along the highway of that bill's history is, Will the House agree to the bill on second reading? And that is the question before us at this time. Had there been material change, either by the sponsor or any one else in this House at this morning's session, I would feel that you and I and every one of us should stand aside until the bill was reprinted so that we might then determine how the bill stood and determine what its purposes were. There were but two words inserted in the bill by the amendment which was offered, and I believe that every member of the House who read the bill mentally inserted those words as he reads it, knowing that that is what should be certified namely, the results.

We have listened now for almost, or quite two hours, in relation to the merits of this bill, and the thoughts of those members who have given expression and much of what has been said by those who have long ago passed over into the great beyond. I do not know, Mr. Speaker, that because some one has lived and said something and then died that his words are any more hallowed, or more pertinent to the subject at hand or the point at issue, than the living voice of those of to-day. I do not know that because some one, some hundreds of years or so ago, said something that it makes it absolutely true and invulnerable. We are here and I quite agree with much that has been said on both sides in relation to our stand to-day. I quite agree with the gentleman who last spoke that we are here to legislate and I as one of the 207 members of this House that was clothed with power by my constituents am not afraid to legislate upon any or all matters on which we have the power rather than send certain ones of those back to my constituents for their approval or for disapproval. There is no more reason why to-day this question should be returned to the voters of certain districts in this Commonwealth or in the great county of Allegheny than there is that their stamp of approval or disapproval should be placed on any other act that you and I pass this session in this House; not one bit more. This bill is not a constitutional provision of the law. This is a plain law, and already this morning without any hesitancy, without any reference to the people, the real thought of the sentiment of the masses, without any play to the gallery, we have gone on record for or against and now we are here to meet this question, and we are here to express our choice in relation to the proposition which now stares us in the face. We have direct legislation on our statute books, and now we propose by this bill to make a referendum on certain conditions.

I am opposed to this bill. And briefly, Mr. Speaker, will I try to condense my opposition and points of opposition. In the first place, I believe that as an American citizen I have the right to say whether or not my house be wet or my house be dry, and if it be my preference that my house be wet I maintain that it is not within the power of my neighbor to say to me that my house shall be dry; and neither if his is wet do I claim the right to say to him that his shall be dry; or if his be dry I do not drive him to the drink end. It is a personal privilege, and the province of this bill is an infringement upon the personal right of every American citizen, and that is my first objection to the bill. In the next place, on my way up here this morning while going to a conference committee, I had made up from the Auditor General's department just a few figures. I would like to have you bear with me a moment until I give them to you. In 1912 the liquor license receipts in the State of Pennsylvania from breweries alone amounted to $316,536 dollars, the distillers $50,520, the bottlers $51,010, the wholesalers $737,127, the retailers $644,644, in all about one million, eight hundred thousand seven hundred odd dollars a source of revenue to this great State. Now the capital stock taxes of brewing and distilling companies alone in this State amount to $246,229; or altogether from the breweries, distilleries and the capital stock over two million dollars.

Now what does it mean? Is there any one in this House that will say to me that that is a small unit. I can take you Mr. Speaker, to sections in our county, known to many of us, where just beyond the borough limits, and where the street extends on out through the country, the first house that you find beyond the dry borough is what. Is a wet spot. And when you strike that wet spot and stand across the street, if you pletse, and I care not if the population be just as dense beyond in the wet territory and see who is coming over. I will vouchsafe that unless you be experienced in the busines you would not be able to judge which is the dry and which is the wet side, and which are the local optionists that come to that territory and who come from the wet territory. If you had the experience and knew something of the conditions perhaps at the closing hour when you saw some one, or some two or some three, who were slightly under the influence go back to the dry dock to dry out, you might know; because beyond in the wet territory a man was still able to get his in fair quantities, in quantities that would neither cripple or kill, but over in the dry territory when he hied himself home, knowing that the last chance was gone, he does what? He does that which makes this business condemnable, and that thing alone, and that is, he makes a hog out of the man. I take it that whether it be local or general, if as a general proposition it would wipe out the entire tax; if as a local proposition a certain man, and still would not prevent the very thing that is going on. And I quote the gentleman who spoke last, from Beaver county, when he says that local option does not prevent drinking. It does not prevent getting the goods in and if a man has an appetite and the desire, and determination he will get the goods whether he be on wet territory or on dry territory.

Now, another thing right along the line of taxes. Thousands, ten thousand, hundreds of thousand and millions of dollars of money are tied up to-day in the distilleries and breweries of this great Commonwealth. You say that is boose money. I say it is not, and anybody who is conversant with the way bonds are floated this day if he goes down to the homes and safety deposit boxes will be surprised to see how many people who are preaching local option and even prohibition have in their strong boxes brewery and distillery bonds. And why? Because they have been, are now and perhaps will be for many years to come, safe and profitable; not only bonds but stocks, scattered broad cast. And when you strike at the base, what do you do. Tear out the vitals, stop the manufacture, stop the sale, and your bonds and everything else becomes absolutely worthless, and why? Take this State House as an example, erected for the purpose of accommodating State officers, this hall for legislative work, and one on the other side. Let the State become bankrupt and try to put this house to some other service than that for which it was intended, and what have you You have an elephant on your hands. You have something on your hands on which you could not begin to realize one-half or even one-third of the money that actually went into it, let alone that which was stolen before it got here. No, you could not realize twenty-five per cent. You could not make laundry machinery out of brewery machinery. You could not build a wagon shop out of it. No, you could not use it for any other use than that for which it was intended. Close the door, and your stocks, your bonds, your real property is gone; everything but the ground practically is gone, and gone with it is what? Gone with it is the hundred of men who by honest toil, under a business made legitimate by the highest law making power in this land are eking out their existence, or making a very satisfactory income for their famiiles, and keeping them in good style. You can turn them lose. Yes, there is more to this than sentiment. There are isolated cases that any one could bring up and talk about, and if you had the word picture of perhaps an Ingersol, ah! you might bring tears to every member of this House, from his eyes draw tears. And yet sentiment cannot turn aside the facts; not the facts.

Now one other thing, and to me a most vital thing, suggested in the remarks of the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Speaker. It brings into politics, a place last of all that it should enter, the churches of this great Commonwealth. The Church has its province. Its province is to draw into its fold the young men and the young women and to keep them there. That church has not the right, and I insist upon it, the Churches of this Commonwealth or any other Commonwealth have not the right to brand me, simply because I disagree with the right of that church or some proposition or other, to brand me as a thief, or knave, or an unworthy man, when I in my humble way have sufficient ability to represent my constituents fairly and honestly. And further than that, can you show me in this great Commonwealth one single congregation in which every man who belongs to that congregation believes in all that the most ardent of that congregation advocates. Ah! no, no, no. And further than that is the fact that they take upon themselves and assume to enter into politics. You know and I know and every man who is honest with himself, his conscience and his God, knows that congregations have been torn asunder, and has that been either for the dissemination of good or the glorification of man? No, no; far from it. This Legislature has its province and its, duties in this world. The church has its functions to perform. I deny no man the right to speak, to think or to vote as he sees fit, but I do maintain and insist, honestly and candidly believe, and shall ever believe and say that no man has the right to say to me how I shall vote.

Words of praise have been handed to the courts of this Commonwealth in one of the most eloquent arguments of any argument that I have heard made on the floor of this House. It has been said that they were the bulwarks of this great Commonwealth, and I quite agree. It has been said that the statute we are now fighting, that we are proposing to change by this enactment has stood upon the statute books since 1887, or thereabouts. I quite agree. It is well known that there are statutes that have stood upon the books of this great Commonwealth since away in 1700 and odd. They are still standing there, some of them operative this day. And yet there has never, or never has been during my legislative experience save the exception of this one question, there never has yet been offered on the part of those who nominate and designate themselves as Progressives and representatives of the people, there never has been an attempt to put back to the people the question, "Do you want, or do you not want?" But every time that this question comes up in this House, a question that every one of us should be able and willing to meet as a man, every time this question comes up, a by-play is made to the galleries, a by-play is made to the sentimental side of man, a by-play is made for anything that will look well in record, but it is facts that we are to deal with. Today is the time, and now is the hour and moment for you and I to say whether or not we agree to this bill on second reading, and my advice to you, my friends, as representatives of the people of this great Commonwealth, is now to strike the blow and say no.

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, I am not going to take up much of your time. I do not owe the Anti-Saloon League anything. It did not help me to be elected. They did not do anything for me so far as I know with the exception of one man. I was informed that the League was non-partisan. I suppose it is, but I learned that the members were not non-partisan. It was published in their journal that I would vote for Local Option, but I got no support, practically none, from them. And for that reason I feel my position here very keenly to-day. I am not in sentiment or in action with these gentlemen. Their sentiments are very much opposed to mine in many cases, and again on the other hand I come from people who are interested, people who have for many years been engaged in this evil business, as some of the gentlemen please to call it. The gentlemen who drew eloquent pictures of the horrors of this evil were right no doubt in instances, and I believe they are as a rule sincere in their convictions, but no doubt they are often times overdrawn, and the gentlemen who appeal to us on the score of unalienable rights and our personal liberties certainly go too far in their arguments. From one who stands here today not as an advocate of anti-saloon measures, I want to say to this House that I am opposed to some of the measures that I have been lead to understand eminates from that source, any measure which proposes to do one thing and yet by the bill seeks to do another. I have no sympathy neither with the bill nor with the men who support it no matter where it comes from. It is easy for a man who has nothing at stake to vote on a measure of this kind. It is easy for a man who has been brought up with this idea of the evils of the liquor traffic who has had it engrained into his soul as it were, to oppose it. It is also easy for the man who is in the business to be in favor of it. As a rule our patriotism does not go beyond that, but I want to say today to this House that while I owe everything that I can think of to the people, I may do an injury to some of my friends who are engaged in this,— I do not mean engaged personally,—they are not many, some of my boyhood friends, but practically all of my acquaintances stand opposed to this measure, and those who are nearer to me than my friends, and I want to say to them that they must learn to respect my word. I have had arguments brought to me that the people who were in favor of this measure were narrow-minded bigots, and that sort of thing, and from my own experience I want to say that to some extent this is true. I have neard men quoting on the floor of this House, I have heard gentlemen quoting Cardinal Gibbons on the floor of this House, and I think it would be a splendid thing for them to look further into his teachings, and not stand on platforms which are a shame and a disgrace to this whole United States. But I see what I think is a duty, Mr. Speaker. I have a conviction that gentlemen who quoted from Mr. Lincoln has sadly destroyed my idea that this is the proper way, and the very words he quoted, if I remember the quotation, really seemed to disprove his own argument, because he said, it did not do to tamper with the liquor question, that it must be eradicated entirely, and I am afraid that is the course that gentlemen have taken who say that local option is a failure. Whether or not it is a failure, I only want to say this that I asked my friends from my own county, and those who have given me any assistance here not to try to attempt to change a man's convictions when he has once formed them. They are sacred to himself. I believe that men should all recognize that, and though I am voting against this bill and expect to vote against their interests, they cannot expect me to vote to give a chance for a great financial loss, for a loss which may be irreparable. I can only say that I have given my word and those men ought to respect it. On this question of unalienable rights and personal privileges, I want to say that some of the gentlemen,—I do not mean on the floor of this House,—but who are opposed to this bill, encroach upon my personal rights when they threaten me with what they will do if I vote for this bill. They forget that I have a personal right to vote, and they should not hinder me in that. They forget the personal rights of a man when they will allow any man to maintain a business that will give another man the opportunity to come out and stand in my face and blow his breath in my face, in my nostrils, and talk into my ears, and wave his hands at me, and I am bound by the law to restrain myself when I might have the personal liberty to knock him down, or try to do it. I am restrained from this, and I think it is a pretty good argument for me to be restrained, and I think it is an infringement on the personal liberty of those children and wives,—that wife he has taken to the altar, and there wedded to a man in the holy bonds of matrimony. I think that wife has some personal liberty. It may be that the local option measure is wrong. I am not sure but I investigated it and sometimes I think one way and sometimes another, but whether it is true or not I am going to vote for this bill.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, we have before us again a bill intended to grant a measure of self-government to our people and I rise to make some observations and to impress upon all of us the importance of this bill and the real necessity for the passage of the same.

In the first place, the traffic to which this bill relates, concerns intimately every man, woman and child of this Commonwealth. The question of strong drink is as old as the days of Noah and continuing through the centuries and increasing as the years come and go, it has spread until it is a nation-wide, indeed a race-wide question. Never before in the history of the race have so many men been employed in deep and profound study of the question from every point of view. The scientific economic, social, political moral and religious investigators come to practically the same conclusions and announce that alcohol stands condemned as a dangerous narcotic, poison, destructive to bodily functions, intellectual powers, and to moral character. It deadens or destroys the moral sense and prevents the ascendency of the wild passions and instincts of the primitive savage to have ascendency in the life.

The use of alcohol is an economic waste destroying man power to earn and produce wealth and drains the wealth of State and Nation to take care of the victims that drink has made. Not a town, city, state or nation, that would not be immensly better off financially without rum than with it. For every dollar the accursed traffic pays to county, state or nation, more than ten must be paid out of the treasury to take care of its product. What business man would think for a moment that that kind of business enterprise is profitable.

From the social standpoint the manufacture and sale of intoxicants for beverage purposes cannot be defended by any reasonable conscientious man. Look around on every side, see the wrecks of men and the wrecks of women, and the puny, sickly, weak children from such parents and crippled in body and mind because of the hereditary weakness caused by the ignorance of father and mother. "O wisdom thou art fled to brutish beasts and men have lost their reason," to continue to plead for this God cursed traffic.

Religiously speaking not one of us but knows that the drunkard cannot enter the kingdom of God and that a curse is pronounced on the man who putteth the bottle to his neighbor's lips. Will ever continue under the curse of Almighty God by keeping on the statute books such laws as permit one man to prey upon his weaker neighbor. Surely it is not because of ignorance and as sure as we have souls to save we ought to meet our obligations and do our duty so that we can free ourselves of the responsibility for the continuance of this God-cursed traffic.

Then too, notice what a prominent place this traffic has in legislative hall. It is here akwats and like Ganquo's ghost it will not down. Unless I misinterpret the temper of the people of my district adjoining legislative districts, and of the entire State, it will continue here until we accord the people their just rights. The Liquor Traffic has us standing except as it is taken care of by legislative enactment. By our license laws we have made lawful a traffic that by the Common Law is outlawed. Even the Books High License Law declares the traffic illegal except carried on under a license issued by the Court.

Knowing that it is because of this legislation that this deadly traffic is continued and that the demoniation of the Liquor Traffic in politics continues the people have become dissatisfied and have already demonstrated in this State that the boss, whose chief support is the legalized Liquor Traffic is doomed to utter extinction. Those men and women are not ignorant fanatics. They are our equals and many times our superiors in intelligence, insight into public questions, and conditions, and in patriotic sentiments. These people are demanding of us not a favor but a right that they claim is theirs. This demand is not that we turn prohibitionists, teototallers or even temperance men, but they do demand that and will never cease demanding nor be satisfied until their demand is granted, and that demand is the right and their privilege, to vote against the license saloon and by a majority vote cast it out.

Now, Gentlemen, I claim as I did in the previous session, that the people have asked for nothing more than that which is their right and they ought to have their request granted freely and without question.

Under our present License Law a Judge or Judges may grant and do grant at the bequest of twelve men, often indeed of the baser sort at that, a License to sell intoxicants in a community where three-fourths of the citizens appease. This power of the Judge is one of the most arbitrary powers granted to any officer of the law. Yet if he violates the moral sense of the community there is no appeal.

Why should such a law exist? Why should any man or company of men have the right to say that such a damnable traffic should be fastened on any community against the community's wish? It is the sale of liquid damnation such a sacred traffic that the people must submit to its existence in their midst? Think of the curse this traffic has been, then ask what good this traffic has ever done. Sit down and draw up a balance sheet and test its good and its bad. Oh! friends, it is the one remaining curse that is still legalized. This world is growing better and ere long this too, must go. Men here remember when liquor was sold absolutely without restriction. Gambling flourished everywhere unmolested. Betting on horse races was open and free. Lotteries and duelling were without restraint. But thank God, in this County at last by law and the growth of a moral sentiment they are things of the past and instead of defending them we are ashamed that all these and human slavery even disgraced our State and national life. In the language of Senator Webb, I want to say "The world is stirred on this question, children now live who will have to explain to their children what a saloon was and why their ancestors tolerated such a deadly evil. But for the money invested in it, it would already be a thing of the past. Toleration of the saloon puts the dollar above the man." Shall we put the dollar above the man by perpetuating a bad and vicious traffic for political reasons or because, of the claim or of those who are financially interested in it? I for one refuse to do it.

Gentlemen, it seems to me we close our eyes to the real facts conditions and issues before us. This bill does not ask us to vote license up or down, it does not ask us to legislate whiskey out or in, it simply asks us to give to the people the right to decide for themselves whether they will permit the traffic or not.

Is thit wrong or unreasonable? Who are the people that demand this right? They are free American citizens who love their country and humanity. What has been the gain of 75 years of public school education if our people are still to ignorant to know what they want to do? Is it not a fact that hundreds of men in any of our districts are just as well educated as we are? They are interested in public questions and concerned for the public good, just as well as are we. We are not arbitrary despots placed above the reach of our people. We are simply the representatives of those who placed us here. On all questions we are doubtless free to vote as we individually think it for the best but when a great public question like this comes before us woe to the man that is untrue to his constituents. I want you that the people of this old Commonwealth are aroused. They have asked a just and reasonable law and their demand at our hands is nothing but what is right. If we heed not this demand be assured our successors will. Once the shackles of the political boss were fast riveted upon us. Where is the boss and his shackles now? Gone let us hope for all time. Shall we in the face of this popular uprising deny by any arbitrary act to grant so reasonable a request as the privilege of self-government on this important question?

It seems to me that every Legislator and every Judge in this Commonwealth ought to advise the passage of a Local Option law. Why? First, this question ought to get out of politics. Second, the judges of our courts ought not to be embarassed by the granting of licenses to sell whiskey. To many other pressing duties demand his attention.

If the members of this House would throw back to the people of the several counties, by this Local Option Law, the responsibility for the Liquor Traffic it would be a mighty relief to the legislator and would place it where it belongs in the hands of the people. As the law now is every candidate for legislature and for Judge must run the gauntlet of this pressing question. Let us settle it and settle it right and be done with it. It will plague us no more.

The old license laws failed either to regulate or restrain the traffic. The Brooks High License Law has failed just as finely as the old. Every law has failed and is bound to fail, but the nearest approach to justice and right is to grant to the people themselves the determination of this question. There it will stay and there it ought to stay. They who must bear the burdens of the traffic ought to have the right to say whether the traffic shall exist at all.

Friends, it is a great thing to so live, act, and vote that we can look up into the face of our Father above, and feel that we have his approving smile, and it is a good thing to look into the faces of men and women and children and feel that we have done something that will wipe some tears away, drive back poverty and want, and make life more worth living than was it ever. May it be your privilege and mine gentlemen, when this vote is over to have a deep feeling of having done a good act and when facing our Creator, or our fellow-men we may feel that we are not ashamed, to vote for this bill. The people demand it. It is their right. It is their chance of liberty and they are prepared to enjoy it. The time is ripe and fully ripe that a traffic that must depend upon legislation to keep it safe from the public be given into the hands of the public and take its chances with the people. If it is not worthy of life give the people a chance to kill it, that is all that the people ask. More than this they do not want at this time, less than this, they will not take. All over the nation in every State but ours and New Jersey the people have some measure of local control over the granting of licenses. It seems to me the hand writing is on the wall. The traffic has been weighed and found wanting. Now it is our turn. Do you see the hand, can you read the writing? Listen! Thou art weighed in the balance and found wanting, thy place and power is taken and given to another. May we merit approval by voting for this bill.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentlehan from Philadelphia, Mr. Gans.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members:

Messrs. Kenna, Kuhns, Stone, Isler, Steele, Neely, Whitman, Fahey, Bass, Spangler, Frank Gray, Schuck, Kitts, Kern, Donahoe, Sassaman, Rothenberger and others.

On the question,

Shall the main question be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Rockwell and Mr. Benson.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

This was done as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the bill was not agreed to.

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have my reason recorded. I voted in favor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will file his reasons in writing.

Mr. ROBINSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to file my reasons for voting.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman can file his reasons in writing.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to change my vote from Aye to No, having voted under a misapprehension and desire to file my reasons for voting no.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Adams, having voted under a misapprehension, desires to change his vote from Aye to No and files his reason for so voting.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, Having voted under a misapprehension due to having been called by a page from my seat, I desire to have my vote changed to no, this being in harmony with the wishes of the majority of my constituents.

Mr. SCHUCK. Mr. Speaker, I cast my vote against this House Bill No. 306 on second reading because I believe the Local Option plan of regulating the liquor traffic only a makeshift and that it is being so accepted and being supplanted rapidly by other ideas, as evidenced by the various forms of legislation for regulation and restriction now before this House, also by the disposition of the national government to assist the states with one of the forms of legislation.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen. While making my canvas for Representative I emphasized the fact that in my opinion all important matters should be referred to the voters for their decision. I am still of that opinion and as the matter under consideration if of great importance to the whole people, my vote will be in favor of the passage of the bill.

I might add that my constituents have sent me nearly one hundred telegrams, hundreds of letters together with petitions signed by thousands of the voters all urging the passage and enactment into law of the measure under consideration. While on the other hand I have not received a single telegram or letter from any of my constituents protesting against its passage.

I hope the gentlemen of the House will vote for and pass the bill, thereby giving the people an opportunity to decide this important question for themselves.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, notwithstanding that the Anti-Saloon League did every thing in its power to defeat me at the polls in November, I cannot fail to remember that I sought and obtained the support of the electors of my district upon the Democratic platform which contains the referendum—

I therefore desire that I be recorded as voting aye.

Mr. ROBINSON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, in fairness to myself, I am filing my reasons why

I voted against the bill. I have been placed in a light by some people who are in favor of this bill, as being unfair and that if I did not support the bill presented by those in favor of Local Option, that I would have betrayed my constituents.

When I was a candidate for the Legislature, I said I would support any local option bill which would give the people of my community the right to determine the question of license or prohibition, my announcement is published in twelve different newspapers in Mercer County.

I object to this bill which is before the House in so much as it discriminates one community against another. I can see no reason why a town of 8,000, 5,000 or 500, so long as it be an incorporate entity should not have the privilege and be as justified in deciding the question of license or prohibition as a town of 10,000 or more. I have given this question much serious thought, I have analyzed both sides of the question and have decided that as long as the liquor business is legalized by the Governemnt of the United States and just so long will it be sold and just so long will it be drank. The above are my reasons for voting in the negative on the Local Option Bill.

Mr. MELLOTT. Mr. Speaker, I file as my reason for voting affirmative on House bill No. 306, File Folio page which is known as the Local Option Bill. Not until this bill had been framed, did I fully determine as to how I would cast my vote, but since it has been so framed as a county unit, to give all the voters whom I have the honor to represent a chance to vote either for or against the granting of license to hotels, I therefore cast my vote for the bill. I believe in free government. I also believe it is both democratic and republican to let the majority rule.

Mr. BERGEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen. Convinced of the moral and political righteousness of the principles of the Rockwell Bill, I voted in the affirmative; regardless of my doubt of the sentiment in the Third District of Montgomery County which I have the honor to represent.

Mr. HEIDINGER. Mr. Speaker, That this question of local option is not a moral but an economic one, and unless backed by a sufficient number or sentiment, will be a dead letter, and that a bare majority of the persons voting will not indicate such a sentiment.

That this measure will destroy the efficacy of the present "Brooks" Law, which is a good one and a better regulative measure than local option itself.

That no provision is made (as is done in some other places) for compensation to dealers for loss sustained by their investments made in what was at the time of such investment an entirely legitimate business.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker and Members of this House. In casting my vote for this measure, I desire to state my reasons for so doing. I shall support this bill for the very same reasons that I so heartily supported the recent bills, favoring the direct election of U. S. Senators and that of Woman Suffrage.

Both measures to which I have just referred, were deemed of sufficient importance for this House to bestow upon the Common people of this Grand Old Keystone State, their inherited rights, the privilege of exercising a more direct voice in determining the affairs in this State and nation, that so materially affects our future prosperity and welfare as a people. If this House passes favorably upon this Local Option Bill, it does not mean, what many citizens have falsely and malisciously been led to believe, that Local Option will at once be in force.

But it does mean a direct voice of the people, a square deal, for every citizen and qualified elector in this Commonwealth. It simply means that the Common people shall be privileged and rightly so, to decide at the polls, whether or not, our jails and penitentiaries shall continue to be over crowded with inmates, whose incarcerations in the vast majority of cases have been due either directly or indirectly to intemperance. Whether we as a progressive, civilized and christianized people shall continue to be over-taxed and over burdened in order to keep up these institutions which would be largely unnecessary under wholesome environments. It would mean that the people should decide or say whether the old order of instructing our young men and women in the schools of criminality the saloons, shall be continued for the gain of those, who for a few paltry dollars are engaged in the traffic of human souls at the expense of widows and orphans and poor innocent children, or whether a new order of action shall be initiated and introduced and maintained, that of safe-guarding our men and women, and above all our rising generation from the worst traps of vice, immorality and crime. In my mind it would be cowardly, unamerican, uncivil and unfair as well as unpatriotic to refuse to allow the people to pass upon any questions in which so large a proportion of our population is so vitally interested. For ages past, it has been the duty of the strong to care for and protect the weak. There are those, Mr. Speaker, who are absolutely helpless so far as self-control is concerned, and since we are our brother's keeper, it is only reasonable that the people should be permitted to come to his rescue and remove from his immediate presence that "Giant" evil, that has slain more victims than all the wars of Christendom since the dawn of creation. I beg of you, Honorable Gentlemen, in the name of our great State, in the name of humanity and for the sake and future welfare of our sons and daughters and unborn generations, I beg of you, be men; look the issue fair in the face, meet it square and vote for this bill; as for myself, I would rather be defeated in the right than succeed in the wrong.

Mr. FREY. Mr. Speaker, I vote no on the roll call on House Bill No. 306, because I am firmly of the opinion that the passage of the said act would be of no benefit to my constituency or the County of York. It has been and still is my belief that under the present Brooks License Law the people of the different localities now have the same right as would be given under this act with the additional advantage that their vote on the question is open and not a secret ballot. Many people who now sign remonstrances would not vote against the granting of a license, if they could do so secretely. In the County of York, with an honest impartial judiciary I have never known a license to be granted in spite of a larger number of signers to the remonstrance than to the petition for a license. On the other hand, I have known of several instances in which the petitioners for a license were greatly in excess of the remonstrators against the granting of the license and the license was not granted by the Courts because the necessity for the granting of the same had not been shown.

Under present circumstances neither the County of York or any of the units as provided in this bill would vote for "no license" and the result I am convinced would be even more saloons than under present regulations. I would quickly vote for any measure I belived would reduce the number of saloons or in any way eradicate or lessen the present evil but I am convinced that this is not the measure to be of any good so far as my immediate constituency or county is concerned.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker. My reason for voting upon second reading in the negative on House Bill No. 306, file folio 385, entitled "An Act to further regulate the granting of licenses for the sale of vinous, spirituous, malt or brewed liquors or any admixture thereof by permitting the electors of any county in this Commonwealth residing outside of a city or borough containing a population of ten thousand or upwards and by permitting the electors of any city or borough containing a population of ten thousand or upwards to determine by an election whether the granting of licenses for such sale therein shall be permitted," commonly known as the "Rockwell Local Option Bill," the following:

"It is undoubtedly the fundamental right of the majority to enact laws to govern the all. Local option is right in principle. It is the right of the voters of a locality to pass such laws as will regulate their government. If it is the desire of a community to exclude the sale of liquor, then that is their right. The sale of liquor has been a right permitted by our laws. Under these laws there has grown up a large industry in the manufacture and sale of vinous, spiritous and malt liquors. Many millions of dollars are invested by individuals in this industry. The right to possess property is inherent in an invidiual. The right to own that property free from confiscation without compensation is the inherent right of an individual. This right of the individual is as sacred as is the right of the many to make laws for self-government. To vote for the above bill and enact it into law would have been to aid in depriving of the individual of his property at the command of the many, and this without any compensation to the individual. This would be unfair and but a taking by the many of the property of the few. This would be without color of right. For this reason my vote was given in the negative."

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, the reasons why I voted against Local Option are because of the fact that gaving received many letters and petitions for and against the bill from the people of the district which I represent, and having personal knowledge of the sentiment existing in said district. It is my opinion that a considerable majority of my constituents are offered to the bill and further there is great doubt in my judgment whether the proposed legislation if enacted, would be of any permanent benefit to the cause of temperance.

COMMUNLCATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented the following communication in writing, from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows: viz.

REPORT FROM STATE VETERINARIAN.

Hon. George E. Alter, Speaker, and Members of the House of Representatives:

Gentlemen:—I transmit herewith a report prepared by Dr. C. J. Marshall, State Veterinarian, as requested by a resolution of the House of Representatives, which has necessitated the expenditure of great care and much time of the State Veterinarian from the discharge of his official, executive duties, in its preparation.

I feel that my duty as the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth requires me to respectively state to the House that, by reason of the interference with the discharge of the official duties of the executive department, which compliance with resolutions of a character, of which the one referred to is a fair sample, entails, and by reason, also, of the fact that much of the information called for in such resolution is of a character confidential to the executive department of the government, charged by law with the performance of executive duties, and the disclosure of which is, in the executive judgment, not only a breach of that confidence but incompatible with the proper discharge of those duties and with the public interest, some reasonable limit should be placed thereon.

Respectively,
John K. Tener.

The SPEAKER. The report of the Board being in compliance with a resolution of the House will now be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk proceeded to read the report, whereupon

Mr. SPEISER moved that the further reading of the report be dispensed with.

Mr. McALLISTER, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

An Act to amend the second and fifth sections of an act, entitled "A supplement to an act, entitled 'An Act for the government of cities of the second class,' approved the 7th day of March, A. D., 1901; creating and regulating a City Planning Department, giving it jurisdiction, extending it over the city and three miles beyond the city limits, and regulating the laying out of plans of lots within the limits of the city," approved June 10, 1911, relating to report of the City Planning Commission on certain ordinances and bills and relating to plans and plots submitted to said Planning Commission for approval.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Affairs.

Mr. THOMPSON, read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 522 entitled:

An Act to establish a State Highway a certain section of public road beginning at the east line of Ellwood City in Lawrence County, Wayne Township, thence by way of Wurtemburg and Pleasant Hill to Portersville, in Butler County, intersecting at Route No. 79.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Roads and Highways.

Mr. KLINE, read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 523, entitled:

A supplement to an act, entitled "An Act in relation to the laying out, opening, widening, straightening, extending or vacating streets and alleys; and the construction of bridges in the several municipalities of this Commonwealth, the grading, paving, macadamizing or otherwise improving streets and alleys providing for ascertaining damages to private property resulting therefrom, the assessment of the damages, costs and expenses thereof, upon the property benefited and the construction of sewers and payment of the damages, costs and expenses thereof including damages to private property resulting therefrom," approved the 16th day of May, A. D., 1891, P. L. 75, by providing that in proceedings to assess damages and benefits arising from improvement under the act to which this is a supplement if property is both benefited and damaged by such improvements the excess of damages over benefits or the excess of benefits over damages or nothing in case the benefits and damages are equal shall be awarded to or assessed against the owners of property; and providing that the report thereof made by the board of viewers shall show the net result only.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Affairs.

Also, read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 524, entitled:

A supplement to an act, entitled "An Act to regulate the manner of increasing the indebtedness of municipalities to provide for the redemption of the same, and to impose penalties for the illegal increase thereof," approved the 20th day of April, A. D., 1874, P. L. 65; limiting the time within which the power to incur indebtedness based upon the assent of the electors shall be exercised.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Affairs.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. POWELL, from the Committee on Railroads reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 52, entitled:

An Act amending an act approved the 5th day of May, A. D., 1832, entitled "An Act regulating lateral railroads," extending the length thereof to ten miles, and including lessees of fire-clay and minerals, and changing number of viewers.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. VARE, from the Committee on Municipal Affairs reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 13, entitled:

An Act providing for the incorporation and government of cities of the third class, regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein, and repealing, consolidating and extending existing laws in relation thereto.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE COMMISSION OF THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG TO PROVIDE FOR ADDITIONAL GUESTS OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Mr. SHEATZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee of conference at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SHEATZ submitted the report of committee of conference on the subject of the differences in relation to the following resolution:

Whereas, Certain acts and resolutions passed by the several General Assemblies and approved by their Excellencies Governors Stuart and Tener, creating a commission and clothing it with administrative powers, said commission being known as The Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission.

Whereas, Limitations have been placed upon the former soldiers of the Civil War who should be invited as guests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania during July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th, by including only those who participated in the Battle of Gettysburg and who enlisted and served therein prior to July 4th, 1863.

Whereas, The National Government will provide sanitary tenting quarters and rations for the old soldiers of the Civil War who will be present during the aforesaid period.

Whereas, The exercises upon July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th, upon the Battlefield of Gettysburg will probably be the most impressive ceremony the world has every known; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House concur), That the Commission of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg be respectfully and earnestly requested to broaden the scope of the provisions made for the attendance as guests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania upon that historical occasion so as to include all Union soldiers, sailors and marines of the Civil War who enlisted as from the State of Pennsylvania or who are now living in Pennsylvania, also such men who served in Pennsylvania commands known as Emergency Troops, also all soldiers who served in the Confederate Army now living in Pennsylvania as citizens of this Commonwealth. In case said soldier, sailor or marine lives beyond the State lines of said State his expenses shall be borne only from and to the State line within said State of Pennsylvania. A copy of this resolution, when approved, to be forwarded to the President of the Commission for consideration and action.

GEORGE W. ALLEN,
J. H. WILTBANK,
E. LOWRY HUMES,
JOHN O. SHEATZ,
BENJ. JARRETT,
JOSEPH ALEXANDER.

Which was laid on the table.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, according to the rules of all bills carrying appropriations with them, after they have been considered by the respective committees, the rule and precedent of the Appropriation Committee is that they be recommitted as a matter of right by the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee for the consideration of the amounts and whether or not those amounts are correct. the same as any other appropriation bill which comes before the Senate of Pennsylvania for its consideration, and

I therefore move that Senate Bill No. 385 (House Bill No. 443), on third reading, entitled:

An Act fixing the number and salaries of clerks and other employes in the Auditor General's Department be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations in view of the premises of my remarks.

Mr. HERBST. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, under ordinary circumtances it would be well to send this bill to the Committee on Appropriations for its consideration, but the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations has had the consideration of substantially this bill in the sessions of 1909 and 1911. In the session of 1911 the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations was the sponsor for a bill prepared by Auditor-General Sisson, and this bill has been prepared and has the consent and advice of ex-Auditor General Hardenberg, ex-Auditor General Young and the present Auditor General Sisson. It was prepared after a careful examination of the Governor's message with the advice of these three Auditor Generals and after a careful consideration of the report of the Commission on Taxation and Revenue, and it does not differ substantially from the bill recommended by the revenue commission and it is a combination of the bills presented in 1909 by Auditor General Young and in 1911 by Auditor General Sisson. It is true, as the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations said, that occassionally bills are referred back to the Committee on Appropriations, but in this case there is absolutely no necessity for the rule, because the Chairman of the Committee and the Committee on Appropriations of two session of the Legislature have considered this bill. It has been passed in two sessions and passed with practical unanimity in both sessions. It passed the House by a vote of 144 to 24 and it has been considered for six years. There has been absolutely nothing done in the office of the Auditor General since 1861. Every department of this State government has during that time been either created or reorganized, and if you will turn to Smull's you will find that the law as it is at present provides in the office of the Auditor General for only fourteen clerks; yet in Smull's in the front of the book, it shows that the Auditor General has sixty-four employees in his office. Now these sixty-four employees are carried along upon contingent expenses or paid this way and that way and the other, but they are paid, and this bill is not anything except to put in one class where it may be seen by everybody how many employees are in the Auditor General's office specifically authorized there by law, and show the people where the people's money is going. The office of the Auditor General of this Commonwealth is the office through which every dollar which goes into the State Treasury must pass, and every dollar that goes out of the State Treasury must also pass under the supervision of these clerks. The best paid man in the Auditor General's office to-day gets $3,000, and there are many lawyers in this Commonwealth who get fees three times, five times, ten times that amount for the settlement of a single corporation tax. Now does the State of Pennsylvania want to have a man who gets $3,000 a year settling taxes with a man who gets $30,000 for that particular settlement? If you call that good sense, if you call that economy, then this motion might be justified, but here is a bill which has been considered in two separate sessions of the Legislature and has been passed in two separate sessions, and the only excuse that ever I heard for the bill not being a law was that the corporations said that they would rather settle with a poorly paid man; I beg your pardon, not the corporations, it is always some attorney who says he would rather settle with a poorly paid man. Of course, a man who gets $30,000 in a single fee or $10,000 or $5,000 would rather settle with a man who gets $3,000 a year, who is paid by the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to collect its thirty-two or thirty-five million dollars a year of revenue, and paying him $3,000. It is an outrage on the men employed in the Auditor General's office and it should not receive the support of this Senate for one scintilla of a second. I understand the situation exactly and there is no particular animus in this so far as the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations is concerned. It is his duty to make this motion if it is requested by anybody, but this bill is in proper form. It has been considered, as I said before, by three ex-Auditor Generals of this Commonwealth. It has been recommended by a commission appointed by the Senate and House upon which were such able men as Senator Crow, Senator McNichol, Senator Sproul, the Speaker of the House, and the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations of the House in the last session, and a number of other men, and it substantially conforms to their recommendations, and there is no objection to this bill that can have any ground upon which to stand, and I earnestly ask the members to bring this measure to a vote now. It has been properly considered and I have an appointment this afternoon to go down to the Auditor General's office and sit down with the present Auditor General and prepare a budget for next year, and that is directed by law to be done prior to his time. If this bill passes we will know somewhat where we stand when we go to prepare this budget this afternoon.

Mr. JARRET. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Powell.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Powell, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, was this bill up last session?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, not this identical bill, but there was a bill in the last session of the same kind.

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, a reorganization of the Auditor General's Department?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, how did the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Powell, vote on it?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I voted aye. It was one of those I thought was so plain and necessary that I voted aye. I voted no on a great many salary-raisers.

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, it is my recollection that when this measure came up last session I was recorded as voting aye, and I feel to-day that my judgment has not changed at all, and I feel with Senator Powell that the men are not well enough paid and should get what is provided for in the bill, and I stand where I stood last session.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, I have grave fears that the members of the Senate of Pennsylvania have a misconception of the object of sending this bill back to committee. In the eloquent remarks of my good colleague from Allegheny county he told us all about the merits of the bill, which I did not raise in the motion, but the merits of this bill have been discussed, as he says, by several legislatures, and they are fully understood, especially by the chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the Senate of Pennsylvania, and I want to say that I also understand the wants and needs and necessities of this great department, and I have also sat upon the tax commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to devise revenues and presented bills whereby greater revenues can come through this great office of the Auditor General of Pennsylvania. But this is not the issue here at the present time. We already realize the wants and the needs of the people, and we all know that for the appropriations to hospitals and homes and other charitable institutions in the interest of humanity we need all the money we can possibly get. That is not the question, that is not the issue before the Senate of Pennsylvania at the present time. I thought I made myself clear when I said that the merits of this bill have already been discussed. Nobody questions that. We have faith and confidence in the members of the committee that considered this bill before it was reported here and placed upon the Calendar, and if we had not we would discharge the members of that committee from consideration of any bill. But the question here is the amount of money that this bill carries with it, and the excuse that they desire to sit down and form a budget is no excuse whatever because it goes into the general appropriation bill, and if it carries the same amount as it did two years ago, four or six years ago, let them put it in the general appropriation bill, and we can correct this amount any time before the final passage of the general appropriation bill. This is merely my motion, Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, to send this bill back to the committee for the consideration of the amounts, according to well established precedent. This was done only a few days ago by the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, with the bills for bridges across the Delaware because he knew after they were considered by his committee, the Committee on Public Roads and Highways, it was obligatory to send them to the Committee on Appropriations for the consideration of all amounts, and I sincerely hope my motion will prevail.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, if it were true that this was an unbroken precedent of this House I would be the last man to ask to break it, but it strikes me that a few minutes ago we passed a bill for the creation of five new judges in the city of Philadelphia, and the Committee on Appropriations never even appeard to know that the bill was on the Calendar. They did not send that back to the Committee on Appropriations. The first Senate Bill No. 1, carried an appropriation, and it was never in the hands of the Committee on Appropriations, according to the history of the bill.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, That is fixed by law, the judge's salary.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, the salary is fixed by law and these salaries are fixed here. They go into the general appropriation bill the same as that, but the bill appropriating the money on automobiles and the bills making deficiency appropriations have gone through and been signed by the Governor and they were never in the hands of the Committee on Appropriation and never referred back.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, yes, they were.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, this Senate Bill No. 1, came from the Committee on Public Roads and Highways and the history shows that it was never before the Committee on Appropriations. The Secretary of the Senate makes up this history. If this were the unbroken precedent I would have no objection whatever, but there is absolutely no necessity for this proposition. This bill went through the House without being referred to the Committee on Appropriations. All the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations of the House wanted to know was the total amount. He saw it was within the appropriation made to this department two years ago and was perfectly satisfied. Why should not my good friend from Allegheny County be satisfied? I vouch for the fact that this bill does not carry as much as was by this same committee appropriated to the Auditor General's Department two years ago, and why then should it be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. McNICHOLS, from the Committee on Judiciary Special, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 518, entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries and providing for the expense of county solicitors in counties of this Commonwealth over 150,000 population and less than 250,000 population.

HOUSE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 2.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 2, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to cover a deficiency arising in carrying out the provisions of an act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act amending the twentieth section of an act approved the first day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and five entitled 'An Act to provide for the immediate registration of all births and deaths throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by means of certificates of births and deaths and burial or removal permits requiring prompt returns to the Central Bureau of Vital Statistics at the Capital of the State as required to be established by the State Board of Health and to insure the thorough organization and efficiency of the registration of vital statistics throughout the State as provided in Section seven of an act entitled 'An Act to establish a State Board of Health for the better protection of life and health and to prevent the spread of contagious and infectious diseases in this Commonwealth' approved June third eighteen hundred and eighty-five and making an appropriation for establishing and maintaing such a bureau and providing certain penalties" as amended by an act approved the sixth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and seven entitled "An Act to amend Section five nine fifteen nineteen twenty and twenty-five of an act entitled 'An Act to provide for the immediate registration of all births and deaths throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by means of certificates of births and deaths and burial or removal permits requiring prompt returns to the Central Bureau of Vital Statistics at the capital of the State as required to be established by the State Board of Health and to insure the thorough organization and efficiency of the registration of vital statistics throughout the State as provided in Section seven of 'An Act to establish a State Board of Health for the better protection of life and health and to prevent the spread of contagious and infectious diseases in this Commonwealth' approved June third eighteen hundred and eighty-five and making an appropriation for establishing and maintaing such a bureau and providing certain penalties, which was approved the first day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and five by extending the territory in which burial permits shall be valid providing for the issuance of burial permits without fees establishing a method for securing the given names of children making a unform date for the returns of local registrars providing for certain fees in cities of the first and second class to be paid by the counties and abolishing all other systems of registration of births and deaths" by changing the fees for birth and death certificates."

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE COMMISSION OF THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG TO PROVIDE FOR ADDITIONAL GUESTS OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Mr. SHEATZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the report of the committee of conference to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to resolution reported by me at today's session.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The report of the committee of conference was read by the Clerk as follows:

Whereas, Certain acts and resolutions passed by the several General Assemblies and approved by their Excellencies Governors Stuart and Tener, creating a commission and clothing it with administrative powers, said commission being known as The Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission.

Whereas, Limitations have been placed upon the former soldiers of the Civil War who should be invited as guests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania during July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th, by including only those who participated in the Battle of Gettysburg and who enlisted and served therein prior to July 4th, 1863.

Whereas, The National Government will provide sanitary tenting quarters and rations for the old soldiers of the Civil War who will be present during the aforesaid period.

Whereas, The exercises upon July 1st, 2nd, 3d and 4th, upon the Battlefield of Gettysburg will probably be the most impressive ceremony the world has ever known; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House concur), That the Commission of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg be respectfully and earnestly requested to broaden the scope of the provisions made for the attendance as guests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania upon that historical occasion so as to include all Union soldiers, sailors and marines of the Civil War who enlisted as from the State of Pennsylvania or who are now living in Pennsylvania, also such men who served in Pennsylvania commands known as Emergency Troops, also all soldiers who served in the Confederate Army now living in Pennsylvania as citizens of this Commonwealth. In case said soldier, sailor or marine lives beyond the State lines of said State his expenses shall be borne only from and to the State line within said State of Pennsylvania. A copy of this resolution, when approved, to be forwarded to the President of the Commission for consideration and action.

GEORGE W. ALLEN,
J. H. WILTBANK,
E. LOWRY HUMES,
JOHN O. SHEATZ,
BENJ. JARRETT,
JOSEPH ALEXANDER.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the report of the committee of conference?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 59, entitled:

A supplement to an act entitled "An Act authorizing the formation of partnership associations in which the capital subscribed shall alone be responsible for the debts of the association except under certain circumstances," approved the second day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four providing for increase of capital stock and amendment of the articles and continuing the term of existing associations, and providing for certain additional officers in such associations.

The first section of this bill was read as follows:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever any association formed under the act to which this is a supplement shall have occasion to increase its capital stock or otherwise amend its recorded statement it shall be lawful for such association after due notice required by existing laws by a vote of a majority of its members in number and interest to increase its capital stock or otherwise amend its statement which amended statement shall be recorded as provided by law and such increase in capital may made by subscriptions in cash or property as provided by law or for surplus earnings actually held or invested in property by the association.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I move to amend section 1, in line 11, by inserting after the word "may", the word "be."

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agred to.

The second and third sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to:

Section 2. Whenever any association shall increase its capital stock or otherwise amend its statement as provided in the first section of this act it shall be lawful for such association to fix and determine the contemplated duration of said association under such amended statement which shall not exceed the term of twenty years from and after the date of such increase or other amendment.

Section 3. It shall be lawful for any association formed under the act to which this is a supplement to elect of its members a vice-president and assistant secretary and assistant treasurer vested with the same authority respectively as the president secretary and treasurer in the absence of such respective officer.

The title of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

A supplement to an act entitled "An Act authorizing the formation of partnership associations in which the capital subscribed shall alone be responsible for the debts of the association except under certain circumstances," approved the second day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four providing for increase of capital stock and amendment of the articles and continuing the term existing associations and providing for certain additional officers in such associations.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 265, as follows:

An Act to amend Section eighteen of the act of May first one thousand nine hundred and nine entitled "An Act to provide for the protection and preservation of game game quadrupeds and game-birds and song and insectivorous birds and other wild bird and prescribing penalties for violation of its several provisions."

"Section 18. It shall be unlawful for any person to shoot at or take or kill or wound or attempt to take or kill or wound any deer in this Commonwealth except from the fifteenth day of November to the first day of December of the same year or to kill in any one season more than one deer which in every instance shall be a male deer with horns visible above the hair or to have a deer so killed or taken or any part thereof in possession excepting during said open season and for thirty days thereafter Provided That the possession of the dead body of a deer or any part thereof shall unless the head bearing horns be attached thereto or unless said head bearing horns shall be immediately produced upon demand by any officer of the Commonwealth whose duty it is to protect the game of the State in all instances be prima facie evidence of a violation of the provisions of this act and shall render the person in whose possession or under whose control the same shall be found or who may be proven to own the same liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars for each offense Each and every person violating any provisions of this section shall be sentenced to pay a penalty of one hundred dollars for each offense" so as to make it read as follows:

Section 18. Except as provided for in this act it shall be unlawful for any person in this Commonwealth to at any time take or kill or wound or to attempt to take or kill or wound either a female deer or a fawn deer found in a wild state in this Commonwealth or to take or kill or wound or to attempt to take or kill or wound a deer of any kind found in a wild state in this Commonwealth excepting during that time beginning with the morning of the fifteenth day of November of each year and extending to the beginning of the first day of December next following Sundays excepted which time shall be known as the open season for deer in this Commonwealth and it shall be unlawful for any person to kill more than one deer during the open season of any one year which deer in every instance shall be a male deer with antlers commonly called horns extending for at least two inches above the hair or three inches in length measuring from the skull or to have a deer so killed or taken or any part thereof in possession or under control except during said open season and for thirty days thereafter Provided That the possession of the dead body of a deer or of any part thereof shall unless the head bearing antlers or horns of the required length be attached thereto or unless said head bearing such antlers or horns shall be immediately produced upon demand made by any officer of the Commonwealth whose duty it is to protect the game and wild birds of the State in all instances be prima facie evidence that the deer in question has been taken and held contrary to the provisions of this act and shall render the person in whose possession or under whose control the same may be found liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars for each offense Each and every person violating any provisions of this section shall upon conviction be sentenced to pay a penalty of one hundred dollars for each offense.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 316, as follows:

An Act to provide for the protection and preservation of game game-quadrupeds and game-birds and song and insectivorous and other wild birds providing a method through which certain lands in the Commonwealth may be closed to hunting for a term of years and prescribing penalties for violation of its several provisions

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the pasage of this act the Board of Game Commissioners of this Commonwealth shall have the power and authority to close for a term of years to the purposes of hunting any of the territory that may to the residents of that territory appear necessary to the protection of game placed or found thereon such territory in no instance to be less than one county in area and in no instance to exceed four contiguous counties in any one tract in this Commonwealth

Section 2 That whenever at least two hundred citizens of any county in this Commonwealth shall through written petition certify to the Board of Game Commissioners that in their opinion an absolutely closed season is necessary to insure the better protection and consequent increase of any or all species of game found in that county in which such citizens may reside and asking that such county be closed to hunting for a period the Board of Game Commissioners shall forward to said petitioners and others a blank form setting forth such questions as they may consider best suited to determine the quantity of game and game conditions in the county in question which said forms with replies to entitle such answers to consideration before said Board of Game Commissioners shall be returned to said board on or before the return day as fixed upon said forms such petitioners shall also publish for at least three consecutive weeks at their own expense in at least two prominent newspapers in the county to be closed the statement that such petition has been filed with its purpose and the return day for information as fixed by the Board of Game Commissioners and shall file with said board duly certified copies of such notices as published in each newspaper on or before said return day. If the written answers as returned shall fail to satisfy said Board of Game Commissioners that such closed season is necessary or those opposing such action shall demand a hearing before said board then a hearing shall be had upon such date and at such place within the county to be affected as may be decided upon by the said Board of Game Commissioners the expense of such hearing to be paid by those demanding the same If after the receipt of the written answers or the public hearing or both the Board of Game Commissioners shall be satisfied such closed season is necessary to insure the better protection of game and its consequent increase they are herewith empowered and directed to declare a closed season not to exceed five years for any kind or for all kinds of game as the investigation may demonstrate is needy in that county or in those several counties not exceeding four in number and adjoining one another that through the separate action of its citizens has been in accord with the requirements of this act

The Board of Game Commissioners to make such closed season effective and binding shall be required to publish annually their decision and action regarding this matter in at least five newspapers if there be that many in each county affected thereby and to have notices of such ruling declaring such county closed to hunting printed upon cloth annually distributed in reasonable numbers throughout the affected territory

Each and every person violating the requirements of such ruling made by the Board of Game Commissions under the requirements of this act shall be liable to a penalty of two hundred dollars for each elk and one hundred dollars for each deer taken killed wounded or had in possession or attempted to be taken killed or wounded or had in possession upon said closed territory and twenty-five dollars for each game bird shot at taken killed wounded or had in possession or attempted to be taken killed or wounded or had in possession upon such closed territory

JOHN K. TENER.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, February 26th, 1913.

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. J. E. Wright, offered the following prayer.

Oh Thou who art the light of the eyes that see Thee, and the life of the souls that love Thee, and the strength of the hearts that trust Thee, we reverently come to Thee at the beginning of this new day. There is gratitude and thankfulness in our hearts. Thou hast refreshed us with sleep, and Thou hast blessed us with energy and strength for the work of this day. There is renewal of purpose in our hearts by Thy divine prompting, purpose of fidelity, and earnestness and true devotion to the service which shall engage us. There is expectation and hopefulness in our hearts for we are well assured that as Thou hast helped and blessed us hitherto so shall it be to-day. We need this help for we humbly confess before Thee our limitations and weaknesses. We are fallable men, prone of sin, liable to error, easily influenced for evil as for good; swayed even unconsciously by our feelings and impulses, our desires and passions. We need the restraining, the enlightening and quickening of Divine grace, and we earnestly ask these blessings in the name and for the sake of Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Wiltbank, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. O'NEILL offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

Resolved (if the Senate concurred), That when the House adjourns this week, it be to meet on Monday, March 10th, 1913, at 8.00 P. M.

The SPEAKER. The House will bear in mind that last week the House and Senate had concurred in a resolution by which when the House adjourns this week it will meet on next Wednesday evening. This resolution if carried and concurred in by the Senate will supersede the former resolution.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, what is the plan if we come back here Wednesday night? How long are we to stay on that plan?

The SPEAKER. That is a matter for the House.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that if we come back here next week on Wednesday night and use our ordinary practice and adjourn on Thursday, we might as well not come at all.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I have heard more than a dozen people say that if we had a session next week, they would be away, and why cannot we run over tomorrow and finish up all the work we have and stay at home the next week?

Mr. O'NEILL. Mr. Speaker, the Senate adjourns until the tenth. There are a great many men in this House that it takes probably a day or more to get home and I do not see why we should be in session. And again, our Democratic friends will come back here and they will be like champagne, so effervescent, that they will not want to get down to work.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, there is no more reason why we should not work the last half of the week than the first half and it would be no more hard work to do this than it is on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Therefore, I think that this resolution should not carry.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, out of respect for our Democratic friends—and you can go back four years, or eight years or twelve years—from time immemorial they have never objected to adjourning this House for one week. Now they only have an opportunity once in a great while to celebrate at Washington and I think we ought to give these gentlemen a week. If this was a Republican national administration coming in I am sure that our Democratic friends would be only too glad to give us one week, and I think we should accord them the same courtesy and if necessary stay until Saturday night and not come back for the following week.

Mr. ALLEN. At the beginning of the session every one is solicitious as to when the House will finally adjourn. It has been suggested, and for quite some time has appeared in the public press, that a recess be taken after such bills were through as had been gotten through before the House took that recess, giving the Governor an opportunity to sign these bills and not leaving a club in the hands of the Governor to hold over the members heads, and the House could then reconvene for the purpose of overriding such vetoes as it, in its wisdom, might see fit. I suggest that if we adjourn at the close of this week to the time stated in the resolution we have put back the time of final adjournment at least one week. We are at the time of the year when it is very comfortable to be in this room but if we have the same experience that we had two years ago before the close of this session we will be in this room when we will be sweltering. At the last session we adjourned on the twenty-fifth day of May, and I do not know that our pink bill book was any larger than it is now and a great mass of that legislation which has been promised to people of the Commonwealth is still tied up in committees. A resolution was adopted a few days ago with respect to our Democratic friends and such others as might desire to witness the ceremonies in Washington next week and giving them an opportunity to attend that function. That resolution provided that the adjournment be taken until Wednesday of next week. Now we convene, as a rule, on Monday and we are here on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday until noon; in otherwords, three full days. There are some people in this House whose means of getting home and getting here are very fair and reasonable and a few hours will take them home or bring them back. There are others who, unfortunately like myself, are so situated, a long ways from this place, and it is very inconvenient to come here and get back home at every call or demand of those who are in the immediate vicinity. Working as we have been, on an average of three full days per week, I suggest that if we convene on Wednesday night and should stay here on Friday and on Saturday we will have put in an entire week and we will be on the job next Monday to take up the work the following Monday. We will have advanced the work of the session more than one full week. I am heartily opposed to this matter of breaking in week after week when our calendar has been worked up to the point at which it now stands. And remember and mark you this, that so far as the other wing of this legislative body is concerned that very little of their so-called work has shown itself upon their calendar up to this time; and if you will take their files you will see that they look as though they are laboring under an accumulation of stuff,—of what character I know not, but that is in their hands for action. I do hope myself that we will look at this in a reasonable, in a fair and in a business like way and when we can do a week's work next week let us do it and stay here from Wednesday until the close of the week and meet at the usual time. I hope this resolution will go down to defeat.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the resolution.

It was not agreed to.

MOTION TO PLACE BILL ON CALENDAR.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 9, entitled:

An Act permitting the playing of baseball on Sunday between the hours of three and six P. M.

Which was negatived by the Committee on Law and Order, be placed upon the calendar, notwithstanding such recommendation.

Mr. McARDLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Upon the question,

Will the House agree to the adoption of the motion?

Mr. WILTBANK. The rich man has his golf and croquet or anything he wants to play at his country club, and in Germantown every lot or vacant lot there has a croquet grounds or lawn tennis where they can play on Sunday. There is no place in Pennsylvania for the poor man to enjoy himself legally on Sunday, and this is a poor man's bill. I ask you to put this bill on the calendar where we can then go on record as to whether or not we want it.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the adoption of the motion.

The yeas and nays required by Mr. WILTBANK and Mr. Mr. McARDLE.

The SPEAKER. This roll will be verified.

So the question was determined in the negative.

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. PIPER. My reason for voting "aye" is that I believe all bills should be placed on the calendar. I would vote against its passage.

Mr. McALEER. My reason for voting "aye" are for the reason that I propose to make an amendment by adding

Section 2. It shall be unlawful to collect money to take up tickets or to ask that season tickets be displayed or to see or offer for sale score cards, sandwiches or other eatables, or in any way to transact business on or about grounds where such baseball games are played under the provisions of this act.

BILL PLACED ON CALENDAR.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a motion at this time.

The SPEAKER. The motion will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the motion as follows:

Moved by Mr. Gans and that House Bill No. 810, entitled:

An Act for the better preservation of the records contained in the offices of the Recorder of Deeds of counties of this Commonwealth containing over one million and a half population, providing for the replacement and certification of worn or dilapidated records and the payment of the cost thereof out of county funds.

be placed on the Calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committees.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. Will the House agree to the adoption of the motion?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. This bill was negatived by the members of the Judiciary Special Committee. It is a bill that gives the Recorder of Deeds of Philadelphia County the right to have his mutilated records recopied. Under the present law, this is done by petition to the Common Pleas judges, and has been done in that manner for years. Before the committee yesterday, those of us who practice in the Philadelphia Bar, knew the operation of the present law, and returned this bill with a negative recommendation. We were under the impression that what was said by Mr. McNICHOL, the Chairman, that there was no particular interest in this bill, or that the sponsor had no particular interest in this bill. We have learned since that the judges themselves want this responsibility placed upon the legislature. Under these circumstances the committee has no objection to having the bill placed upon the Calendar.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the adoption of the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GANS and Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILLS RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

(House Bill No. 2.)

An Act making an appropriation to cover a deficiency in the appropriation act of June thirteen one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws page nine hundred) making an appropriation to pay local Registrars of Vital Statistics in Cities of the first and second class fifteen (15) cents for each birth and each death certificate duly returned by them to the State Registrar under the provisions of said act with information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Strike out the entire title and insert in lieu thereof the following:

An Act making an appropriation to cover a deficiency arising in carrying out the provisions of an act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An act amending the twentieth section of an act approved the first day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and five entitled "An act to provide for the immediate registration of all births and deaths throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by means of certificates of births and deaths returns to the Centaal Bureau of Vital Statistics at the Capitol of the State as required to be established by the State Board of Health and to insure the thorough organization and efficiency of the registration of vital statistics throughout the State as provided in section seven of an act entitled "An act to establish a State Board of Health for the better protection of life and health and to prevent the spread of contagious and infectious diseases in this Commonwealth" approved June third eighteen hundred and eighty-five and making an appropriation for establishing and maintaining such a bureau and providing certain penalties" as amended by an act approved the sixth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and seven entitled "An act to amend sections five nine fifteen nineteen twenty and twenty-five of an act entitled 'An act to provide for the immediate registration of all births and deaths throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by means of certificates of births and deaths and burial or removal permits requiring prompt returns to the Central Bureau of Vital Statistics at the capital of the State as required to be established by the State Board of Health and to insure the thorough organization and efficiency of the registration of vital statistics throughout the State as provided in section seven of 'An act to establish a State Board of Health for the better protection of life and health and to prevent the spread of contagious and infectious diseases in this Commonwealth" approved June third eighteen hundred and eighty-five and making an appropriation for estbalishing and maintaining such a bureau and providing certain penalties' which was aproved the first day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and five by extending the territory in which burial permits shall be valid providing for the issuance of burial permits without fees establishing a method for securing the given names of children making a uniform date for the returns of local registrars providing for certain fees in cities of the first and second class to be paid by the counties and abolishing all other systems of registration of birth and deaths" by changing the fees for birth and death certificates"

Also in section 1, strike out all after the word "deficiency" in line 5 down to and including the word "hundred" in line 7, and insert in line thereof the following:

Arising in carrying out the provisions of an act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An act amending the twentieth section of an act approved the first day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and five entitled 'An act to provide for the immediate registration of all other births and deaths throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by means of certificates of births and deaths and burial or removal permits requiring prompt returns to the Central Bureau of Vital Statistics at the Capito of the State as required to be established by the State Board of Health and to insure the thorough organization and efficiency of the registration of vital statistics throughout the State as provided in section seven of an act entitled 'An act to establish a State Board of Health for the better protection of life and health and to prevent the spread of contagious and infectious diseases in this Commonwealth' approved June third eighteen hundred and eighty-five and making an appropriation for establishing and maintaining such a bureau and providing certain penalties' as amended by an act approved the sixth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and seven entitled "An act to amend sections five nine fifteen nineteen twenty and twenty-five of an act entitled 'An act to provide for the immediate registration of all births and deaths throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by means of certificates of births and deaths and burial or removal permits requiring prompt returns to the Central Bureau of Vital Statistics at the Capitol of the State as required to be established by the State Board of Health and to insure the thorough organization and efficiency of the registration of vital statistics throughout the State as provided in section seven of 'An act to establish a State Board of Health for the better protection of life and health and to prevent the spread of contagious and infectious diseases in this Commonwealth' approved June third eighteen hundred and eighty-five and making an appropriation for establishing and maintaining such a bureau and providing certain penalties' which was approved the first day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and five by extending the territory in which burial permits shall be valid providing for the issuance of burial permits without fees establishing a method for securing the given names of children making a uniform date for the returns of local registrars providing for certain fees in cities of the first and second class to be paid by the counties and abolishing all other systems of registrations of births and deaths" by changing the fees for birth and death certificates' this appropriation being made

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments as made by the Senate?

Mr. COX: Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the amendments as made by the Senate do not change the purpose of this act, but were made merely to correct certain defects in the title and in the bill itself. As I am the sponsor of the bill in the House, I would ask the gentlemen of the House to concur in the amendments as made by the Senate.

The question recurring.

Will the House concur in the amendments as made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Rockwell.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, a few days ago, the House adopted the rule that no bill be negatived without the Committee giving the sponser of the bill previous notice. Before that time, the Judiciary General Committee had adopted a rule that whenever a bill was negatived, the gentleman representing or reporting the bill to the House should give the author notice if he wanted to be heard or desired to have the bill brought back to the Committee for a further hearing. Inadvertently, House Bill No. 766, entitled:

An Act providing for and regulating and taking of land by condemnation proceedings to enlarge certain cemeteries now or hereafter incorporated was given to a gentleman with a negative recommendation, who failed to notify the sponser of this bill and it was reported with a negative recommendation. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be re-committed to the Committee on Judiciary General for an additional hearing.

The SPEAKER. In order that the gentleman's motion shall be in order, the bill must first be on the calendar, unless there is no objection. Is there any objection to the bill being considered as on the calendar for the purpose of the consideration of this motion? The Chair hears no objection.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL RE-COMMITTED.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 674, entitled:

An Act to provide for certain improvements to that certain tract of land known as "Paoli Parade Ground" situate in Willistown township, Chester county, and making an appropriation therefor.

be re-committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

The motion was agreed to.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 14

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to present the report of the Conference Committee on concurrent resolution No. 14, at this time, that it may be printed.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideartion of House Bill No. 254, entitled:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments to this bill.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 6, line 1, strike out figure "6" and insert "5."
Section 7, line 1, strike out figure "7" and insert "6."
Section 8, line 1, strike out figure "8" and insert "7."
Section 9, line 1, strike out figure "9" and insert "8."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the amendments. The Chair hears no objections and the amendments will be inserted.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill be laid over and prepared for final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 531, entitled:

An Act fixing the time of organization of the commissioners of first class townships.

BILLS POSTPONED.

Mr. E. G. M. KUHNS. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 644, entitled:

An Act to provide for the better protection of the lives bodies and health of new-born children and parturient women throughout the Commonwealth by regulating the practice of midwifery as performed by midwives in the State of Pennsylvania and to provide that the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure of the State of Pennsylvania shall enforce the provisions of this act, making an appropriation therefor and providing certain penalties for the violations of the provisions thereof and repealing all acts and parts of acts incompatable herewith.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker,

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Humes.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponser of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Richards, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RICHARDS. Yes.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire whether there is any necessity for an appropriation of fifty thousand dollars, the amount specified in this bill? When a bill, covering the same institution passed in 1911 it was with an appropriation of five thousand dollars.

Mr. RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker,

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Richards.

Mr. RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I wish to state that I agreed last night with a member of the House to ask for the postponement of this bill now but not the gentleman who has just interrogated me, but another gentleman who is now in his seat. I agreed to ask for the postoponement of this bill for the present, in case he intended to make some objections to it, such as the gentleman who has just made objections. It is true there is an appropriation of fifty thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary for the proper enforcement of this bill. The reports however of the Board of Medical Lisensure must be thoroughly examined by the Auditor General and a report issued to the Auditor General for the payment of the necessary expenses. There are many good qualities in this bill that should be recognized, but there are a number of members in this House, especially those who are fortunate enough to understand the percentage of blindness from which precaution and remedy is required, and I believe that seventy per cent of children born are subject to danger from this source. The many cases of operations necessary are produced by the ignorant manipulations during that period by the woman who act as physician during that period.

If the only objection to my bill is the fifty thousand dollar appropriation and if it is the opinion of members that there should be an amendment to this measure, I would gladly accept an amendment by the gentleman, reducing it to any reasonable amount so that there will be sufficient money to propertly enforce it. This bill was passed two years ago and was signed by the Governor and was then enforced by the Medical Society, which afterwards was voted upon and expenses cared for. The bill must now be enforced by the medical board as bearing on medical education. I would gladly accept an amendment and hope that the merit and the goodness of the bill will not be taken out of it.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I am not offering any objection to any of the meritorious features of this bill but we have seen that at session after session of the Legislature, appropriations have been made for the most worthy charitable institutions of this State and for many other purposes which when they reached the Governor have been reduced because there was an insufficient amount of State revenue for the purposes for which the appropriation called. When an approriation is made such as is made by this bill, it is taken out of course from the total amount of the revenue to be raised during the period for which the appropriation is made, and the result is that there are other worthy institutions of the State which are deprived of some of the appropriations which they are entitled to, simply because an unnecessarily large appropriation was made for such a bill as this, for some other purpose. When, as the gentleman from Allegheny says, there is no real necessity for so large an appropriation as the provisions of this bill call for. As I understand it, there was no more expenditure involved under this bill than by the bill enacted two years ago, except that the expenditure is made up by a different board than it was at that time. I don't see any reason whatever, why the appropriation at this time should be larger than the appropriation at that time, unless the Committee has discovered that the appropriation was insufficient at that time. I don't desire to assume to fix the amount that his appropriation should carry with it. The Committee should determine that fact and I say that I am opposed and I believe we all should be opposed to any bill that carries with it an oppropriation that is greatly in excess of the amount that will be required to carry into effect the provisions of the bill, in order to carry the other institutions that otherwise are going to suffer in securing appropriations. I will ask the gentleman to amend his bill in order that he should have the amount of money necessary to carry on the character of the work as specified in the bill and in that way save the balance for the use of other purposes for which money will be required during the next two years. If five thousand dollars is sufficient, let us amend it and make it that amount.

Mr. RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker, I don't know that this will require fifty thousand dollars for the proper enforcement of this bill. I don't know that I have taken it into consideration, as I have not taken the monetary end into consideration. I was only thinking, at the time the bill was handed to me, of the good that is done in accomplishing a great many things for the good of the people, who are inmates and in a great many cases of blindness that it might prevent a deformity and many other things that happen at an institution of this kind where a mid-wife is acting as physician. The Medical Societies however, who are very much in favor of its organization are very much in favor of this department. It would practically mean the re-organization of the department and will perhaps cause more expenses than will require more than that in two years hence, but they cannot spend any more than in the opinion of the Auditor General is necessary, the amount he regards as necessary for the maintenance of the work. As regards the amount of money necessary for the maintenance of other charitable institutions I believe, Mr. Speaker, if this bill does become a law and is properly enforced that there will be a great many less people in our charitable institutions than there are now due to this bill. In other words, Mr. Speaker, I believe if this bill is properly enforced that many of our unfortunate poor children who are now in some blind institution would not have been there had there been proper medical attention given to the mothers of those children at the proper time.

There are many other instances, Mr. Speaker, of the unfortunate condition of many of our poor children that can be traced directly to the ignorance of the people attending the mother during that period. I do hope, Mr. Speaker, that the members of this House will vote for this bill on my promise that I will, if it passes this House, use my best efforts to have it amended in the committee of the Senate after consulting those that are most interesed in the financial end of the bill. I do not care so much for that, but I do think that there is too much good in this bill for the members of this House to vote it down when nothing but dollars and cents stand between us and our good judgment, and I promise the members of this House that I will try to have the committee of the Senate, after consulting the physicians of the State if in their judgment ten thousand, or even five thousand is sufficient, I will use my best efforts to have that amendment placed in the bill at that time.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Section eight, line 1, by striking out the word "fifty" and inserting the word "ten" in lieu thereof.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendment as read? The Chair hears objection.

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I move that further action on this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, at the last session of 1911, there was appropriated five thousand dollars for this department. It was then entitled the examining board, but has been altered and is now known as the Medical License Board. This committee has never had an opportunity to treat the question of licensing midwives. It may possibly cost this State five, eight, ten, twenty or twenty-five thousand dollars, possibly more and possibly less. I belive it is only, in all due fairness to the member who introduced this bill and to the medical profession at large, as well as to the people of this great Commonwealth, for the protection of their offspring, and that is my belief, and that you will heartily agree that that is correct. The statistics have proven that seventy per cent. of blindness at child birth is due to improper manipulation of the woman at the period of child labor, and improper care of the child after delivery. There are many instances; and there are good mid-wives who do their business honestly, uprightly, and with all antiseptic precautions. While a few do it under that method there are very, very many who are lax in the performance of their duties according to the antiseptics of obstretrics and hygienic methods in vogue at the birth of the child. Now, I believe, gentlemen of the House, that you should give this bill a chance. This is not a bill to hamper midwives, or a bill to make doctors wealthy. It is only a bill for the protection of your own and my own, if I were married. Therefore, gentlemen, I appeal to your reasonable judgment to give this the benefit of the doubt, and I am sure that the people of this State will alow that amount of money to be appropriated for the purpose involved; and I ask the gentlemen to kindly vote favorably for this bill.

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House, the gentleman who preceded me has referred to the fact, as he alleged, that this bill is not for the purpose of making dollars and cents. I think as far as I am concerned, and I think the members of the House who have examined this bill will come to the conclusion that the doctors and druggists, or other people who got up this bill were looking after the dollars and cents and not after the birth of children.

Section five of the bill says that the secretary of the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure of the State of Pennsylvania shall receive an annual salary not to exceed three hundred dollars for his services in carrying out the provisions of this act.

It also says that "the service of other necessary aids in carrying out the provisions of this act shall receive compensation not to exceed ten dollars per diem and necessary traveling expenses." That is one of the little snakes of about a dozen in this bill.

Now take up Section 7, Mr. Speaker, and read that. It says: "any person other than a regularly licensed physician who shall attend a woman in child birth for hire or who shall make a practice of attending women in child birth gratuitously or for hire shall be regarded as a mid-wive." It is not necessary for people to expatiate upon what that means. You all understand what that means.

Now then, gentlemen, referring to the last section, be it fifty thousand dollars or five thousand dollars, what is to be done with this money? Who is to get the fifty thousand dollars? Where are the officers named in the bill to get it? There is no officer here to get it. You are not going to give it to the chairman or the members of the committee on Public Health and Sanitation to divide—

Mr. RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker, I object to that language.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's remarks are clearly not in order.

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I beg the Speaker's pardon and also that of the members of the House.

I want to say to the gentlemen of this House that I believe that there is no necessity whatever for this bill. It is a bill to give somebody some money. It cannot help be otherwise. The bureau spoken of in this bill received fifteen thousand dollars in the bill passed in 1911, and now they want fifty thousand dollars. It is not necessary to speak about what they will do with the money. There are children being born every day and every week in the year now, but what they are after is money to go around the State. Any member who votes for this bill and so gets the amount of money to be appropriated for the hospital or institution in his county cut down had better go to Chicago or St. Louis and not dare come back home.

Mr. RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentlemen I will say I am not a physician and the good Lord knows I don't expect to be a midwife, so I cannot participate in this fund. However, Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimons consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 8, line one, by striking out the word "fifty" and inserting the word "fifteen" in lieu thereof.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendment as read? Is there any objection? It appears there is none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker it does seem to me that carrying an appropriation like this as it does, that this bill should be referred to the Committee on Appropriations. I therefore move you that it be now referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. MELLOTT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion.

It was not agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of person privilege.

Mr. STEIN. I desire, Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House, under the provisions rule 39, to introduce the Honorable William A. Magee, Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh, and a member of the Senate session of 1901 and 1903, upon the floor of this House.

The SPEAKER. Any person who is an ex-member of either branch of this Assembly is entitled to be admitted to the floor of the House on the introduction of any member. This rule, however, is subject to this modification: That no person except a member of the present House or the present Senate is entitled to sit in the seats allotted to the members or to talk to members in their seats during the transaction of business. The gentleman will be admitted to the floor of the House subject to this condition.

Mr. STEIN. I thank the Chair for its ruling.

RECESS.

I move you Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, under the question of personal privilege, that the Honorable William A. Magee, who is now before the House, by reason of the Speaker's kind permission, be permitted to address the House, and for that purpose I move you a recess of fifteen minutes be now declared.

Mr. GEARY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will be glad to present the gentleman. The recess is now declared.

AFTER RECESS.

The SPEAKER. The time of recess having elapsed the House will be in order.

The next bill on the Calendar is No. 624 and the next one 619, both of which have not yet been received from the printer.

The next bill on the files is No. 679.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 679, entitled:

An Act to provide for the appointment of registrars of electors to be deputy poll tax collectors in cities of the first class of this Commonwealth a method of collecting such taxes penalties for violation for its provisions and to repeal acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, at the request of the sponsor of this bill, I move that the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The next bills in order on the Calendar, Nos. 209, 540 and 162, have not yet been received from the printer. Bill No. 293 is the next bill on the Calendar that is on the files and will now be taken up.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 293, entitled:

An Act to regulate the fees and salaries of the tipstaves and court criers in judicial districts containing more than one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants and less than two hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants and to provide for the payment of the same

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?
